TCHITCHERIN'S TRUE COLOR SEEN IN D'ANNUNZIO TEST

[Copyright, 1927, by Chicago Tribune]

PARIS, Oct. 30. (Exclusive)—The departure from France of Christian Rakowski, Soviet Ambassador, has permitted the making public of the details of a sinister hoax perpetrated by Gabriele D'Annunzio, noted Italian poet, on Georges Tchitcherin, the Russian Foreign Minister at Genoa, during the economic conference of 1922.

The poet went to Genoa during the conference and lived in an enormous palace placed at his disposal by a friend. D'Annunzio took with him his retinue of Nubian blacks as servants, and lived in his usual regal style.

Shortly before the conference broke up D'Annunzio sent an invitation to Tchitcherin to dine with him. Flattered at the honor, Tchitcherin accepted. He was ushered into the palace by the gigantic negro footmen and butlers, relieved of his coat and hat and then led into the dining-room, where he was surprised to note that covers were laid for two.

In a moment the slender, bald-headed poet appeared and excused himself for the intimacy of the dinner, explaining: "It is because I wish to talk to you alone and to enjoy your company by myself, Excellency."

The Bolshevik delegate was amazed at D'Annunzio's compliments and listened enthralled to the poet's vivid conversation on music, art and politics throughout the elaborate meal.

SURPRISE FOR RUSSIAN

Finally came desert, an ice moulded in the form of the Kremlin at Moscow and after that liquors, rare old wines, champagnes and cigars. Then D'Annunzio pressed a button, a silvery bell tinkled and two of his Nubians, arrayed in barbaric tribal regalia, entered the room, bearing between them an enormous silver salver on which reposed a beautiful engraved and bejeweled sword.

Tchitcherin's eyes bulged as he noted the keen Damascus blade and he turned inquiringly to his host as the blacks laid the rapier on the table.

"What is that beautiful piece, some chef d'oeuvre of the Italian art?" inquired Tchitcherin.

"That, dear fellow, is the weapon with which I am going to kill you," replied D'Annunzio, selecting a cigar and lighting it from the waxen taper which his native servant held.

"Have one of these, they are of the finest tobacco, made especially for my guests," he continued, waving the negro to hold the light for Tchitcherin.

PURPOSE EXPLAINED

"No, seriously, I am not joking. I invited you here to dine with me and then to slay you," replied D'Annunzio. "You know my attitude toward the government you represent and the regime you epitomize, and I believe it to be my duty to embrace this opportunity to rid the world of such a monster as you. But pray be calm, I shall give you time to write any messages of instructions you may have for your legation and your government and your family."

He rang the silver bell again and his Nubian servants brought in paper, envelopes, pens, ink and scented sealing wax.

Tchitcherin by that time really was [illegible] but sought to reassure himself [illegible] was joking.

PRESIDENT WOUNDED

Grecian Leader Hit in Head

Youth Fires Two Shots, One Breaking Windshield and Then Striking Him

Crowd Attempts Lynching of Would-be Assassin, But Police Rescue Him

ATHENS, Oct. 30. (AP)—The President of Greece, Admiral Paul Kondouriotis, was severely wounded today by a 25-year-old waiter who attempted to assassinate him. The President was entering his automobile in front of the Municipal Building where he had formally opened the Congress of Greek Mayors. Two shots were fired. One of the bullets struck him in the head, having first passed through the windshield of the car which was shattered in the President's face. Crowds rushed at the assailant, Zafiolos Goussios, and attempted to lynch him, but he was saved by police who hurried him off to jail.

ABLE TO GO HOME

President Kondouriotis was removed to a hospital. His condition is more serious than at first thought. A bulletin issued by the surgeons soon after the President's injuries had been attended to, said:

"The President was wounded in the right temple, the bone being splintered. The President bore a slight operation very well; his condition is satisfactory and he was able to return home."

Ministers of state, diplomatic representatives and high officials hastened to the hospital to express their sympathy. Some were permitted to speak with him; the others signed the visitors' book.

LONG OUT OF WORK

Goussios is a waiter born at Larissa. He came to Athens a fortnight ago for treatment of an aural affection. He also suffers from an impediment of the speech, dating from his birth. This gave rise after his arrest to the impression he was a deaf mute.

The police assert his luggage contained Communist literature. They say he made a confession declaring that he had been long unemployed and as the state had given him no support he wanted to avenge himself by killing the head of the state.

Service Period of Dirigible Set at Five Years

FREIDRICHSHAVEN (Germany) Oct. 30 (AP)—The duration of a Zeppelin under suitable service treatment is at least five years, it was said in a statement by experts today, in contradiction to reports from the United States that the Los Angeles is ready to be scrapped and that the life of airships is not more than three years.

It is questionable, the experts argue, whether the Los Angeles "received suitable treatment" as for example the airship's external covering and gas cells which never were intended for service longer than two or three years. They should have been renewed long since. These parts, say the experts, can be renewed at little cost.

The airship Bodensee with only 20,000 cubic meters capacity, it was pointed out, was put into commission in 1910 and without interruption has been doing service in Italy as the naval airship Esperia, while other airships launched in 1912 were taken from commission after four years only because their technical equipments were partly obsolete.

FIND TOMB OF GENGHIS

Khan's Body Lies in Gobi Wilds

Imagination Outdone in Tale of Conqueror's Shrine in Mongolian Desert

LONDON, Oct. 30. (AP)—The Russian explorer, Prof. Peter Kozloff, says the Sunday Express, has solved darkest Asia's greatest archeological mystery by the discovery of the tomb of Genghis Khan (Jenghiz Khan,) Mongolian conqueror, 700 years after his death, near the ruins of the dead city of Kharakhoto, in the Gobi Desert.

Prof. Kozloff has devoted twenty years to the search. He found the Great Khan's remains in a silver coffin resting on the crowns of seventy-eight princes and khans whom he had conquered.

The secret wonders of the conqueror's tomb, says the Express, vie with those of Tut-Ankh-Amen. Seven silent lamas guard the secret place and every seven hours one of them strikes seven times on a huge jade bell hanging above the sarcophagus.

For seven centuries the priests have preserved the mystery. Jewel-studded weapons of Genghis Khan and his own story of his reign; life-size lion, tiger and horse statues in pink jade and a copy of the Bible written by an English monk also were in the tomb.

Prof. Kozloff also visited the tomb of Genghis's favorite wife, the inscription on whose white marble coffin sets forth that "The Great Khan released her by placing his dagger in her breast."

The tomb lies beyond the labyrinth of passages cut into the mountainside. It is a spacious hall about forty feet square, the whole carefully preserved. Once every year certain privileged Mongols and the Khan's descendants repair thither to make sacrifice to his memory.

Once a year, Prof. Kozloff was assured, on the anniversary of the Khan's death, his ghost arises and blows out the lamps, leads the chief of the guardian lamas to the huge black slab at the rear of the shrine and writes with the accompanying priest's hand prophecies for the coming year.

THOMPSON'S DRIVE HELD UNAMERICAN

Poet Says Chicago Mayor Harming Education and Statesmanship

SPOKANE, Oct. 30. (AP)—Mayor Thompson of Chicago is trampling on the "Americanism" he effects to uphold, and is harming the causes of education and statesmanship by trying to remove "pro-British" books from the public library, Vachel Lindsay, author told the Associated Press today. The Mayor's attempted censorship of English volumes in itself is un-American, Lindsey believes.

"William Hale Thompson does not talk 'United States' . . he talks the gutter jargon of the sterrage passenger, hating all countries, the United States as well as England," said Lindsey, referring to Thompson's recent charges that certain British books are propaganda. "To bait and insult our Anglo-Saxon friends is neither statesmanship nor education."

Lindsey, who has traveled extensively in England and Canada, continued: "The literary friendship of those who speak United States and those who speak Canadian, which is the nearest British language with which we have to deal, is profound and secure. We have an unguarded Caladian border . . . and to hurl literary insults across that line is just bad international manner."

The American poet maintains that "United States" is a language distinct from any other.

"Books in the United States language," he avowed, "are read more appreciatively by citizens of Great Britian than by citizens of the United States. In like manner people who talk United States, write it and think it, find a great exhilaration, not a matter for offense, in the very British style of the most ultra British writers."

RAIN FALLS ALL DAY IN BAY REGION

Sunday Precipitation for North Approaches Inch; Air Mails Delayed

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 30. (Exclusive)—San Francisco and the Bay region received its first real rain of the season today. The rain started falling about 8 o'clock in the morning and continued without a letup all day. Late this evening the total rainfall was registered at .64 of an inch, bringing the total for the season to approximately two inches.

The rain was general along the Coast from Eureka south to Port San Luis and extended inland to the Sierras. Red Bluff on the north and Fresno on the south reported steady downpour all day. Snow was falling at the Summit.

The storm that hovered over the Coast Saturday and today caused aerial disturbances sufficient to interfere considerably with the air-mail service. Pilot C. K. Vance, who left here this morning for Reno, found the flying so bad that he descended at Cool, six miles south of Auburn, and the mail was forwarded to Reno by train. No attempt was made to fly from Reno here with mail. The coastwise mail was similarly affected.

The mail for Seattle left on time and was reported safe at Medford, Or., at 1 o'clock this afternoon. The southbound mail arrived from Seattle at 2 o'clock but Pilot Archie Starbuck reported such conditions in the air that the Los Angeles mail was sent on by train

Boat Damaged by 'Hit and Fly' Airman's Plane

BOSTON, Oct. 30. (AP)—A "hit-and-fly" aviator today swooped down over the harbor police boat Guardian at quarantine, carried away the vessel's mast and zoomed away before his plane could be identified. Scores of passengers on the decks of the liner Celtic, just in from Liverpool and Queenstown, witnessed the thrilling spectacle.

The plane circled about the steamship from a height of about 1000 feet and then suddenly dived toward the water. As it struck the mast of the police boat it wobbled and seemed about to crash, but recovered, rose quickly and continued its flight

Will Rogers Remarks:

SAN SIMEON (Cal.) Oct. 30.—[To the Editor of the Times:] The fellows that keep saying big ranches are all done away with ought to see this one, 300,000 acres. If this was back east, they would call it Delaware, Maryland, Connecticut and Rhode Island, and eight Senators and twenty-five Congressmen would have to live off it.

Out here that much beautiful land don't have to support a thing but wonderful cattle and horses. You can just tell the difference when you look at land that has to support a Senator or a white-faced bull.

Yours for more cattle and less Congressmen.

BOMBERS ORDERED FOR ARMY

Contracts for Planes to Carry 2000 Pounds Each and Machine Guns Let

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30. (AP)—Contracts for twenty-five bombing planes designed to carry 2000 pounds of bombs and five machine guns have been awarded to the Keystone Aircraft Company of Bristol, Pa., the War Department announced today. The new planes are to be the first produced under plans for re-equipment of the bombardment units of the Army Air Corps and their design resulted from extensive tests of the type, which is designated the L.B. 5-A.

The planes will have a six-hour cruising radius at an average speed of about 100 miles an hour. Two machine guns will be mounted in the forward cockpit, two in the rear cockpit and one tunnel gun, designed to shoot through the floor. The power is furnished by two Liberty motors, while the fuselage will provide room for a pilot, mechanic, machine-gunner and a bombardier.

The new planes will be sent to Langley Field, Va., and planes now in use there will be sent to Kelly Field, Tex., for use of student flyers.

NEW BISHOP JAPAN'S FIRST

Imposing Ceremony Crowds St. Peter's When Pope Confers Miter on Oriental Priest

ROME, Oct. 30. (AP)—Rt. Rev. Gennaro Hayasaka, the first Japanese in the history of the Roman Catholic Church to be made a bishop, this afternoon received from Pope Pius the miter, crozier, ring and gloves emblematic of his office in an imposing consecration ceremony at St. Peter's. The world's largest church was filled to overflowing by representatives of all nations.

The congregation was moved by the youthful appearance of the oriental prelate, his pleasant smile and eager joy on assuming his high ecclesiastical office and the winsomness and gentleness with which he imparted his first Episcopal benediction to the throng of 40,000.

WITH SACRED POMP

The church authorities left nothing undone in the way of adding to the grandeur of the significant ceremony, which crowns the missionary work begun in Nippon by that famous Jesuit St. Francis Xavier in 1540.

The noted Sistine Choir sang the hymns accompanying the service, notable among them being the 132nd Psalm with the significant "Behold how lovely and just it is for brothers to dwell together in union." This was exemplified by Pope Pius and the most recent member of the episcopate, though of different races, saying the same mass together and partaking of the same host and chalice in communion.

OVATION FOR PRELATE

The crowd of the faithful extended to Pope Pius a characteristic stirring hand-clapping ovation as he entered the Basilica, borne aloft on 'Sedia Gestatoria,' surrounded by Swiss guards in full uniform and armor. The applause was punctuated by frequent shouts of "Long live the Pope."

At the close of the ceremony Pope Pius imparted the apostolic benediction to all present from the great altar over St. Peter's tombs.

In his brief address the Pope remarked on the happy omen that the installation of Bishop Hayasaka should follow the consecration of six native chinese bishops in 1926. He rejoiced with all Catholic missionaries over work accomplished, recalled the Japanese martyrs, and was particularly gratified that today's consecration coincided with the celebration of the fete of Christ the King and the closing of the centenary in honor of St. Francis of Assisi. He promised the new bishop that his most fervent prayers would be continued for the success of his labors in his diocese of Nagasaki.

MANY DIE IN IRISH GALE

Boats Battered on Rocks

Thirty-eight Men Missing and Fifteen Known Dead in Wake of Storm

Much Damage Done Inland Also, With River Shannon Flooding Lowlands

BELFAST (Ireland) Oct. 30. (AP)—Thirty-eight fishermen are missing and fifteen are known to have been drowned from small boats during Friday's gale says a message from Cleggan, in the northeaest corner of Connemara. Most of the missing men were natives of Inishbofin, which is about nine miles off Cleggan. Five bodies have been washed ashore.

The gale swept the west coast and its full force was felt in Tipperary, where numerous roofs were stripped from houses and roads blocked by fallen trees.

The worst disaster occurred to fishing boats in Lackan Bay. Several boats put to sea when the evening was fine and starry. They had made an excellent catch when the storm broke. Two boats were dashed on the rocks and the entire crews drowned.

Only two boats which cut their nets reached safety. The storm raged for hours. It is feared the death toll greatly will exceed the fifteen already recorded.

A hurricane swept over Waterford, doing extensive damage to houses and roads. Half of the grandstand on the Tramore race course was blown away. Many electric cables were broken.

At Limerick the tide rose six feet above normal. One bank of the River Shannon burst, flooding the low-lying areas, demolishing walls and wrecking some houses.

ANCIENT ERA UNVEILED

Long-head Indian Village Found

Race Distinct From Pueblos Lived in New Mexico in Vanished Centuries

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30 (AP)—A race of "long-headed" Indians who vanished perhaps 2000 years before Columbus sailed from Spain, laid the foundation for the rich Pueblo culture of the Southwest, it was revealed today by a Smithsonian archeological expedition which has returned from New Mexico. The first complete village of the race was discovered by the expedition in Chaco Canyon.

Seventeen houses, sunk several feet in the earth and lined with slabs, are in the village, together with forty-five cellars for storage of corn and a kiva or ceremonial temple.

The inhabitants of the village were a race distinct from the Pueblos, said Frank H. H. Roberts of the Bureau of American Ethnology, who headed the expedition. Skeletons of the inhabitants were found to be underformed and long headed, while the Pueblos were round headed and accustomed to deform the heads of their children.

The Pueblo architecture is believed by scientists to be an improvement on the slab house type of the earlier race. Chaco Canyon is only nine miles from Pueblo Bonito, the largest and one of the finest examples of Pueblo buildings.

While the long-headed Indians, if they may properly be called Indians, Roberts said, probably were not numerous, they were scattered over a territory from Northeastern Arizona to the Colorado-Utah border, where examples of their architecture also have been found. They apparently either were driven away and killed by the barbaric round heads, or were absorbed by the invaders.

Auto and Occupants Suffer in Collision, But Bovine Just Saunters Along

REDDING, Oct. 30. (AP)—An automobile in which Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stone were riding on the highway north of Redding yesterday struck a "bell" cow near the Pit River bridge. The windshield was smashed and both occupants of the car were cut, but the cow was uninjured.

Later the same cow was in collision with another machine, but escaped unhurt and last was seen moving south. Officers were endeavoring to determine the identity of the troublesome cow and its owner.

OKLAHOMA EXECUTIVE CRITICISED

Adminstrative Misconduct Charged as Grounds for Special Session

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 30. (AP)—Grounds upon which a movement for a special investigating session of the Oklahoma Legislature is predicted were outlined tonight by two members of the Legislature whose names have been identified prominently with efforts to convene.

The statements were issued by H. T. Kight of Claremont and E. P. Hill of McAlester. Both outlined specific allegations of misconduct by the State administration and pointed out that the Legislature properly is the body to investigate and report to the State on the truth or falsity of such charges.

Kight said that a petition asking Gov. Johnston to call the session will be presented to him within the week.

Both Kight and Hill disclaimed responsibility for the charges contained in their statements.

Although unnamed, Mrs. O. O. Hammonds, confidential secretary to Gov. Johnston, figures in Kight's statement, a resolution asking the Governor to discharge Mrs. Hammonds, whose husband is a State Health Commissioner, was voted down in the State Senate last winter after fiery debate.

The statement said that the position of confidential secretary was "never contemplated by the Legislature in any appropriation made."

"You should know," Kight's statement said, "that it is common talk throughout the State that she is governor in fact, and that while the naked legal title of Governor is vested in you, she holds the office and by an unexplainable control, performs its duties and exercises its powers."

PARIS TO SIGN SLAV TREATY

Pact Will Be in Force by November 15

Mutual Friendship and Defense Pledged

[Copyright, 1927, by New York Times Company]

PARIS, Oct. 30. (Exclusive)—An interesting development in European relations was heralded by notification sent by the Quai D'Orsay to other foreign offices of Europe that France will sign, with Jugo-Slavia before November 15, a treaty of friendship and mutual defense. France completes the system of mutual defense treaties originated seven years ago by the Nationalist movement and pretty consistently followed since then. This system of treaties the French consider her best guarantee of protection. They consider the strength it gives them worth the risks it entails.

With the signing of the new treaty the French bloc in Europe will include France and Belgium on one side of the continent and Jugo-Slavia, Rumania, Czecho-Slovakia and Poland on the other. It will be observed that the Germanic bloc lies between the two pincers.

NOT ALLIANCES

It is not desired by Paris that these treaties be called alliances, although the treaties with Belgium and Poland would fall in that category. It is contended that these pacts fall within the provisions of the covenant of the League of Nations and they are all registered at Geneva. It is not contested by France that her satellites agree that in the event of either party to any of the treaties being a victim of an aggressive war the other party will give military aid. In the arrangement with Rumania the case of a Russian war to regain Bessarabia is barred as an occasion calling for French intervention.

While England has from time to time been accused by the French of working against cementing the French bloc in Europe, certainly since Austen Chamberlain has been Foreign Secretary London has tended to accept the French group as a fait accompli. Generally speaking Austin Chamberlain and the French foreign ministers notably Briand, have worked hand in hand and with a minimum of friction. Following Chamberlain's trip to Italy last year there were many reports of his having made a secret agreement with Mussolini of a nature to encourage the Italian dictator in his Adriatic policy.

PROVED FALSE ALARM

That turned out to be a false alarm. Following his recent meeting with Primo De Rivera there was a new report that England had made a secret agreement with Primo De Rivera especially regarding Italian claims in Tangier. To set this at rest Chamberlain has sent Briand a copy of the minutes of his conversation with Primo which reveals the convention could not by any means be construed as British encouragement of Spanish claims for virtual control of Tangier. Quite the contrary.

One glance at the map of Europe shows the signature of the treaty by Belgrade and Paris will give France a zone of influence stretching from the Baltic to the Adriatic. Considering the small chance of fertile cooperation between Italy and Greece this means shutting Rome off from the Balkans even taking into consideration the Italian hold in Albania. For after Mussolini has got to Tirana he has not gone far. The Italians have worked for the past year to prevent the signature of the treaty between Belgrade and Paris. One hears it frequently said that Mussolini offered the Serbs half of Albania not to sign with the French or at least not before they had signed a treaty of amity with Rome. For one moment the Serbs apparently lent an attentive ear to Rome, but not long.

WIFE KILLS MATE OVER DINNER SNUB

Latest Chicago Tragedy Has Policeman as Victim; Woman Held for Slaying

CHICAGO, Oct. 30. (Exclusive)—Any woman who has fretted over preparing a big dinner only to have it go unappreciated, will sympathise with Mrs. Rose Emerlick, 32 years of age, who tonight shot and killed her husband, Paul, a city policeman.

An undramatic figure, she calmly told of incidents leading up to the killing and her chief emotion seemed to be over her two canaries.

The Emerlicks were married two years ago. They had no children and their married life was enlivened frequently by drinking parties. Today they had been drinking with Edward Huer, a pal of the policeman. The husband told his wife to prepare one of her famous dinners while they went out for more booze.

"I worked hard preparing the dinner," she said. "Paul and Eddie came back about 1 o'clock, when everything was getting cold. They had no appetites, as they had eaten in some joint, and they sniffed at the lovely dinner I had toiled to prepare for them.

"The more I thought of the insult to me and my dinner, the madder I got. I went in the bedroom and had a good cry. Then I took one of Paul's revolvers and went into the kitchen, where he was standing and shot him. Eddie ran out as Paul fell, saying he would get a doctor. But he didn't come back."

When the police arrived they found Mrs. Emerlick calmly rocking in a chair and chirping at her pet canaries.

SPY SECRETS REVEALED

(Copyright, 1927, by the New York World)

PARIS, Oct. 30. (Exclusive)—For the first time since the close of the war the French government is permitting the publication of some details on the espionage and counter-esponage systems employed by the various belligerent nations during the great struggle. Until recently M. Paul Painleve refused all investigators and curiosity seekers access to the documents relating to that silent and often terrific battle of wits that went on behind the scenes and of which the Paris public was reminded only some days at dawn when the sharp crackle of rifle shots resounded in the vicinity of the dungeon of Vincennes.

Publication or at least part publication of some cases of espionage was allowed when the Germans published an eulogistic account of the acts of Louise De Bettigny, an aristocratic French woman who finally was captured like Nurse Cavell. Some Frenchmen protested with the Minister of War that the first revelations of Mme. De Bettigny's patriotic work should have to come from former enemy sources.

SERVICES UNEQUALLED

Capt. Felix Bauman, an officer in the German intelligence service during the war, stated some weeks ago that "the German spy system and its history during the war had nothing to offer to compare with the organizing talent, the subtle craft, the courage, sangfroid and the results obtained by Mme. De Bettigny." He called her "the master spy" of the great war and bases his opinion on his acquaintance with her actions as he has been appointed to bring her work to an end and to capture her.

The French War Ministry admitted that "the services of Alice Dubois (Mme. De Bettigny's assumed name) were unequalled and unexcelled during the war in service both to the French general purpose and to the British staff.

In the execution of her task this woman utilized every possible means. She transmitted intelligence to the Allied armies by medium of invisible and sympathetic ink, by the judicious placing of postage stamps on letters, through carillon playing, by means of dogs, carrier pigeons, books of proverbs and balloons.

She never used the same trick twice and therefore was the harder to catch. More than twenty-two times she was able, being a resident in occupied territory, to supply the French and British with an exact description of the strength and placement of German artillery, information that resulted eighteen times in a total annihilation of that artillery.

GAVE ACCURATE DETAILS

On a tiny sheet of paper of the thinnest Chinese manufacture she managed to write 3000 words about the position, strength, equipment and morale of German troops. The Germans now admit that her information was in many respects far more reliable than reports to their own general headquarters.

This sheet of paper was rolled and placed in the rim of a pair of glasses. The wearer, a young Belgian, managed to escape across the Dutch border. Once in Holland the message was deciphered and at once telegraphed to London, from where it was relayed to the French front.

More than a dozen times she went through the barricade at the Dutch frontier herself, escaping the thousands of sentinels and also the 14,000-volt electric current that the Germans had strung along the Holland frontier. She made the adventurous journey one night in company with 160 Belgians who wanted to escape from occupied territory and reach the Belgian army via Holland. Every one of her companions of that night was electrocuted.

Mme. De Bettigny crossed the deadly current by climbing to the roof of a stable near which the wires ran and jumping across the electric fence. Later she had a dog so trained that the animal performed the identical stunt his mistress had performed in jumping over the fence. The dog carried information for the Allies in a tooth cavity, hollowed out for the purpose by a Belgian veterinary surgeon.

ESCAPE IN HAY LOAD

One of the stunts that was pulled off under the noses of the watchful German guards at the frontier and inspired by Mme. De Bettigny was the escape of seven Belgian cavalry officers who had been taken prisoners. At sunset a cartload of hay, coming from the Belgian side, arrived at the frontier and was duly stopped by the guards. A second cart followed at a distance. The Dutch driver gave his name, destination and papers to the men on guard and saw the Germans drive extremely sharp lances through the hay in all directions.

When everything was found in order the guard invited the driver into the frontier post to sign the clearing papers. In the meantime the second cart drove up, but things had been timed to such minute coincidence that the second driver entered the frontier post at the moment when the first driver emerged. The first then took the second cart and passed the frontier. In this one the seven hussars were cached.

From the moment that she entered into the service till the hour of her death, she had personally conducted the escape of 1900 Belgians and had the whole spy system of Belgium under her control. In her service were priests and country yokels, mayors of towns, washerwomen, bell ringers, plowboys.

By giving directions to a plowman in the vicinity of Ypres to run his furrows first this way then that way, she managed to convey accurate information about the concentration of troops to French airplanes hovering overhead. One of the fellows in her employ was Jules Van Toere, the one-legged peasant of St. Julien, who had a radio set concealed in the stump of his wooden leg. He was in the habit of visiting the German trenches, ostensibly to play a hand organ.

She was arrested finally in Tournai, a moment after she had passed a passport examination in company with another woman. The two girls were overheard to remark upon their luck when they had not gone far and were brought back for re-examination.

Twenty-six false passports were found on De Bettigny. During the inquest she lost her nerve and started to cry, carelessly naming some people who could go bond for her. These people had previously been arrested and had named Louise De Bettigny as the chief of the anti-German spy system. Gov.-Gen. Von Bissing commuted the death sentence to twenty-seven years hard labor. But Mme. De Bettigny died before peace was signed at Cologne after an operation.

When the British occupied that city they exhumed the body and conveyed it with full military honors to the station, whence it was shipped to Lille, her birthplace.

"More terrible things are happening in your country, perpetrated by your henchmen every day," D'Annunzio replied. "Is not this a beautiful piece?" and he fingered, ever so lightly the razor-like blade and the sharp point of the sword.

"It is a weapon from the Medici family. It has been thrust into the breast of kings and queens and emperors and princes. It is indeed an honor to die by such a blade," and he looked almost regretful as though perhaps a revolver might be more fitting to put an end to his guest.

SHRIEKS FOR HELP

Utterly unnerved Tchitcherin lost his control and rising from his place shrieked in Italian and French as well as Russian for help.

D'Annunzio smiled bitterly as two of his powerful black servants gently but firmly took Tchitcherin's wrists and seated him again in his chair, immediately withdrawing.

"There is no need to cry for aid, none will be forthcoming. These are my servants and they will die for me; my word is law and they will not interfere," said D'Annunzio as he again reached for the rapier.

Moaning and blubbering for mercy, his face ashen white, his hands trembling with the fear which unnerved him, Tchitcherin groveled in his seat pleading for his life.

D'Annunzio pressed the little bell again. Two servants walked in and stood, one one each side of Tchitcherin's chair.

"No, I shall not kill you, I could not demean myself by touching you. But I tried this experiment to see if the man who had sent so many thousands of his countrymen to death could go to his own death bravely. You cannot. Get out," snapped D'Annunzio.

At a signal the blacks seized Tchitcherin, dragged him through the hall, opened the door and cast him into the street, tossing his coat and hat and stick after him.

FAST MOTOR TRUCK DEMANDED BY ARMY

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30. (AP)—As a result of the tests of motor equipment recently ordered by Secretary of War Davis, an attempt will probably be made shortly to obtain a heavy truck which combines greater speed and more pulling power than those now assigned to antiaircraft artillery regiments.

Tests recently completed by a motorized antiaircraft regiment disclosed that the marches were curtailed ten miles per day due to mechanical defects and the inability of the regular issue truck to tow the three-inch guns at a greater speed than twenty-five miles per day.

"This rate proved much too slow to provide a satisfactory maneuverability for an antiaircraft unit," the regimental commander stated in his report to the War Department. "I recommend that an effort be made to secure a heavy truck which has both greater speed and tractive power."

Inquiry at the War Department disclosed that development of army built trucks has been allowed to lag, due to lack of funds, and as a result dependence is placed on commercial concerns for these vehicles.

National Committee Canvass Made by Newspaper

Eighteen Members Desire to Have President Run

Fourteen Accept Refusal and Eight Ride Fence

NEW YORK, Oct. 30. (AP) — The World (Democratic) will say tomorrow that a telegraphic canvass of the Republican National Committee reveals strong sentiment for the nomination of President Coolidge in 1928 despite his renunciation of the honor in the variously interpreted declaration "I do not choose to run."

Forty replies were received in answer to the World's telegram which asked the committeemen if they "personally favor the renomination of Mr. Coolidge," and if so, do they think he will be renominated. Twenty-four of the answers are from men and sixteen from women, while other Republican committee members are described as "abroad or out of reach of the telegraphic inquiry."

Of the men, ten whole-heartedly are in favor of Coolidge and believe his chances of renomination good, eleven favor his candidacy but think him out of the race voluntarily while three are noncommittal. Eight of the women's replies favor Coolidge, five are noncommittal and three express the view that the President cannot become a candidate.

Taken as a whole, eighteen committee members favor Coolidge and do not consider him out of the running, fourteen accept his refusal to run as final and eight offer no opinion. Southern committeemen almost unanimously favor the Coolidge candidacy, eight out of nine replies expressing hope that he will be renominated.

Rumania Honors Soviet Passport

BUCHAREST, Oct. 30. (AP)—For the first time since the establishment of the soviet republic, Rumania today recognized a soviet visa which appeared on the passport of the Russian singer Feodor Chaliapin, who arrived at Bucharest for a week's engagement.

Although the singer had been deprived of certain rights by Russia owing to his aiding White Russians abroad, he still carried the passport issued by the soviet which the Rumanian authorities, in the absence of relations with Russia, honored as a courtesy to Chaliapin.

Electricity in Los Angeles

[No. 7. The Mail Order House]

Sears, Roebuck and Co.

More than 11,000,000 families throughout the country are served by the sixteen or more mail order and retail stores of Sears, Roebuck and Co.

Two of these great stores are in Los Angeles.

A $5,000,000 mail order and retail plant is located at Ninth Street and Boyle Avenue. It comprises basement, nine large floors, and six more stories in a massive tower—a total of 450,000 square feet of floor space.

A complete retail department store occupies the entire first floor. General offices and a cafeteria are on the second floor; while the upper floors and tower are devoted to the mail order activities and more offices.

The dependence of this great institution on efficient electrical service is apparent from the list of apparatus operated by electricity:

Passenger and freight elevators, belt package conveyors, air washing motors and ventilating system.

Air compressors, water and oil pumps in Engine Room, pneumatic tube blowers, paper balers, floor scrubbing machines.

Adding machines, bookkeeping machines, money sorting and wrapping machines, cash registers, time stamp machines, addressographs, graphotypes, mimeographs, multigraphs, letter openers, stencil machines, stamping and pin ticket machines, shoe repairing and finishing machines, hat buffing machines.

Electric ranges, dish washers, bread and meat slicers, waffle irons, toasters, drink mixers, orange crushers, dough mixers—in the Kitchens.

Electric refrigeration; and electric equipment of many sorts in the Print Shop, Tailor Shop, Stock Rooms, Mailing Rooms, Carpenter and Plumbing Shops, and the Electrical Goods and Auto Supply Departments.

Batteries of 500-watt flood lights for illuminating the great tower and the store's free parking spaces.

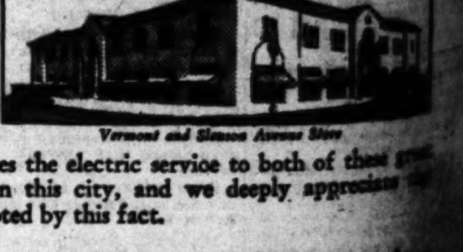
Thousands of electric lamps for general and window lighting, of the most up-to-date type.

The Vermont and Slauson Avenue store of Sears, Roebuck and Co. is exclusively a retail department store, complete in every detail.

It is a two-story and tower building, comprising 78,000 square feet of floor space and employing 350 people.

Here, also, electricity is used to run hundreds of devices necessary to an institution of its kind.

Only the most reliable electric service would be satisfactory to a business of the character of Sears, Roebuck and Co.



Vermont and Slauson Avenue Store

Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation supplies the electric service to both of these great mercantile establishments in this city, and we deeply appreciate the approval of our service denoted by this fact.

Premier King Scheduled to Visit Coolidge

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30. (AP)—Premier King of Canada will pay a visit to Washington and make his first call on President Coolidge some time late in November.

The Canadian Premier's last visit here was during the Harding regime. While the date of Mr. King's visit is not announced definitely, it is understood to be scheduled for about November 22, next.

The visit is of a purely social character with a number of entertainments, including a luncheon at the White House, being planned.

Two other Canadian officials also are coming to Washington. Gov.-Gen. Viscount Willingdon and Lady Willingdon will pay a call on President Coolidge on December 6, while the Minister of National Defense, Col. Ralston, will represent Canada in the unveiling of a memorial from his government to American soldiers who lost their lives during the war while serving with Canadian forces, at Arlington Cemetery on Armistice Day. The visit of the Governor-General will mark the first time a titular head of a British Dominion has come to Washington.

Ban on Car Puts University on Roller Skates

NORMAN (Okla.) Oct. 30 (AP)—Norman's sidewalks rang from the impact of roller skates today, after University of Oklahoma students were advised in a weighty opinion from the law class that the "no-car" rule of the institution does not prohibit undergraduates from rolling about by their own locomotion.

The visible supply of skates in Norman was soon exhausted and one enterprising youth sped to Oklahoma City, only a few miles away, and "cornered the market," returning with 300 pairs of skates, which he quickly sold.

The campus sidewalks were congested this afternoon with swains teaching co-eds the not-so-gentle art of skating.

WEALTH SHIRKS TAX OBLIGATION

Fifty Per Cent of Property in Slacker Class

Says Equable Assessing Would Slash Rates

NEW YORK, Oct. 30. (Exclusive)—Failure to list all property and inequalities in assessing property of all kinds, particularly intangible property, are largely responsible for excessively high State and local property tax rates and thus add greatly to the burdens of those whose entire property is reached by the tax collector, according to the National Industrial Conference Board. In the State of Illinois, according to a report dealing with "the fiscal problem of Illinois" just published by the board, existing tax rates are three times as high as they would need to be if all property were listed and no property were underassessed.

FIGURES COMPARED

While similar figures for the country as a whole are not now available it is significant that the total of assessed values of all taxable property, tangible and intangible, in 1922, was only $124,616,675,000 whereas the United States Census Bureau's estimate of the total taxable tangible property in that year was $300,298,043,000. The total assessed value of taxable real property and improvements in the same year was $92,369,378,000, while the Census Bureau's estimate of such property was $176,414,444,000. It is obvious that with approximately only half of the taxable wealth of the country being assessed property tax rates could be cut in half or at least considerably reduced if all taxable property were duly and evenly assessed.

POOR PENALIZED

Such conditions the conference board emphasizes, are particularly harmful in that they penalize the willing taxpayer who does his full share in co-operating with the tax-collecting authorities. They constitute a hardship on widows and orphans whose inherited property, in passing through probate courts, becomes a matter of public record or is in the hands of trustees and who thus are subjected to a greater tax burden because taxable assets of others remain concealed. While conditions vary greatly from State to State, general tax rates everywhere, the board contends, are higher than they would need to be if property of all kinds, tangible and intangible, did not more or less escape taxation by either nonlisting or underassessment.

Underassessment, a time-honored tradition in tax administration, in itself, would be harmless if all property were underassessed to the same degree, the board holds. It is the inequalities in the practice of underassessment that cause hardships to some who must pay for the immunity enjoyed by others

VAUDEVILLE MAGNATE TO TURN TO ART

S. Z. Poli, Who Began by Modeling in Wax, Plans Return to Sculptoring

NEW YORK, Oct. 30. (AP)—Sylvester Z. Poli, a former Italian immigrant boy who rose from the humble task of modeling wax horrors for the shocking Eden Musee of the '80's, to ownership of a chain of vaudeville theaters, which he recently sold for $30,000,000, plans to devote his time in retirement to his first work, sculpture, he said today.

Poli, who is 67 years of age, came to this country in 1881, after studying sculpture in Paris under M. Dablex, and began working in wax over the old Proctor Playhouse in lower Fifth avenue. There he learned to preserve pallidly the likeness of kings and queens, murderers, anarchists and actresses for the dime museums. As the museum fad gained popularity Poli entered the business in New Haven, combining vaudeville with his exhibit at the traditional "10-20-30" prices.

In the three decades since 1895 he has built variety theaters throughout New England and established a vaudeville circuit bearing his name. After selling these for $30,000,000 he announced his intention of devoting his time to sculpture, reading and travel.

E. F. Albee, head of the Keith-Albee enterprises, announced today the formation of a syndicate composed of Keith-Albee, the Stanley Company of America and two additional unnamed motion-picture concerns, to build a chain of thaters in the "Poli towns' 'of New England.

De Pachman in Supper Recital

LONDON, Oct. 30. (AP)—A new departure in supper entertainments was inaugurated at the Mayfair Hotel tonight with Vladimir De Pachman as the attraction in a Chopin recital. The supper and reserved-table seats cost thirty shillings, the dining-room accommodating 500.

Sir Francis Towle, who closed his Midnight Follies recently, arranged the concert, which he declares is the most expensive musical supper concert ever given in Europe. It will continue Sunday evenings indefinitely and the promoter anticipates full houses as the law bars Sunday cabarets.

SEARCHERS RECOVER TWO MINERS' BODIES

HOUGHTON (Mich.) Oct. 30.—Bodies of two of the seven miners whose lives were snuffed out by an air blast explosion and the forty-first level of the Quincy copper mine yesterday, were recovered today. The bodies were those of John Israelson, 40 years of age, and Emil Eittama, 51, found near the top of a huge pile of stone at one end of the wrecked level. Rescue workers declared tonight it may be several days before the bodies of the other five victims are recovered.

WORK BEGINS ON TAX BILL TODAY

Cut of $500,000,000 Urged; Fight Seems Certain

House Ways and Means Body to Expedite Drafting

Interest Centers on Mellon Recommendations

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30. (AP)—Drafting of a new tax bill will be started tomorrow by the House Ways and Means Committee with members prepared to expedite work in an effort to have the measure ready for Congress shortly after it convenes five weeks hence.

The eve of the meeting found interest centered on the recommendations to be made by Secretary Mellon, as such views as he may set forth on behalf of the Treasury will carry considerable weight during forthcoming deliberations on the subject.

The Secretary, or Undersecretary Mills, as his representative, will be the committee's first witness and will be heard tomorrow at 2 p.m.

While various estimates of the amount of tax reduction that should be effected have been made, the statement from the Treasury as to the probable surplus for the next fiscal year and the recommendations as to how far revenue levies may be cut with safety, usually serves as a basis from which a majority of the committee begins its work.

TOMORROW'S HEARING

The whole of tomorrow afternoon will be devoted to hearing the Treasury's position. The committee then will spend nine days hearing representatives of commerce, industry and various organizations that wish to present suggestions. After that it will retire behind closed doors to begin the actual writing of the bill.

The prospective work of the committee has attracted considerable attention and many members of Congress, including a number on the Ways and Means Committee, have expressed views on how large a tax cut should be made. Practically all of these have been far in excess of the indicated position of the Treasury—a reduction well under the $500,000,000 mark.

The precommittee meeting discussions also have developed that three political factors will exert an influence on the new tax bill before it has completed its long legislative journey through the House and Senate to President Coolidge. These factors are the administration Republicans, the Democrats and the group of western independent Republicans in the Senate.

AS TO AMOUNT OF CUT

Chairman Green of the Ways and Means Committee, and other administration stalwarts have indicated that they regard a cut of $300,000,000 as the probable maximum with Green particularly skeptical if even this figure will be possible. The Democrats, through their tax spokesman, Representative Garner of Texas, have declared for a minimum reduction of $300,000,000 while Garner, who is ranking minority member of the Ways and Means group, personally has advocated a reduction of $500,000,000 if possible.

What position the insurgent Senate group may take remains somewhat undefined, although it has been indicated that it will favor a minimum reduction and application of the remainder of the Treasury surplus to curtailing the public debt. This group holds that the prospective tax cut will apply largely to business and corporations and consequently do not look upon it sympathetically.

Of the levies considered most likely to be affected, it seems certain that the corporation tax will receive major consideration. Cuts ranging from 1 1-2 to 3 1-2 per cent have been suggested in this levy which now is 13 1-2 per cent. It has been estimated that for each 1 per cent reduction in this tax there will be a loss of around $100,000,000 annually in revenue.

The prospect that little attention can be given this year to further cuts in the individual income rates has taken considerable interest from the approaching tax battle, although there is little likelihood that the normal rates applying on small incomes will be touched or that the exemptions again will be given to paring down the surtax rates applying on incomes between $20,000 and $70,000.

FIGHT SEEMS CERTAIN

Tax leaders of both parties have contended that these incomes shared unequally in past reductions. However, for the first time in years it seems that no attempt will be made to alter the maximum surtax rate, storm center of past tax battles. This rate has been cut from the war-time 65 per cent scale to 20 per cent where it seems destined to stay.

Party lines are expected to split on the prospective battle over repeal of the estate or inheritance tax, with conservatives of both parties now apparently in favor of such a step while the independents in both Republican and Democratic ranks have given notice that they will fight this to the limit. A coalition of Republican and Democratic conservatives in the Senate voted for repeal of this levy two years ago, but the opposition in the House led by Chairman Green and Mr. Garner, forced its retention.

Miscellaneous and excise rates will be the other taxes to come before the committee with apparently a majority favoring repeal of some of these, including levies on theater admissions, club dues and automobiles.

A fight seems certain, however, over elimination of the automobile tax which was cut from 5 to 3 per cent in the last bill. Some administration leaders hope for a further slash in this levy and Democrats generally are expected to ask its repeal.

TAXED BEER SUGGESTED

Among others discussing prospective action by the committee, Representative Hawley of Oregon, its ranking Republican member, said today that he believes a reduction of $200,000,000 possible, and that in effecting tax reduction the committee should consider the following policies:

"First, an adjustment of the burden of taxation among the several classes of taxpayers so that the proportionate taxes paid each would be according to his ability to pay. Second, since the Federal government is reducing taxation because of surplus revenue, while taxes levied under State authority are increasing because of growing needs of the State and local governments, it seems to me that the Federal government should retire whenever possible from the fields of taxation that the States can occupy."

W. H. Stayton, chairman of the association against the prohibition amendment, also made public a plan which he said would be submitted to the committee, suggesting modification of the Volstead law to permit manufacture and sale of "the nonintoxicating beverage beer to be taxed at its source as high as 40 per cent of its retail selling price." This, he argued, would permit a decided reduction in other taxes.

GANGSTERS ROB ROISTERERS

Band Specializing in Roadhouse Raids Add $15,000 to Half-Million Collected in Hold-ups

CHICAGO, Oct. 30. (Exclusive)—Gangsters, operating with a machine gun and specializing in robberies of gambling resorts, poolrooms and roadhouses early this morning added $15,000 or more to the half-million-dollar fund they already have obtained by these raids.

The scene this time was the Harmony Inn, a heavily patronized roadhouse just outside the city limits and everything was made to order for the robbers. Roisterers at the Harmony Inn were staging a big Halloween party and the maskers more or less under the influence of liquor, did not notice the arrival of the masked gangsters who quietly took their places. There were twelve members of the raiding party. Four were left outside to guard against late arrivals or surprises.

At a signal from the leader inside, a beautiful blond girl wearing a Cinderella costume threw off her mask and began kissing the gangster leader. More than 100 occupants of the dance floor were then lined up against the walls and while two of the gangsters stripped the men the girl bandit despoiled the women of their jewels and money.

Motorcycle Policeman Henry Marcinski of Calumet City had received permission from his chief to attend the party and as he roared into the grounds on his motorcycle two of the outside guards shot him down. Although desperately wounded the officer partially straightened up and began shooting. One of the gangsters walked over, kicked the pistol from his hand and booted him into unconsciousness. In addition to the machine gun, the gangsters carried sawed-off shotguns and magazine pistols.

NEW YORK LAWYER ENDS LIFE WITH GAS

NEW YORK, Oct. 10. (AP)—Edward A. Harmaguet, 35 years of age, a lawyer, committed suicide by gas today in the apartment of a friend in Brooklyn. Police said he and his wife separated last August and they believed she now is living in Oil City, Pa. A letter dated September 5, and addressed to Marmaguet's father-in-law, Dr. Leon Smith of 4655 Santa Monica Boulevard, Ocean Beach, Cal., was found, police said, and contained a hint that the lawyer had contemplated taking his life two months ago.

EMPRESS SURE NICHOLAS LIVES

Czar's Mother in Exile Still Hopes to See Son

Confidence Persists While Her Strength Ebbs

Former Dowager Nearing Eightieth Birthday

COPENHAGEN (Denmark) Oct. 30. (AP)—The former Dowager Empress of all the Russias, Maria Feodorowna, refuses to believe that her son, the Czar of Russia, is dead. Hope of seeing him again, she says, is aiding to keep her alive, despite the fact that she is growing steadily weaker as her eightieth birthday, November 25, next, approaches.

The exiled Dowager Empress virtually has retired to the privacy of her own room. She seldom leaves her quarters, even having given up her daily drive in a hired automobile because the slight exertion is too much of a tax on her strength.

The widowed consort of Russia's one-time ruler spends much of her time talking about the deposed Czar Nicholas with Prince Dolgourioucks and Countess Mencken, who faithfully share her exile. She expects her son to visit her almost any day.

Her Imperial Majesty is virtually alone in her belief that the Czar was not murdered ten years ago at Ekaterinburg. She refuses to let her nephew, King Christian of Denmark, persuade her to come to his palace.

Fall-Sinclair Trial Swings Into Third Week

Expect Government to Rest Tomorrow or Wednesday

Continental Company Affairs Will Be Brought Out

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30. (AP)—Swinging into its third week, the Fall-Sinclair criminal conspiracy trial is expected to furnish more thrills as the government continues tomorrow to develop the activities of the Continental Trading Company, Ltd., which came into the oil picture after the Senate had concluded its investigation of the lease of the naval reserves.

Former Senator Charles S. Thomas of Colorado will be recalled to complete his recital of the conferences at the Vanderbilt Hotel in New York City at which were executed two contracts covering the sale of enormous quantities of oil in this country. The Continental Company was a party to one of these and stood to make profits running into the millions.

CONNECTION NOT SHOWN

The contention of the government is that Sinclair shared in these profits and that $230,500 in Liberty bonds, which once were held by the Continental, passed into the possession of Fall. The wealthy oil operator has not been connected directly with these bonds and there is no evidence in prospect to accomplish that.

After Senator Thomas leaves the stand, the government will call as another important witness, Robert W. Stewart, chairman of the board of the Standard Oil of Indiana, who, with Sinclair and James E. O'Neil, former president of the Prairie Oil and Gas Company, guaranteed the performance of the contract of the Continental to purchase 33,333,333 barrels of oil from the companies of the late A. E. Humphreys of Denver.

OTHERS PRESENT

Stewart was present at the Vanderbilt Hotel conferences along with Thomas, Humphreys, O'Neil, Henry M. Blackmer, former chairman of the board of the Mid-West Refining Company, a Standard of Indiana subsidiary; Beman Dawes, president of the Pure Oil Company, and brother of Vice-President Dawes; H. S. Osler, president of the Continental, and Sinclair.

The government probably will rest its case Tuesday or Wednesday and then the defense will begin presenting evidence after William E. Leahy, chief counsel for Albert B. Fall, has made an opening statement to the jury.

HURLED AX KILLS COYOTE

REDDING, Oct. 30. (AP)—A coyote wandered into the Sam Bigelow ranch, fifty miles east of Redding yesterday. Bigelow was without a gun to fire upon the animal, so he threw an ax at it. The blade struck the coyote in the head and killed it.

HEROISM OF RUTH ELDER DESCRIBED

Rescue Tanker's Captain Tells How She Insisted Co-pilot Be Saved First

GALVESTON (Tex.) Oct. 30. (AP)—How Ruth Elder pleaded that her co-pilot, George Haldeman, be rescued first from their sinking plane in the Atlantic Ocean when a lifeboat crew of the steamer Barendrecht came alongside was related tonight with the arrival of the tanker. The story was told by Capt. T. Goss, commander of the vessel.

Hardly more than five minutes after the crippled plane, American Girl, 3000 miles from its starting point, had plunged into the rolling sea, a lifeboat of the Barendrecht was standing by. The heavy swell made it impossible for the boat to come alongside the plane and lying about twenty feet distant, Second Officer M. Dubbeld cast a rope over the intervening water, calling on Miss Elder to make the rope fast about her waist so that she could be pulled to safety.

This the girl at first refused to do, shouting that she was comparatively safe in a nonsinkable suit, while Haldeman, unable to swim, was in ordinary dress. After being urged by Haldeman, Miss Elder permitted herself to be pulled to the lifeboat, followed a few minutes later by her companion.

PARIS, Oct. 30. (AP)—Ruth Elder had a real day of rest today and came forth with her freshness in full bloom and ready for what further adventures awaited her. Except for a few hours of mild sight-seeing in an automobile with Maj. and Mrs. Yount of the American Embassy as guides, the little American aviatrix spent the day in the intimacy of her old gold Louis XV boudoir at such important tasks as having her hair done up in latest Parisian fashion and undergoing other beautifying processes. When all this was done she appeared in the pink of condition.

From 11 o'clock in the morning until 3 she shut out a host of visitors. She saw only P. C. Hannebrink, who came in behalf of the owners of the Dutch tanker Barendrecht, to thank her for inadvertently making their ship famous. It was the Barendrecht that rescued Ruth and her co-pilot, George Haldeman.

For the subsequent two hours she "did the town" as a tourist, but looking infinitely more "distingue" than 999 out of every 1000 who visit Notre Dame and other spots of interest on today's itinerary.

BAY CITY VISITED BY FRENCH CRUISER

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 30. (AP)—The light cruiser Primauguet, pride of the French navy, dropped anchor in San Francisco Bay yesterday on her maiden voyage around the world. Commanded by Capt. H. M. J. Valat, the fighting vessel is manned by thirty officers and 600 enlisted men. After remaining at rest a week in San Francisco Bay the cruiser will sail for San Diego, then pass through the Panama Canal on her way to New York. The vessel is scheduled to return to France before Christmas.

TRADE INQUIRY MOVES RAPIDLY

Quiz in Buying of Stock by Du Pont Under Way

Federal Commission May Be Delayed by Congress

Findings Expected to Be of Help to Business

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30. (AP)—Rapid progress is being made by the Federal Trade Commission in its inquiry into acquisition by the Du Pont interests of stock of United States Steel and General Motors corporations. The field work in the investigation is going forward, the commission announced today, but the time of completion cannot be determined at this time.

Investigations ordered by Congress into petroleum prices, the bread and flour-milling industry and other commercial enterprises, will be given precedence, it was indicated over the Du Pont inquiry.

A number of investigations instituted during the summer will be delayed by completion of similar Congressional inquiries, it is understood. They include those into resale-price maintenance and price-cutting, price bases, lumber-trade associations and "blue-sky" securities. The securities inquiry is a continuance of a previous activity of the commission, which announced it "will be of a constructive character and will not deal with specific cases of abuse" when completed.

"Business men are sensing the value of the economic investigations now being conducted by the Federal Trade Commission and are co-operating in furnishing data and otherwise lending their assistance to make these inquiries a success," the commission said.

"That the findings of the commission in these comprehensive surveys of resale-price maintenance, large stock-company mergers, sale of 'blue-sky' securities, the petroleum industry, the bread and flour industry and other fields will form important documents for the use and future guidance of business, is the general purport of correspondence on the subject being received daily by the commission."

NEW YORK FLOCKS TO HEAR SAPIRO

Attorney Tells History of $1,000,000 Libel Suit Against Ford

NEW YORK, Oct. 30. (Exclusive) Three thousand persons vainly stormed the doors of Carnegie Hall this afternoon to hear Aaron Sapiro, Chicago attorney, relate the history of his $1,000,000 libel suit against Henry Ford. Half an hour before the attorney mounted the platform the doors were closed. One thousand persons already had pressed into the auditorium.

Sapiro revealed that neither Ford's counsel, Senator Reed, nor Don Cameron, editor of the Dearborn Independent, in which were published attacks on the attorney and Jews in general, knew of Ford's change of front until after his apology had been made public.

Sapiro affirmed that he had asked $1,000,000 damages because that was the sum which Ford asked of the Chicago Tribune when he sued that newspaper for libel and won a verdict of 6 cents.

"I never was interested in Ford's money," Sapiro stated. "I wanted merely to prove he was wrong. When Ford spoke it was not an individual speaking; it was $2,000,000,000 talking to all the world."

The attorney contributed nothing new to the public's knowledge of the terms of settlement. He denied that any large money damages had been paid secretly, as had been hinted in some quarters.

Hunter's Body Found in Bay

MARTINEZ, Oct. 30. (AP)—The body of August Re, 23 years of age, of Crockett, missing duck hunter, was found today floating in Honkers' Bay, a quarter-mile from Black Buoy. Search will be made tomorrow for the bodies of Antonio Bellini, 22, of Valona, and Francis Nemanich, 14, of Crockett, who left with Re the 22nd inst. on a hunting trip in the power launch San Juan.

Search for the party was made by launch and airplane when they failed to return. The fact that Re's body was clad only in underwear indicated to officials that he had retired when the launch either ran into a buoy or was run down by a river boat.

SHORT PANTS HIT BY FRENCH FUN MAKERS

PARIS, Oct. 30. (AP)—Short pants for men have had a bad year. Their exponents have failed miserably and they are being duly guyed by flippant humorists. The leaders of the movement appeared in high society, among friends, a few times but short pants seldom got farther than posed pictures by men mannequins at the races.

Lamenting this lack of men's courage in dress, a number of fashion critics assert short pants really can come into fashion if some leaders will only show courage enough to stand ridicule and the gaze of the curious until the rank and file of the well-dressed screw up their courage to follow them. However, the critics admit they don't want the job.

Condolences for Financier and Wife Pour in CHICAGO, Oct. 30. (AP)—While messages of condolence streamed in from friends, social and financial leaders from many parts of the world, virtually every means of modern transportation and communication were in use to gather members of the family of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Mitchell to their parents' bier today.

Mr. Mitchell, 73-year-old head of Chicago's second largest financial institution, the Illinois Merchants' Trust Company, as well as director in financial enterprises having estimated assets of more than $1,640,000,000, and Mrs. Mitchell were crushed to death yesterday when their automobile swirled off a road into a ditch about twenty-six miles northwest of Chicago.

Their son, John J. Mitchell, Jr., learned of the tragedy while on a hunting trip on a Texas ranch. He chartered a special airplane and flew from San Antonio to Fort Worth, where he boarded a regular air mail plane, arriving at Kansas City at 2:40 p.m. He is making the remainder of the trip here by rail.

Cablegrams and the trans-Atlantic telephone were used frequently by other members of the family to reach Mrs. Louise P. Kellogg, eldest daughter of the stricken couple. Mrs. Kellogg is honey-mooning somewhere on the European continent, and friends and representatives of the family were telephoned to break the news and urge their hurried departure for Chicago immediately.

Mrs. John J. Mitchell, Jr., the former Lolita Armour, who only a few months ago raced by train, airplane and boat to reach the deathbed of her father, J. Ogden Armour, meanwhile is rushing to Chicago by train from California. She is due tomorrow morning.

Book Character Still on Guard

LONDON, Oct. 30. (AP)—The "Little Midshipman," familiar to all lovers of Dickens, may still be seen keeping guard just inside the shop of a firm of nautical publishers in the Minories.

Dickens described him as a midshipman, but the figure is actually that of a naval officer wearing the uniform of Nelson's time and taking an observation.

The figure is about [illegible] feet high, exquisitely carved in wood and appropriately colored. It is almost a century and a half old. It now bears a brass plate [illegible] "This is the original 'Little Midshipman' immortalized by Charles Dickens in 'Dombey and Son.'"

HINDENBURG SPONSOR FOR MANY CHILDREN

BERLIN, Oct. 30. (AP)—President von Hindenburg is godfather to at least 3000 children, he recently confided to Mayor Goerlitz of Oldenburg.

"Before I became President, I was godfather to about 300," he said. "Now I am asked about five times a day to stand sponsor."

At times these godchildren prove somewhat troublesome.

"Not long ago I visited a small city," the President continued. "I had just taken my seat in the carriage, when suddenly a little 1½-year-old youngster was lifted into the seat opposite me. I asked in some surprise what this meant, when the tot's mother replied, rather reproachfully 'but don't you remember that this is your god son?' The mother actually wanted him to drive through town with me.

"I was just wondering how my little friend and I would get along during the drive, when he began to cry so boisterously that his mother considered it was wise to relieve me of him."

Nation's Cost of Sickness Seen as Appalling

Manufacturer Cites Expense in One Industry

Much of Illness Declared to Be Preventable

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30. (Exclusive) What sickness of workers costs industry has never been determined on a national basis, says the bulletin of the American Public Health Association. An idea of what the cost must be, however, may be gained from the experience of one big manufacturer.

This man has an annual pay roll of approximately $5,000,000 and he estimates the annual cost of illness to his business, including charges for idle machinery and loss in production, to be $287,500. That is more than 5 per cent on the pay roll. In addition the loss to individuals and the community due to the illness of his employees is estimated at $303,000 annually, or an additional 6 per cent on the pay roll. This last takes into consideration direct loss of wages, indirect loss of earning capacity after illness, medical and nursing expenses, public expenses and charitable relief.

These figures are the more appalling when it is understood that so much of the illness is due to preventable diseases. Medical science and sanitation have made such progress in recent years in decreasing sickness and fatalities from such diseases as smallpox, diphtheria, typhoid fever, tuberculosis, measles, scarlet fever, whooping cough, influenza, and conditions causing the death of infants that communities and individuals that do not avail themselves of modern preventive measures are little short of criminally negligent.

Control of a disease can occur when the cause is discovered, the life history of the disease is known, and either the cause removed or an effective preventive procedure developed, says the bulletin. In order to achieve results, however, the public must be educated to permit the preventive measures being applied to a sufficient number of the population to immunize them against an attack and to reimmunize them when the number of susceptibles becomes dangerously large.

Diphtheria is cited as an excellent example of disease control. Time was, less than two generations ago, when this was one of the most dreaded of diseases, but in 1883 the bacillus which causes diphtheria was discovered and in 1896 an antitoxin was developed which during twenty-five years reduced the mortality due to the disease from 50 per cent to 10 per cent.

In 1920 13,000 persons died from diphtheria in the United States Registration Area. About that time the active immunization of susceptibles was developed by giving them a combination of toxin and antitoxin and five years later the number of deaths had dropped to 7909 in an appreciably larger area.

DEATH REDUCTION

What communities can do is shown by what was done in New Haven, Ct., where after an intensive immunization campaign a diphtheria death rate of only 1.7 per 100,000 was shown in 1924, while the rate for the entire State was 11.2.

Auburn, N. Y., with a population of about 40,000, after intensive immunization showed deaths from diphtheria of 17, 14, 13, and 8, for the successive years beginning with 1920, and since March 9, 1924, no diphtheria deaths have occurred in Auburn and only eleven cases have been reported, none of whom had received the immunization treatment.

The Public Health Association suggests that what has been done in these two cities can be done throughout the United States and calls upon chambers of commerce and similar organizations to see that it is done.

LARGELY PREVENTABLE

Pursuing its hard-boiled policy of eliminating sentiment and reducing everything to the dollar basis, the association states that a baby at birth has a potential value of $10,000. In 1924 there were 1,930,614 births, representing an increase in human capital of almost $20,000,000,000. But in the first year of life 136,730 of those babies died, with a resultant loss in the capital account of $1,367,300,000.

Much of this loss is preventable, it is stated. In 1915 New York City had an infant mortality rate of 99 deaths under one year per 1000 live births, but in 1925 this rate had dropped to 64. During the same period Detroit reduced its rate from 105 to 77; Boston, from 103 to 85; White Plains, N. Y., from 82 to 51. A baby born in Stonington, Ct., or Winona, Minn., in 1925 had a better chance to live than one born in any other part of the United States, for those two cities were tied for the low rate with 32 per 1000. The highest rate for any community was 156.

The death rate of tuberculosis has been materially reduced, but that disease continues to be the greatest sharpener of the scythe wielded by the Angel of Death. It is still the greatest cause of death to the wage earner between the ages 15 and 44, and it also handicaps or cripples in ten cases for every one in which it kills.

WHITE PLAGUE

In 1923 tuberculosis claimed 56,657 deaths among persons aged 15 to 44 in the Registration Area—22.8 per cent of all deaths within those age limits—which meant a loss in future earnings of approximately a billion and a half dollars. With present knowledge, it is declared, at least half of those deaths could have been prevented.

Typhoid fever is another of the preventable diseases. Until the installation of its first filtration plant in 1907, the city of Pittsburgh had one of the highest typhoid death rates in the country—more than 125 per 100,000. Within a year this rate was reduced to 48.7 and with further extension of the filtration systems this rate dropped until in 1926 there were but 17 deaths from typhoid in the entire city—the figure was 805 in 1907—giving a rate of 2.7 per 1000.

This rate compared with 8.0 for the entire United States Registration Area and it is asserted that improved methods of sanitation should eventually curb typhoid deaths until they are almost never heard of and that expenditures for better methods of filtration will pay for themselves many times in added life values to the community.

PANDEMIC TOLL

"In the world-wide pandemic of 1918-1919 one authority estimates that 200,000,000 cases of influenza developed and upward of 10,000,000 deaths occurred in less than twelve months," says the bulletin. In the United States alone there were more than 20,000,000 cases and about 450,000 deaths in less than six months. The conquest of influenza is far from complete. Certain procedures, however, are advised as having proved effective when influenza becomes epidemic. At the first symptoms, usually backache, headache, or cold in the head, it is strongly urged that the individual go to bed, drink water, eat little, and take any other precautions that will save energy needed to resist disease and prevent complications, especially pneumonia, from which deaths in influenza usually occur."

While influenza is of public interest only during epidemic periods, the warning concludes, pneumonia and cancer, in addition to tuberculosis, are constantly present as two of the chief causes of death, especially in adult life. The prevention and control of these diseases depends much upon the intelligent co-operation of the public and therefore they offer opportunity for participation of local health committees in public education.

The average American citizen needs to learn that he will not be sick and died prematurely if he and his community are awake to what can be done in disease prevention and control.

"Times" Daily Short Story

The Eleventh Hour - -

By ARTHUR GUY EMPEY

"Bertie, you're sure S. O. L." The man on the horse nodded sympathetically. "I'm in Dutch, too."

"HEY, soldier! Nix on crossin' that field." The M. P. reined in his galloping horse and gazed down suspiciously through the misty dawn at a pale-faced, hollow-cheeked artilleryman floundering painfully along under a heavy pack. "Don'tcha believe in signs—or ain'tcha superstitious?" The policeman pointed to a wooden sign forbidding traffic at that point. "D'you wanta rip up every telephone wire in France? Back on the road, bum. Toot-sweet!"

"Have a heart, won't you? I'm takin' a short cut to my battery, and using the the road's a couple kilos longer. I'm all in, buddy. The seven hundred and eighteenth smoke wagons are over this way, ain't they? I won't kick up no wires—honest."

"I'll say you won't, it's action rear, wagon soldier, 'cause you're pinched."

"Cripes, you ain't arresting a guy what's hoofed it across France to get into the fighting?" The voice was charged with bitter disappointment. "My dogs is barking with pain, and my stomach thinks my throat's cut, I'm so hungry."

"Yeh?" sarcastically. "A reg'lar hero, huh! You can tell it to Judge Duffy—I got a tin ear."

"I ain't pulling nothing phony on you. Listen, will you?" implored the dismounted one, easing the straps that cut into his shoulders. "My middle name's Hard Luck. Back in training camp, on the very day my outfit's to sail, I get the mumps and am left behind. Three months later I join the battery in France. What happens? When they get orders to move up, I get the measles. Yes, the measles, and German measles at that. I'm slammed into hospital. Wait that ain't half of it. Shed of the spotted plague, I'm all set for duty again, when a four-eyed pill roller, living up to his rep of knowing nothing, decided that me and the chicken pox is bunkies. Wham! Into the hospital again, then a replacement camp. Sure, I beat it over the hill. Why not? Stay there, and they'd plaster me with every kid's disease in the medicine book—and—and—stick dy'pers on me."

"Easy, bo." The M. P. wagged his head gravely. "Them setbacks is warnings to keep outa the mix-up. Take my tip and shy off, or you'll be pushin' up daises under one of them R.I.P.—Risq If Possible—wooden monuments."

"You might be right, but I just gotta get into action. I ain't worrying 'bout making the world safe for democracy neither. My reason's got that one faded to a—"

"Blonde or brunette?"

"Redhead—not henna—and I'm nuts over her." A long-drawn sigh. "Brother, my heart went over the hill first time I lamped her, and has been A.W.O.L. ever since. Say listen! A fresh guy's butted into the picture, and she's slipping. He's playing the hero; sporting a phony wound stripe he got out here for falling off a mess-wagon. Lulu is one of them E Pluribus Union dames. You know—patriotic." The artillery-man produced a soiled and creased sheet of pink paper from the lining of his tin hat. "Here's how Lulu ends her last letter: 'For pity's sake, do something, Bertie, besides catching them nursery ailments. I ain't going to marry no artilleryman what never smelled powder or shot off a cannon in the great war. Get wounded, or something, if you got to bayonet yourself in the foot. I ain't telling my kids that their daddy fought in the battles of mumps, measles and chicken pox. All the girls is just crazy about Jim's wound stripe. So am I, Lulu!' "

"Bertie, you're sure S.O.L." The man on the horse nodded sympathetically. "I'm in Dutch too. My jane—blond and patriotic—gave me the air just 'cause I'm a M. P. Ain't women the limit? I ain't bustin' up no romance like yours. Aw revoor." The M. P. wheeled and galloped back to the road.

The delighted Bertie waved his thanks and plodded on in search of his battery, which, he had been informed, lay several kilos to the northwest. Soon all along the line the thunder of an intense bombardment smote upon his ears, and from the road behind sounded a medley of shouting and cheering. Back went aching shoulders and up went a drooping chin. Action at last! If Lulu could only see him now!

The sun had climbed high when a puffing and sweating artilleryman, knees sagging, topped a rise immediately behind the gun pits of a battery. Weakly he clapped a hand to his forehead in amazement. His outfit had suddenly gone insane. Attached to the lanyards of three guns were long ropes manned by a motley collection of excited soldiers: artillerymen, doughboys, orderlies, cooks, military police and what not. The battery commander, eye constantly seeking wrist watch, superintended the strange operation, a handkerchief held in readiness. The strong wind blowing carried the officer's words away from the gaping Bertie.

"Too bad the breech of No. 1 is defective," he said, "or we'd give Mr. Hohenzollern a full salvo."

Mustering his waning strength, Bertie struggled forward and saluted his captain.

"Sir," he gasped out, "Private Bertram Woolsey reports for active duty."

"Good Lord!" exploded the captain. "Once a gold brick, always a gold brick. Active duty? Don't you know the war will be ended in three minutes? That aff armistice has been signed?"

"Good-by, Lulu." Licked, Bertie wilted into the mud. "The war over and I didn't even fire a gun!"

The captain was too concerned with the importance of the moment to heed a gold brick's collapse. A powerful inspiration rejuvenated Bertie. There still remained time in which to retrieve his military prestige. Gun No 1! A sudden dash, and he stood beside the untended field piece. The breech flew open; a shell rammed home; the breech locked; and nervous fingers gripped the lanyard.

"Away from that gun, you fool!" shouted the captain. "You'll blow your head off!" But Private Bertram Woolsey was thinking of Lulu, and didn't budge. "Ready!" The captain's handkerchief lifted. "Eleven o'clock!" The handkerchief dropped. "Fire!"

Voom! roared three guns in chorus. Bertie jerked the lanyard. A terrific blast, a blinding flash, and he was knocked sprawling, a jagged hole torn in the flesh of his thigh. When he finally opened his eyes he lay on a stretcher, his captain bending over him.

"You crazy idiot!" Despite the uncomplimentary words the battery commander's voice was soft and soothing. "Getting wounded the last minute of the war."

"W-wounded—in—action—sir?" queried Bertie eagerly.

"That will be my official report." The captain smiled.

PLATICAS DE LOS LUNES

POR EL PROFESOR R. GUERRERO
Del Departamento Español de "The Times"

En mi platica anterior sólamente he notado una errata, que el buen sentido del Lector habrá salvado: una transposición de renglones, al fin del ultimo párrafo. En efecto, donde dice: "tiples, y ruega a la compañía, etc." debió ir esto: "grandes y de arados de discos múl". Con esta corrección se obtiene el sentido exacto del párrafo citado.

Para que la coteje el estudiante con la escrita por él, desarrollo a conti nuación la carta cuyos puntos fueron sugeridos en mi plática anterior:

Buenos Aires, 24 de junio de 1927.
Agricultural Implements Co.,
77 Broadway,
New York, E. U. de N. A.
Muy señores nuestros:

Oportunamente recibimos la atenta carta de ustedes, fecha 20 de junio próximo pasado, en la que venían los conocimientos y facturas que amparaban el envío de las maquinas y aperos de labranza que hubimos de encargar a ustedes, en nuestra carta de 15 de mayo último, y que acaban de llegar a ésta, hace pocos días, en el vapor "Alliance".

Tenemos, sin emnargo, la pena de manifestarles que, debido probablemente a que la carga venía mal estibada, o tal vez a que las máquinas no estaban bién embaladas, una de las dos segadoras llegó con la cuchilla alabeada y desarticulada, y el mecanismo de atar de la segadora agavilladora llegó des compuesto.

Ha costado mucho trabajo arreglar y montar dichas maquinas, a fin de dejarlas en estado de funcionar. El montaje de las restantes resultó también difícil, y esto se debe a que no son muy completas las instrucciones contenidas en los folletos descriptivos enviados por ustedes, segun nuestro leal saber y entender.

Tenemos la idea de encargarles, dentro de poco, un pedido de tractores grandes, así como de arados de discos multiples, de modo es que nos permitimos rogar a ustedes, que, en lo sucesivo, tengan la bondad de remitirnos instrucciones mas pormenorizadas para el montaje y manejo de las máquinas que les compremos.

Comunidad de Regantes.
P.P. Domingo Rubiera.

Estúdiese la carta que sigue, tomada del Manual de Correspondencia de Fuentes y Elías, y en la que se avisa el envío de una caja con instrumentos de óptica, a una firma de Buenos Aires, República Argentina.

Nueva York, 27 de junio de 1927.
Señor don J. Ulman
15 Main St. Warren. Ohio.
Muy señor mío:

Por el vapor "Bolivar" acabo de remitir, a los señores López y García, de Buenos Aires, la caja con instrumentos de óptica, por valor de $1,000, que me encargó usted para el efecto.

Según sus instrucciones dicha mercancía va asegurada a un tipo de prima bastante reducido, calculado sobre el valor de la mercancía más un 10 por ciento de presunta ganancia, según podrá ver usted por los documentos respectivos que le envío adjuntos.

También le envío, con esta carta, la cuenta de los gastos en que he incurrido, con motivo de este embarque, a fin de que se sirva usted abonar la cantidad que arroja, en el haber de mi cuenta corriente.

ANGEL MESTRE.

La carta siguiente, está tomada, también, del mismo Manual. En ella se dá aviso de una suspensión de pagos. Es interesante examinarla cuidadosamente:

Quito, Ecuador, julio 4 de 1927.
Señor don Victoriano Cuervo,
Calle de Alcalá 43, Madrid, España.
Muy señor nuestro:

Tenemos la pena de participar a ustedes que, como resultado de una serie de contratiempos imprevistos, acaecidos durante los últimos acho meses, nos vemos imposibilitados de cumplir nuestras obligaciones comerciales, y, por lo tanto, nos hemos declarado en suspensión de pagos.

Nuestros acreedores van a reunirse, acudiendo a nuestro llamado, a fin de que se lleve a cabo un examen minucioso de los libros de la casa y se lean los informes sobre el activo y el pasivo que presentaremos a su consideración, a fin de que todos se den perfecta cuenta del estado de nuestros negocios y de la naturaleza de los fondos de que se podría disponer, para pagarles.

CARRERA & COMPANIA.

Ruego a mis lectores que se sirvan redactar una carta, suscrita por los señores López y García, de Buenos Aires, República Argentina, en la que acusen recibo, al señor J. Ulman de 15 Main Street, Warren, Ohio, Estados Unidos de Norte América, de la caja de instrumentos de óptica, remitida por el señor Angel Mestre de Nueva York. Que recibieron asimismo, todos los documentos que amparaban dicho embarque (conocimientos, facturas, etc.) y que los instrumentos son de su entera satisfacción. Envían, en consecuencia, una letra a la vista, sobre Nueva York, por la suma de $1,235.36, importe del precio de la mercancía citada más los gastos de su embarque. En vista del resultado de este pedido y de la demanda que está teniendo por parte de sus clientes, ordenan la remisión de otras cuatro cajas y piden, que en vista de esta nueva compra y de la perspectiva de llegar a ser constantes favorecedores de la firma, ésta les otorguen una rebaja de cierta consideración, para lo sucesivo. Concluyen, por supuesto, con las fórmulas de rigor en esta clase de correspondencia.

Woman Urges Trial Marriage

LONDON, Oct. 30. (AP)—Mrs. Bertrand Russell, speaking today on marriage at the Guild House, where Agnes Maude Royden conducts Sunday services, openly advocated "preliminary partnerships" before marriage.

"If you ask women for an honest opinion," she said, "most of them would admit that if they had married the first man that attracted them they would have made the biggest mistake of their lives."

RAILS HARD HIT BY FLOOD COST

Mississippi Deluge Takes $10,000,000 Toll

Property Loss $300,000,000, 600,000 Homeless

Damage Report Prepared by Chief Engineers

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31. (AP)—Property damage sustained by railroads in the Mississippi River flood was placed at approximately $10,000,000 in a report today by a special committee of the American Railway Engineering Association.

"The comparatively small loss of human life," it added, "was due in no small part to the prompt rescue work of the railroads."

Prepared by chief engineers of the railroads operating in the flood zones, the report described the 1927 disaster as establishing "another record in the long line of unprecedented floods on the historic stream, as gauges show stages higher than ever before recorded, while breaks in the levees have inundated approximately 18,000 square miles, directly affecting 750,000 people; making approximately 600,000 homeless and destitute and causing property damage estimated to exceed $300,000,000."

FLOODS FORESEEN

"Operation was suspended from 10 to 120 days on 3000 miles of railroads (the longer period applying principally to branch lines,") it said. "Not only do these disastrous floods seriously interfere with transportation, but telegraph and telephone lines are also destroyed and communication often entirely cut off.

"It was apparent early in April, 1927, that railroads located adjacent to the Mississippi and its tributaries were faced with the probability of severe flood conditions and every possible precaution was taken to protect the property. Where there was a probability that the territory would be overflowed, all material possible was removed from the overflow area and stored on high ground. Track gangs were recruited by the railroads to full strength and additional gangs were held in readiness to move to the inundated area.

"Cinders, gravel and other ballast and filling materials were assembled in readiness for use. Large quantities of sand bags were purchased and in addition to those used for protecting the ends of bridges and railroad enbankments, filled bags were stored in convenient locations.

RECUE WORK

"The people who live in territory subject to inundation have learned to look to the railroads that serve them, not only for assistance in protecting the land from floods, but for means of escape after the levee has broken."

In the work of rescuing and providing living quarters for refugees, the report said, the Illinois Central system alone operated 311 rescue trains, transported 46,381 refugees, furnished 1674 cars for living quarters, moved 892 cars of household goods and 759 cars of live stock, virtually all without charge, and transported free 1294 cars of food, clothing and supplies together with hundreds of carloads of boats, airplanes and other material.

The Missouri Pacific lines furnished transportation practically without charge for refugees, household goods and live stock and provided 1800 box cars for living quarters, 450 of which it obtained from other roads at a total per-diem service cost of $13,500. Similar contributions to the relief work were made by the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific, the St. Louis-San Francisco, the Southern Pacific and other lines.

AMPHIBIAN PLANE FLYS BACK HOME

Mrs. Grayson Will Try to Cross Atlantic in Spring; Plans Tests in Winter

CURTISS FIELD (N. Y.) Oct. 30. (AP)—The amphibian plane, The Dawn, owned by Mrs Frances W. Grayson, Long Island real-estate dealer, who still hopes to be the first woman to fly across the Atlantic, tonight is back at its starting point here after a three-hour flight from Old Orchard, Me. The flying exhibition to Copenhagen, Denmark, has been postponed indefinitely.

The small woman who has struggled for months to realize the ambition which she has said she holds for her sex as well as for herself, obviously is disappointed at the unsuccessful termination of her program after she and her companions had risked their lives in take-offs from Old Orchard.

Beaten back twice by the failure of the plane to gain the altitude required to sustain flight and once when well on the way by heavy fog closely followed by engine trouble, Mrs. Grayson last night announced an intention to return to Long Island and spend the winter in further tests to bring the plane to a higher degree of efficiency before making another attempt next spring.

The flight back today was uneventful. The plane carried seven persons, including the crew. It will go back to its place in the Sikorsky hangar from where it started three weeks ago.

Although there had been marked difference of opinion among the crew for a week which at times reached the point of open dissension, the group of three remained intact to the end.

MEXICAN ESPEE WINS WAGE WAR

Fight of Years to Cut Costs Ends in Victory

Labor Board Vises Dropping of Useless Employees

Strike of Red Rail Unions Proclaimed Illegal

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 30. (Exclusive) After a fight for several years to adjust wages and expenses, the Southern Pacific Railroad of Mexico yesterday won a victory which gives it a chance to continue in Mexico until conditions become better without inordinate expenditure over income.

The Southern Pacific, with close upon $100,000,000 invested in Mexico, has been up against abnormal conditions since the outbreak of the revolution against Porfirio Diaz in 1910. On various occasions since then the Southern Pacific has petitioned the labor arbitration board for permission to reduce its staff and make other economies.

REDUCTION AUTHORIZED

The road yesterday obtained a resolution by the Labor Board of Arbitration against striking workmen in the car shop at Empalme, the Southern Pacific-owned city in the State of Sonora, which authorizes the reduction of employment in the shops to five days and eight hours each day.

The decree declares that the strike of the Red railway union is illegal and orders the men to resume work within seventy-two hours under penalty. The Empalme shops are the largest in Mexico and the strikers include every activity connected with railroading. The decree of the labor board also applies to employees of the Southern Pacific shops and station at Mazatlan.

REDS HARASS ROAD

At a cost of more than $10,000,000 the Southern Pacific a few months ago connected with Guadalajuara by means of one of the most notable pieces of engineering work in the history of railway building. Since then revolutionary activity at one section or the other of the Southern Pacific has cut the income of the road so greatly that a reduction of employees or hours of labor, with the consequent reduction of wages, became an imperative necessity. The board of arbitration intimated that other reductions in the running expenses of the Southern Pacific would be allowed if the present concessions proved insufficient. Thus far the present threatened danger of closing the Mexican Southern Pacific has been averted.

FRESHETTES RAISE CURTAIN ON HOW THEIR MINDS WORK

WINNIPEG (Man.) Oct. 30. (Exclusive)—Authorities at the University of Manitoba put it up to the freshettes themselves to formulate a code of ethics for their guidance during the four-year college term. When the answers to a questionnaire, "Give your ideas of the conduct of a model university co-ed," naivette and originality of a high order were revealed. Here are some of the answers:

"Even if a co-ed is not a Christian she can at least attend chapel."

"She should have a [illegible] regard for the university as a whole and for professors in particular. The professors have to look at her, so she should make herself as attractive as possible."

"She should help to make the college spirit—professors would not perhaps agree with this, at least, one has that idea of college profs when one enters."

"She should go quietly through the corridors and go up and down the stairs without undue zig-zagging."

"She should pay close attention to certain of the professors."

"All work and no play makes Jill a dumb girl."

"She should not smoke or play cards, but should never be a wet blanket."

"First and foremost she should try to look intelligent and must cultivate an inquiring air."

"While in lectures she should fix her attention [illegible] the lecturer."

"She should [illegible] an a[illegible] sport and an all-around girl."

The police search of M. Armengol's house revealed maps marked with crosses showing where the Separatist forces might pass the Franco-Spanish border secretly, and lists of Separatist sympathizers, also French rifles and cartridges. In the course of the examination M. Armengol refused to talk, accepting the expulsion order calmly. He was conducted to the French border.

BLACKSHIRT OATH HELD INVIOLABLE

Mussolini Reviews Troops at Celebration of March on Rome Anniversary

ROME, Oct. 30. (Exclusive)—Declaring that the Fascist oath to King and country is inviolable, Premier Mussolini concluded this morning a most impressive ceremony in celebration of the sixth anniversary of the march on Rome. Il Duce's speech was delivered as he sat astride his horse after he had reviewed some 90,000 troops, all armed, while 100,000 people saluted his passage with wild acclamations. The Italian dictator rode a fine Arabian horse, preceding the brilliant staff, while overhead 200 airplanes flew in perfect formation.

For the first time in history the Italian troops and Blackshirts, lined up for the Premier's passage, faced the public instead of turning their backs to them. The strictly military character of the celebration again showed Il Duce's determination to consider the state regime perfectly identified.

Designer of famous Fokker Planes

An Endorsement That No One Could Buy

Given to the Parker Duofold
by Anthony Fokker, Famous Monoplane Designer

Read what he says about this famous writing instrument

When Anthony Fokker, designer of monoplanes used in record-breaking flights to the North Pole, France and Hawaii, endorses the Parker Duofold, he speaks with authority.

Mr. Fokker knows the value of precision. The Fokker Aircraft Company in America is a precision plant—Fokker a precision engineer.

"Any engineer," he says, "appreciates a precision instrument. That's why I use a Parker Pen."

Thus a man of great achievement testifies to a degree of quality in another product that he particularly admires.

To him, precision in a pen means immediate writing at the touch of point to paper. It means the famous pressureless touch, which makes the Parker Duofold the easiest-writing instrument the world has ever seen.

It means continuous perfect writing—a pen that clears the track for thinking, with no petty interruptions.

If you want to know why "Fokker" endorses Parker Pens, try one at your dealer's.

But don't be misled by color. That may be imitated. The pen that writes differently—Fokker's favorite "precision pen"—is stamped "Geo. S. Parker" on the barrel.

POLITICS RULES WORLD TRADE

German Writers Regard Economics Passe

Business Involves Issues Arising From War

Gilbert Memorandum Cited as Trend Index

BERLIN, Oct. 30 (AP)—World economy no longer is governed by the venerable theories of political economy, but is wholly at the mercy of politics, is the conclusion reached by German financial writers who assert that at no post-war period has amalgamation of politics and economics possessed the significance it has today. Germany's financial worries, they say, are only a minor part of the international complexity of problems, in which such factors as reparations, interallied debts and credits to Russia are inextricably interwoven.

The financial newspaper German Economist believes the present foreign debate on reparations is intended as a useful precursor to the inevitable reopening of the discussion on international war debts, which, for obvious reasons, cannot be launched before the American election is decided.

POSITION UNPARALLELED

The memorandum of S. Parker Gilbert, agent-general for reparations, to the German government, not only served to quicken the ambitions of the debtor nations in this connection, says this newspaper, but is further indication of the extent to which post-war politics are impugning on world economy.

The economist says: "Germany's defeat is in the war accounts for her political enslavement and her inability to work out her own economic and financial destinies. True, England and France also are indebted to the United States, but they are compensated for this by their reparations claims against Germany. Therefore, they are able to ignore or postpone the demands of their American creditors. To this extent Germany's position is unparalleled in modern history."

MARKET NOT STERILE

Addressing the Reichstag's budget committee, D. Hjalmar Schacht, president of the Reichsbank, explained that his opposition to the unhampered scramble for foreign loans is in the nature of an experiment to discover how far the domestic market is competent to satisfy the demands for capital. As it was unable to assimilate 7,750,000,000 marks of interest-bearing securities between 1924 and 1927, he believes after all the German market is not wholly sterile.

In response to frequently voiced misgivings, Dr. Schacht declared that as long as the Reichsbank continues as an independent institution the outbreak of another inflation epidemic will not be permitted.

MAYORALTY CLAIMANT IN NEW MOVE

Indianapolis Lawyer to Cite Negley as Violating Injunction Granted Him

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 30. (AP)—Further court action in the complex Mayoralty situation in Indianapolis was promised tonight by Ira M. Holmes, an attorney, one of the two active claimants to the Mayor's office. Action requesting the court to cite Claude E. Negley, the other active "Mayor," for contempt of court will be filed in Superior Court tomorrow, Holmes said.

Holmes said he will charge that Negley disobeyed a restraining order which the court granted Negley and which restrains Holmes from interfering with Negley's assumption of office.

Tomorrow afternoon Judge Milner in Superior Court will rule on a motion by Holmes to have the court dissolve the temporary restraining order. At the same time Holmes will file his request for Negley's citation for contempt.

Holmes's action will charge that Negley has acted in opposition to the authority, justice and dignity of the court by the posting of armed guards about the City Hall, by the forceful possession of the books, papers, files and property which Holmes said were in his possession at the time of service of the restraining order; by Negley's "apparent effort to change the status quo of the parties to the suit and gain his ends by force under the protection of the temporary restraining order" and by the changing of the locks on the City Hall.

Negley was in possession of the Mayor's office all day. Holmes did not show up at the City Hall during the day.

California University Makes Survey of Projects

Land Development Fifteen Years Behind Water

Result Increases Burden of Irrigation Taxation

BERKELEY, Oct. 30. (AP)—Irrigation facilities are developed for fifteen years in advance of the present extension of improved farm land in the State, a survey made by University of California agricultural experts shows. Results of a study by the agricultural economics division of the university in co-operation with the Federal Land Bank of Berkeley are made public in a recent bulletin.

If future settlement of irrigated land in California takes place at the same rate as during the last five years, it will take from fifteen to twenty years to develop all the land for which construction has already been provided, the bulletin states. As much as 29 per cent of the land provided with irrigation facilities is not yet improved enough to use the water profitably.

Closer relationship between land settlement and irrigation construction is necessary, the university study declares, to save the present many years of taxes added to the farmer's costs before he begins improving his irrigated farm. The lag between the extension of improved land and the development of irrigation construction is an expense to all the land developed, for the longer the delay the larger will be the amount of irrigation taxes paid for a service that has not been used or produced any revenue.

KILLER OF SON GETS MERCY

[Copyright, 1927, by New York Times.]

BERLIN, Oct. 30. (Exclusive)—A father who shot his son because he had become a thief and dishonored the family was sentenced to the minimum punishment of three years in the workhouse yesterday by a criminal court at Griefswald.

The convicted man, highly respected citizen of the city of Anklam, named Heide, learned several months ago that his son, 20 years of age, employed in a municipal savings bank, stole 20,000 marks. Accused of his crime, the young man confessed and begged his father to kill him as he was unfit to live longer. The aged man, of Spartan character, shot his off spring and then turned the revolver against his own head, but succeeded only in wounding himself slightly.

Brunet Held as 'Blond Beauty'

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 30. (AP)—Amelia Grazini, 23 years of age, was arrested here today on a robbery charge and later identified as the girl who had helped Mechi Roma, 21, to rob Henry Delmas of San Francisco of $8 and a watch September 25, last. Roma and Robert Benson, 22, also were arrested with the girl on robbery charges.

Police suspected the girl of being the "blond beauty" who, of late has lured several men to spots where they were held up by either one or two men. The suspicions were being checked carefully despite the fact that Miss Grazini has dark hair and eyes.

Liquor Permits Show Reduction

CHICAGO, Oct. 30. (AP)—Figures made public today by Herman J. Holthoffer, secretary of the Chicago Retail Druggist Association, show 35 per cent fewer permits for liquor prescriptions have been issued this year than last.

He declared that only 600 of the 2000 licensed drug stores in the city hold liquor permits.

Emperor's Boat Steams by Lines of Vessels

TOKIO, Oct. 30 (AP)—The greatest naval review in Japan since 1919 was held this morning and was participated in by 158 warships. The spectacle attracted immense crowds which assembled at every point of vantage.

The vessels taking part in the maneuver included eight capital ships, twenty cruisers, seventy-two destroyers and thirty-eight submarines aggregating 700,000 tons. There were also twelve transports in the fleet.

The ships were drawn up in eight parallel lines off Yokohama and occupied an area six miles long and two miles wide.

The battleship Mitsu with Emperor Hirohito aboard steamed slowly between the lines, while aircraft circled above. The inspection lasted two hours.

To preserve beaver, muskrat and other creatures that are becoming scarce, sanctuaries for wild animals have been established at Curry, Alaska, and at other points in the territory.

CIVIC GROUP BELIEVES IN ADVERTISING

Denver Women Boost Work by Showing Product at Weekly Meetings

DENVER (Colo.) Oct. 30. (AP)—Believing that it pays to advertise and also that charity begins at home, the women's bureau of the Denver Chamber of Commerce has inaugurated a series of exhibitions of their products at the weekly meetings held during the fall.

"We wish to foster a spirit of helpfulness between members," says Mrs. Helen M. Bell, president. Each is urged to patronize fellow-members. Since we are each representative of our own particular fields, there is little danger of overlapping."

The 130 members include milliners, modistes, corsetiers, candy makers, florists, architects, interior decorators and others actively engaged in business or professional life. The only strict qualification is the ownership of the business or the retention of an executive position.

This is the only organization of its kind in the country which has equal representation on the board of directors of the city Chamber of Commerce. The women's bureau hlds one meeting monthly in conjunction with the men's organization.

One of the women's activities is the establishment of a scholarship fund which makes loans to girls who plan business or professional life after schooldays.

LONDON, Oct. 30. (AP)—If the Empire Marketing Board plans work out as they hope, everybody in England will make their Christmas puddings from a recipe drawn up by King George's chef.

In addition Chef Cedard advocates the addition of two quarts of old English beer.

Sauce for the pudding will be made from Empire ingredients.

His store is on the Quai Bourbon, on the Ile St. Louis, an island in the river Seine and he deals largely in period furniture of the various King Louis.

REFUSE TO LET PASTOR RESIGN

Louisville Minister Must Die to Quit Pulpit

Congregation Pays Tribute to Fifty-Year Term

Preacher, Aged 77, Declared Vigorous Worker

LOUISVILLE (Ky.) Oct. 30. (AP)—Death is the only form of resignation which the Second English Lutheran congregation of Louisville is willing to accept from the Rev. Harlan K. Fenner, its pastor for fifty years.

Tribute to his long service was paid at the Evansville convention of the Indiana Synod of the United Lutheran Church in America.

The preacher, aged 77, is still a vigorous speaker and active worker.

The son of a Lutheran minister, the Rev. Simon Fenner, Dr. Fenner was born at Mansfield, O. Beginning "at the bottom" as sexton of his father's church, for which he annually received $60, he paid his way through Wittenberg College and Seminary by playing a cabinet organ for church services on Sunday and giving private lessons on the piano during the week. As organist he received $100 a year.

Dr. Fenner's first pastorate was at Crestline, O., where he spent five years. From there he went to the Second church at Louisville only a few weeks after the congregation was organized with nineteen charter members.

Two years ago, when he sought to resign because of his age, the church refused to allow even the reading of the resignation, unanimously voted that he should remain its pastor until the end of his life, and appointed an assistant.

Looking back over his fifty-five years as a pastor, Dr. Fenner is firm in the belief that young people today are just as active in church work as they ever were.

"If they are not as regular in their attendance upon the preaching service as they once were, that is due largely to the fact that they are more active in the work of the Sunday schools. I am young myself. I have no fight with the young people. When a minister loses the young heart he loses out."

Dr. Fenner still takes an active interest in the girls' and boys' basketball teams of his Sunday school and often goes to watch them play.

Thus does the 77-year-old "man of God" continue to minister to his congregation, preaching to them "what I call the straight Gospel. The preacher must discern the times, but the Gospel always fits."

DECALOGUE DRAFTED BY MEN FOR WOMEN READ IN CHURCH

CHICOPEE (Mass.) Oct 30. (Exclusive)—Men of White Methodist Church tightened up their belts and framed a set of "Ten Commandments for Modern Woman," which they read at church service tonight. It is probable that there will be considerable comment from their wives along the curtain-lecture line this week. The commandments are:

Thou shalt not talk all the time, for verily thy husband may wish to be heard at rare intervals.

Thou shalt love thy husband, if it be possible, and prepare for him such food as he provides, fit for the palate, and at regular intervals.

Thou shalt not meddle in the purely masculine affairs of thy husband.

Thou shalt not spend hours at the telephone in useless gossip, for verily there may be other parties on the line whose business may be of importance. Neither shalt thou delight in repeating unfounded rumors about thy neighbor.

Thou shalt not boast of thy husband before men, remembering that he desireth the good will of his brethren under the yoke.

When thou shalt quarrel with thy husband or when thou findeth it necessary to scold him, make it snappy and forget it.

Thou shalt be patient with thy husband's shortcomings, occasionally exaggerating his good qualities, if he has any, before his fellow-men.

Thou shalt not make a maid servant of thy husband, except in grave emergencies, remembering that thy husband was given to thee neither as a cook nor a dishwasher, but as a man.

Thou shalt not give thy thoughts wholly to dressing, neither shalt thou magnify the importance of thy social engagements, for thy first duty is to thy home and thy family.

Remember that at times it is good for thy husband to be alone. At such times thou shalt not disturb thy husband.

TEXAS HEARS DIVISION TALK

Rising Tide of Political Sentiment Seen

Resulting Gain in Senators Pointed Out

Advantages of Cutting up Huge Area Cited

WACO, (Texas) Oct. 30. (Exclusive)—Talk of dividing the State of Texas into two, three or four States flares now and then when there is a clash of some section of the State with another section in a legislative way, but no serious effort has been made to secure such a division.

However, there is a slightly rising tide of political sentiment which calls attention to the great gain in United States Senators which would result under a division into several States, and these insist that the conditions are radically different in East and West Texas and in North and South Texas, making it advisable, or at least practical, for the State to be cut up into other States, aside from the political advantages.

Under the Gadsden Purchase agreement Texas already has permission from the national government to divide and subdivide into States, hence approval of the State is only lacking. The matter might come to the fore very quickly under certain conditions it is believed. The present Capitol building at Austin cost the State 3,000,000 acres of land in the '80s, but that land was worth little at the time. It ranks as the seventh largest building in the world, is built of granite and is an ornate and imposing structure, but prodivisionists say it is none too good for one State of smaller caliber, should the division come.

Gov. Dan Moody, in illustrating the bigness of the State, said that it is larger than fourteen of the States in the Northeastern United States, including New York and Pennsylvania, with 15,000 square miles added, but even at that some of the older Texans wag their heads, smile and observe complacently that the State is not unwieldy.

The toy whistle is the urchin's solution of the traffic problem. When he reaches the dangerous intersection between his school and his home, he blows his lustiest. His parents then rush out and bring their little precious safely into harbor.

CANADA PLANTS MORE TOBACCO

Growers from Kentucky Take Peninsula Acreage

Commerce Department Sees New Industry

Soil Declared Suited to Growing of Weed

LONDON (Ont.) Oct. 30. (Exclusive)—The steady emigration of tobacco growers from Kentucky to the Southwestern Ontario peninsula bids fair to establish tobacco farming on as firm a plane in Canada as it has been in the State which first became famous for the high quality of mint juleps.

The movement, which began without impetus, now is proceeding under the careful direction of the Trade and Commerce Department, and within the next ten years Ontario, and possibly British Columbia, may take their places alongside other tobacco-producing centers.

A Kentucky planter, who migrated to Canada several years ago and settled in the district north of Windsor, began experiments with the growing of tobacco. He found the soil admirably suited to the growing of the weed and climatic conditions were all that could be desired.

To the Public-Spirited Citizens of Los Angeles:

TODAY, an army of men and women starts upon a long journey -- from house to house, from shop to shop, from office to office - on behalf of the Community Chest. There are 15,000 of them in all -- men who have left their desks, their jobs, their benches; women who have left their homes and their children, to do this work for HUMANITY.

These workers are giving not only their money but their time as well. Their task is to present to the men and the women of Los Angeles an opportunity to contribute, each according to his or her means, to this common fund - to become a part of this greatest of all civic undertakings - this Unified Program of Mutual Helpfulness made possible by the Community Chest.

Your Community Chest holds this money, asked of all who have, for all who need, as a sacred trust - a trust which withholds no warmth from the hand of charity. For the Chest has but taken from the shoulders of one hundred and fifty charitable agencies their burden of continued solicitation, yet leaving them the responsibility of disbursing charity in the true spirit of brotherly kindness.

TODAY or tomorrow may come to your home or office or shop some one of this great army of workers. Make his task pleasant. Make her task short. Give generously. Give cheerfully. Surely, if you live in Los Angeles, they need not argue with you as to the worthiness of this great community appeal.

To reach the goal of absolute, stringent NECESSITY, we must raise $2,750,000. This is barely ten percent more than last year, and last year's fund proved at least twenty percent inadequate to meet the actual proven needs. The city has grown in population, and it has grown in need for charitable and welfare work.

There is only one answer. People must give MORE. MORE people must give. Remember that the thrill of satisfaction in having done your part in a great and generous community movement will last you a whole year -- long after any self-denial caused by your gift will have been forgotten.

William Lacy,
President.

RIVERSIDE, Oct. 30.—With 150 of the 900 couples that he has wedded since his ministry in Riverside present, Dr. Ira W. Barnett of the Calvary Presbyterian Church today conducted the third annual wedding memory service. The pilgrimage to attend this annual October event brings families from all sections of the State and even from abroad to renew their pledges of faith and affection before the pastor who united them.

"The Woman's Part" was the subject of the sermon this morning, a special message on the duties, responsibilities and the inheritance of the bride. Its mission was to untangle the misunderstandings that may have crept into the family life, annoyances that appear to be forcing man and wife to divergent opinions that finally wreck happiness. The woman of the family has a definite part to play, said the pastor, aside from the routine of housekeeping. Upon her rests the foundation of the home and to her is due every respect as she fulfills her mission.

Dr. Barnett's unique annual service has gained wide fame as the "effort to defeat the divorce court." Only two divorces are known among the 900 couples the pastor has married during the last seven years. And many are the rifts that have been healed between husband and wife following this service attested by hundreds of letters on file on Dr. Barnett's study.

Following the service today, scores of the pilgrims who had come to rededicate their vows, with their children, spread picnic lunches in the church parlors rather than seek the doubtful accommodations of public cafeterias. The music today was particularly appropriate and well executed. The program follows:

Prelude, "Bridal Chorus," from Lohengrin (Wagner.) "Wedding Memories."

Baritone solo, "I Love You Truly," (Bond,) Mr. George Hunt

The Lord's Prayer-Doxology (Congregation standing.)

Hymn, "O, Perfect Love, All Human Love Transcending."

Scripture lesson.

Tenor solo, "Because," (D'Hardelot,) Mr. Donald Priestley.

Response, "O, Thou Who Hearest Every Heartfelt Prayer."

Offertory solo, "At Dawning," (Cadman,) Mrs. E. J. Burr.

Postlude, "Wedding March," (Mendelssohn.)

Bagpipers at Mt. Rubidoux

RIVERSIDE, Oct. 30.—The Scotch-Canadian Bagpipe Band of the British Overseas Society of Los Angeles will be one of the features of the Armistice Day sunset service on Mt. Rubidoux, according to Dewitt Hutchings, chairman of the day. The Canadian War Veterans' Club of Pasadena will also participate in the service, according to word received by Hutchings. Canadians are taking particular interest in the ceremony as the services will be given as a tribute to Canada. William Lyon Mackenzie, Canadian Premier, thought unable to be present in person, has written that he will send a special message to be read on the mountain at sunset on November 11.

MASONS DEDICATE NEW LODGE TEMPLE

SOUTH GATE, Oct. 30.—The new Masonic Temple being erected in this city is nearing completion, and a formal dedication of the new lodge building will be held Tuesday night when members of Guardian Masonic Lodge and their families will assemble there to inspect the building and also listen to a program. The principal speaker will probably be Frank Mathews of Huntington Park, who is district inspector.

It is stated that the new temple, which was erected at a cost of $35,000, will be completed not later than Wednesday.

The new edifice is located at Independence avenue and State street, in the central business district of the city. It has a frontage on both streets. The building, a two-story structure, has several store rooms on the first floor, while there are nine office suites on the second floor, besides the large lodge rooms. One feature is a large dining hall, which will have a seating capacity of 200.

The entire building has been under construction for the last three months, and is one of the modern lodge homes in this section. It was erected by C. A. Shaw, local contractor.

ORGANIZE NEW COMMUNITY CLUB

ALHAMBRA, Oct. 30.—A new civic organization, to be known as the South Central Association, is being formed by residents in the district west from Sierra Vista avenue, between Valley Boulevard and Mission Road.

The purpose of the association, according to E. W. Leroy and F. B. Dean, two of its sponsors, is particularly to help property owners in the matter of petitions for improvements which are frequently being circulated and to keep owners informed as to pending and suggested improvements.

OFFICIALS MOVE INTO CITY HALL

Two-thirds of Pasadena's Civic Center Now Becomes Reality

PASADENA, Oct. 30.—Two-thirds of Pasadena's Civic Center goal will be achieved tomorrow morning when for the first time all municipal departments will be installed in the new $1,200,000 City Hall on Garfield avenue.

The city's last effects were moved out of the old City Hall at Fair Oaks avenue and Union street today and the municipal business will be going full steam at the new stand tomorrow.

The City Hall, construction of which was started about eighteen months ago, is the second unit of the Civic Center to be completed, following the adoption of a city plan, designed by Bennett, Parsons & Frost, city planners of Chicago. The city plan was adopted in an effort to direct the future growth and development of Pasadena along ideal lines.

The first Civic Center building to be completed was the Public Library, which opened last spring. City Directors are now considering a plan for the disposal of several pieces of unused city-owned property, the money thus realized to be used for building the third Civic Center building, the municipal auditorium. The city already owns the site for this, but there is no money left in the original Civic Center fund to build it.

Too Much Boost, Think Dairymen

HANFORD, Oct. 30.—Charging that the advertising methods of Californians Incorporated may result in an influx of dairy farmers disastrous to the industry in this State, the dairy department of the Kings County Farm Bureau, at a meeting last night adopted the following: "Resolved that the dairy department of the Farm Bureau of Kings county do go on record as being opposed to such an economic artificial and unethical stimulation of our business by people not engaged in dairying, and that we ask our County Board of Supervisors and all commercial organizations in Kings county to withdraw from and refuse support to Californians, Inc., in any way."

The particular cause of irritation is said to be an advertisement in a certain farm journal urging dairymen from all parts of the world to come to California.

Officers of the bureau elected were: Wesley G. Clark, director; E. R. Blanchard, vice-director, and J. T. Arseno, secretary.

Large Sum for Waste Lemons

ORANGE, Oct. 30.—Culls formerly hauled away to dumping grounds as waste, have netted the growers and members of the Central Lemon Association, Villa Park, a profit of approximately $28,000 for the 1926 crop, according to the report of L. A. Stevenson, assistant manager.

The Orange County Fruit Exchange has utilized the culls, which at one time were dumped away in wholesale lots in the Santiago Creek, through its lemon by-products plant. That which was once a waste is now yielding profits.

The by-products returns were based on a net average to the growers of 44 cents per 100 pounds for the entire crop of culls for 1926. The cull payment brought the total returns received to date by Central lemon growers to more than $250,000, according to Stevenson.

Only about three or four cars remain to be shipped before winding up of the 1927 season, which closes November 1. It is estimated that shipments for the year will total about 350 cars, a slight decrease over last season's shipments.

Harbor Board to Meet Oil Men

VENTURA, Oct. 30.—A meeting of the Ventura county Harbor Commission with officers of the oil corporations operating in the Avenue field is being arranged for some date in the near future. Probably the conference will be held during the present week.

At that time, responsible heads of all the companies concerned in the water shipment of oil from this county are expected to indicate definitely to the commission their attitude toward port development here: whether they consider present conditions reasonably satisfactory or would prefer to dispatch their cargoes through publicly owned terminals to be created.

The conference is being arranged by a committee of two, appointed by Chairman T. G. Gabbert, J. E. Rains of Ventura, and John W. Rooney of Oxnard.

WOMAN SET TRAP FOR HIM

Wily Serpent Outwiled by Turkey Raiser of Fresno County

FRESNO, Oct. 30. (AP)—There are trappers and trappers, but Mrs. A. F. Hatcher, turkey raiser of Ora Loma, Fresno county, is a rattlesnake trapper. Mrs. Hatcher had been annoyed by the invasions of the serpent, who, true to tradition, proved wily, so wily that she could not find him.

One day recently she saw the snake disappear under a large slab of cement. She set and baited a steel trap, and two days later found the rattler in it. The reptile had eight rattles.

HIGH PRICE IS PAID FOR FINE GROVE

Seventy Acres of Oranges Changes Hands in San Bernardino County

SAN BERNARDINO, Oct. 30.—In a transaction involving more than $150,000, Fred R. Leuschen and Lee Roberts, Highland fruit men, have purchased seventy-two acres of choice orange groves on the Highgrove Bench, it was announced today. The property was acquired from the National Orange Company, with headquarters in Riverside.

Negotiations have been pending for several weeks, and final details have just been completed, Mr. Leuschen said. It is one of the largest ranch transactions consummated here for some time.

Twenty acres of the grove is composed of Valencia oranges, the rest being Washington navels. The old crop has been removed from the trees, but the new yield was acquired by Mr. Leuschen and Mr. Roberts. Indications are that a record crop will be taken off during the coming season, Mr. Leuschen said.

All the fruit from the new grove will be shipped from the Highland Citrus Association packinghouse at Highland, of which Mr. Luschen is president. He estimated that the property will add at least fifty carloads of fruit yearly to the output of the Highland plant.

The property is regarded as the best in the Highgrove district, according to Mr. Leuschen. It is located only a short distance east of the town and is in such a location that frosts need hardly be feared. Not once has this grove suffered severely from the cold weather.

Navel Crop Soon Ready

VISALIA, Oct. 30.—Tulare county's navel orange crop will start moving about November 10 or 15. Estimates are for about 70 per cent of last year's crop with fruit of exceptionally high quality, according to county horticultural officials. The fruit is rapidly coloring, especially in the northern districts of the county, according to F. R. Brann, county horticultural commissioner.

Brann declares that Tulare county fruit this year will be of exceptionally fine flavor, but a light yield is anticipated. Navels in the Ivanhoe, Elderwood and Lemon Cove districts will be among the first to mature. Early frosts in the southern sections of the county are said to have retarded fruit in the southern sections of the county.

Face Exploded; Youth Injured

PASADENA, Oct. 30.—Edwin Safarik, 19 years of age, of 2203 Ninth avenue, Los Angeles, was severely burned early today when phosphorous which he rubbed on his hands and face at a Halloween party suddenly exploded.

Safarik sought to amuse his fellow-guests at 1070 Athens avenue, Altadena, by making himself luminous in the dark. Spontaneous combustion resulted. He suffered second and third-degree burns on both hands, his neck and face.

ASK PERMISSION TO STOP TRAIN SERVICE

VISALIA, Oct. 30.—In an application filed with the State Railroad Commission, the Southern Pacific Railroad is asking permission to discontinue service of two Visalia trains, between Visalia and Fresno. The discontinuance is asked on the grounds that the service is unnecessary and not profitable.

Trains which would be removed if the application is approved are: No. 90-99, leaving Fresno at 7:05 a.m., and arriving at Visalia, by way of Exeter at 10:09 a.m., and No. 97-98, leaving Visalia at 2 p.m. and arriving at Fresno, by way of Exeter, at 4:25 p.m.

BUY HOGS AT AUCTION

HANFORD, Oct. 30.—At hog auctions held during the past week by the California Farm Bureau Marketing Association at Hanford, Visalia, Fresno and Tulare, 1914 hogs or twenty carloads were sold for 136 consigners, who received in cash a total of $33,873.80. High price for hogs, $11.30 per hundred, was paid at the Fresno sale.

BACK ON HOME BENCH

HANFORD, Oct. 30.—Judge K. Vanzante, who has been sitting in Orange county by assignment of the Judicial Council, is to resume his position, the bench of Kings county, Monday.

THEY COME IN PAIRS

Seven Pairs of Human Duplicates Found Attending One School in Inglewood

INGLEWOOD, Oct. 30.—Seven sets of twins in one school and all of them no higher than the fourth grade, is believed to be a record, according to Mrs. Ella Friend, principal of the Fairview Heights School of this city.

Of these sets of twins none are of differing sexes, each being both boys or both girls, and only one set is separated in classrooms, these being the Erin twins, Thomas and Royce, who are in the same grade but in different rooms, who are so identical in appearance that the problem of telling them apart was best solved by this means.

It may be that other city school systems may show more sets of twins, Mrs. Friend points out, but it is believed by her that no other single school can show such a record, particularly within the scope of from kindergarten through fourth grade.

Three sets of twins are in kindergarten and of these the youngest are little Ileen and Kathleen Streumpf, the children of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Streumpf of 1319 Chester avenue.

HOBGOBLINS DO THEIR STUFF

WHITTIER, Oct. 30.—Twelve of the prominent men's and women's organizations of the city are to put on the fourth annual community Halloween party here Monday evening on the John Muir athletic field and expect the party will be attended by 5000 or 6000 adults and probably 2000 children.

The idea of a community party originated with the members of the Progress Club, and the undertaking sprang into immediate popularity, with both the youngsters and their elders. The Rotary, Kiwanis and Lions' clubs have taken prominent part each year, and last year the women's clubs were asked to participate. The Whittier Woman's Club, the East Whittier Woman's Club, the Whittier College Woman's Auxiliary and the Business and Professional Woman's Club of Whittier, are all lending valuable aid in making this year's frolic one of the finest yet attempted.

Aside from these organizations, others to participate are the Y.M.C.A., the Spanish War Veterans, American Legion, Post No. 51, the Boy Scouts, the Parent-Teacher Association, girls from the physical education department of Whittier College and others, so that the affair is truly democratic and a community party.

A parade of hobgoblins, ghosts, sprites, fairies and other Halloween characters will form in a parade at the public library and will have a grand march through the business district to the athletic field, where the children will be segregated into groups, according to age, and four such groups will entertain the grand stands with games, contests and Halloween sports.

The parade will be headed by the Whittier State School band and the American Legion drum and fife corps, the musicians remaining on the grounds to furnish music during the evening. The participants will be divided into groups and prizes given to both boys and girls in each division, for the most beautiful costumes and for the most comical or grotesque ones. The merchants have responded generously with gifts for prizes.

CHANNEL PLANNED FOR TUJUNGA WASH

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 30.—As the result of a recent survey of the Los Angeles River Wash in San Fernando Valley, park officials plan for the creation of a 200-foot channel for the Tujunga Wash in the North Hollywood district through the townsite and the new North Hollywood city park of ninety acres. The channel will be for the purpose of confining waters that accumulate during the winter rainy season.

Big Turkey Crop Seen in Valley

RESEDA, Oct. 30.—Turkey ranchers here announce today that they have begun fattening their birds for the coming Thanksgiving market. They state that "fattening time" has started on most all of the ranches in San Fernando Valley, and that this fall there will be the largest turkey harvest in the valley within the last five years.

For some reason, the growing of turkeys in the valley has dropped off considerably within the last few years. This year, however, all hatchings were about 90 per cent of the total of eggs set, and growing conditions followed that saw only a small percentage of mortalities. As a result, even the smallest of vegetable and fruit farms in the valley has an average-sized flock of turkeys about ready for the table.

Many of the birds have been sold in advance to individual consumers who have contracted to call and take them away in the family auto. Ranchers here assert that the national bird is a sort of "fixed commodity" at 50 to 55 cents a pound, and that despite the large valley "crop" this year, prices will be about the same as last.

FATAL INDIGESTION ATTACK

VAN NUYS, Oct. 30.—Funeral services were held for William C. Hayward, 67 years of age, who died suddenly while visiting at the home of Mrs. Blanche J. Chambers. The body was cremated. Death was caused by an acute indigestion attack. A son, Parkinson Hayward of Alhambra, and the widow, who resides at Rye, N. Y., survive.

HOLLOWAY HONORED

VAN NUYS, Oct. 30.—B. R. Holloway, prominent chicken hatchery man in San Fernando Valley and a leader in civic and social activities, has been named Associate Grand Patron of the California Order of Eastern Star. The honor came to Mr. Holloway following the meeting of the grand chapter of the order at Santa Cruz.

A NEW GAME

Farm folk of Belknap county, N. H., will have the opportunity of witnessing a unique competition when a silo filling contest is held on the farm of Harry Rogers, of Province road, near Laconia. A crew of dump carts will race a crew of present day silage racks, and they will be scored on the time required to load a ton of corn in the field and put it through the ensilage cutter.

STOP SALE OF PUBLIC HOLDINGS

Start Referendum Petition at Alhambra to Block New Ordinance

ALHAMBRA, Oct. 30.—Threatening to block the sale of Alhambra's 100-acre share in the tri-city farm south of this city, as authorized by the City Commissioners recently, a group of local citizens have started a referendum petition. The filing of the petition on or before November 21, the date when the farm-sale ordinance would become effective would suspend the operation of the ordinance until after an election.

The petitions asking the city to hold an election on the matter of the sale are now in circulation and are meeting with considerable response, it is understood. An organization is to be formed within the next few days to promote the signing of the petitions and to carry on the fight to hold up the disposal of the property until the people have an opportunity to express their opinion.

The City Commission on the 18th inst. voted to sell Alhambra's share in the tri-city farm to a Los Angeles syndicate, headed by H. H. Cotton, Los Angeles realty broker, for $125,000. Prior to their action the Commissioners had been asked to submit the question to a vote of the people. Pasadena's share of 400 acres in the farm was sold some time ago for $1010 an acre to the same syndicate. South Pasadena still owns a one-sixth interest of 100 acres. Two suits are now pending in the Superior Court, one to partition the property and the other to quiet the titles said to be retained by various parties.

The extension of Atlantic Boulevard, the new Pasadena to Long Beach highway, and the extension of Garfield avenue through the farm were factors in the local sale, as it was thought by many that in this way an immediate development would result for the ultimate benefit of Alhambra and adjoining communities.

TIE ELECTION HOLDS UP INCORPORATION

BELL, Oct. 30.—Although Bell territory voted to become a city of the sixth class a few weeks ago, it will not be incorporated as a city until early next year, according to information now given out, and this delay is all on account of a tie in the votes of George Corby and Roscoe E. Bower, who both received the same number of votes on election day as members of the City Council.

On account of this tie for fifth place, a special election has been called for the voters of the Bell territory, the date being set for December 27, just two days after Christmas.

The member selected by a choice of the voters will become the fifth member, the other four having already been elected, as well as a City Clerk and City Treasurer.

It is likely that the new Council will not be called together until after New Year's Day.

GHOSTS TO WALK AT INGLEWOOD

INGLEWOOD, Oct. 30.—A gaily decorated city, two big parades, one of ancient and decrepit automotive vehicles and all other means of locomotion, and the other of quaintly costumed maskers, and two big costume balls, will feature the biggest, gayest and most dazzling Halloween celebration ever held in Inglewood.

The parades start promptly at 7 o'clock on Monday evening in order to have them over early enough for the participants to attend one or both of the two masque balls, one at the Elks' Club and the other at the Inglewood Woman's Club.

A. F. McDonnell is chairman of the general committee in charge of events, appointed by Inglewood Lodge No. 1492. Fred E. Laxdal is chairman of the parades committee.

MOST POPULAR DRAMA

The first American play to be used as a full evening's bill was "Uncle Tom's Cabin." Before the stage version of Mrs. Stowe's famous book made its appearance every play, whatever its character, was preceded by a curtain-raiser or followed by an afterpiece, and often both were used.

The stage career of "Uncle Tom" began seventy-five years ago. Since that time there probably have been few days—possibly not even one—on which the play has not been presented somewhere in the world, and there have been long periods in which numerous companies have played it simultaneously in several countries and not infrequently from two to five such companies have been rivals in a single city. Companies playing in tents, on steamboats and in many other places converted into theaters for the occasions, have succeeded in the summer months when almost every other kind of play has been withdrawn.—[Kansas City Star.

POSTPONE TRIAL OF LAND CASE

Dispute Involving Many Acres in Northern Counties May Be Settled

FRESNO, Oct. 30.—Possibility that the Southern California Edison Company's condemnation suit involving 18,000 acres of the Madera and Fresno county lands of the Herminghaus estate may be settled out of court became apparent when it was learned that trial of the action has been continued until November 21 by Judge Strother upon stipulation of the attorneys.

The case was to have gone to trial Monday morning. The continuance, according to Edward F. Treadwell, one of the Edison company's legal staff in the action, is for the purpose of giving more time for the conduct of negotiations looking to a settlement of the matter out of court. It was stated at the offices of Roy V. Reppy, general counsel for the Edison company in Los Angeles, that considerable progress has been made toward a settlement.

P. H. Bottoms, one of the owners of the land in question, and spokesman for the Herminghaus heirs, could not be reached today, but a week ago he refused to comment on the subject of a possible settlement.

The Edison company is seeking to condemn the Herminghaus lands, which, with their water rights on the San Joaquin River, were the center of the fight over the water of the San Joaquin, which is needed by the Edison company for its power-development project in the Sierras, east of Fresno. The United States Supreme Court refused to review a California Supreme Court decision upholding the doctrine of riparian rights and preventing the Edison company from impounding or otherwise depreciating the flow of the river past the Herminghaus lands. The present litigation is for the purpose of clearing the way for the Edison company to obtain the water necessary to the power-development project.

Engineers Plan Valley Sewers

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, Oct 30.—Los Angeles sewer engineers are engaged in working out the right of way that is to be followed by the San Fernando Valley outfall sewer, in that section between the eastern city limits of Burbank and Lankershim Boulevard in North Hollywood. A problem has been encountered in the agreement on the right of way that will be approved by Los Angeles authorities and the property owners. In Burbank everything is ready to start on the sewer line that will run from there to the main line at Glendale.

The Chamber of Commerce of North Hollywood has petitioned the city to begin the construction of trunk lines in this district. This work is to be done independently of the outfall sewer construction, the mains to connect with the outfall when it is built through this area. It is believed that the outfall across San Fernando Valley will follow the meanders of the Los Angeles River, to end in the Van Nuys district at Oxnard street and Kester avenue.

Van Nuys will not have to build long connecting lines as will be the case in North Hollywood as the latter town is not on a line with the proposed route of the main across-valley sewer. Large industries have signified their willingness to build plants here and at Van Nuys as soon as they can be assured that sewage outlets are to be constructed.

VETERANS PROMISE TWO DAYS' THRILLS

SAN FERNANDO, Oct. 30.—Two days of thrills are booked for the Baker ranch at Saugus, near here, on November 12 and 13, when members of the Greater Hollywood Post, No. 1508, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will hold a combined feature entertainment at which cash prizes totaling $5000 will be awarded to contestants.

Proceeds of the event are to be used for the benefit of ex-service men seeking employment. Beauty contests, high-diving contests, boxing, roping and riding are among the events on the two-day program.

In addition, Ruth Roland, film star and godmother of the post, will be official hostess of the show, and will be assisted by a number of motion-picture celebrities. Members of the local post are supporting the project.

LEGION POST INSTALLS NEW YEAR OFFICERS

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 30.—John Clapper was installed as commander of the North Hollywood Post, American Legion, in a session conducted in the North Hollywood Woman's clubhouse. Hovden, finance officer; Roland Weckerling, chaplain; Marvin Owens, historian, and George Yingling, sergeant-at-arms.

NEW HONORS FOR HERO OF AIR

City of Wilmar Petitions to Name Boulevard Lindy Avenue

WILMAR, Oct. 30.—This community may have a street named after Col. Charles Lindbergh if a petition to change the name of Dorothy avenue receives sufficient signatures. The request is for this thoroughfare to be called Lindy avenue.

Two streets called Dorothy avenue are now in existence in Wilmar. The proposed name change is designed to eliminate confusion as well as to honor the air hero.

"Daddy" Moll had a fine time showing off before his family and friends who gathered at the park for the game. Moll bumped over the Aviators like a Mack truck on its way with a hungry driver at the wheel. "Daddy" scored three touchdowns while he was in action. Moll would have scored a couple of more touchdowns for the Firemen but the quarterback snapped the ball to other players in the backfield to give them a chance. It would take a strong man to convince any of Moll's admirers who saw him yesterday that Red Grange was in it with "Daddy" as a ball packer. The game ended just as Coach Blewitt was about to call on the Old Volunteer Fire Brigade to fin-

THE BABE AND LOU IN PERSON

Here they are, folks, "Bustin' Babe" Ruth and "Larrupin' Lou" Gehrig, who drew a crowd of 25,000 fans out to Wrigley Field yesterday and then thrilled 'em with their prodigious feats with the willow. Gehrig got a couple of home runs to steal the hero honors away from Ruth and led his team to a 5-to-2 triumph. In the center we have Ruth tossing out autographed baseballs for the kids to scramble for. Down below is an action shew of "Larrupin' Lou" caught in the act of knocking one out of the lot. CHUCK CARROLL

"Chuck" Carroll, Washington's demon halfback, ran all over Whitman Saturday to score five separate and distinct touchdowns, and gained first place in the Pacific Coast Conference scoring race. The Husky flash, who will appear here in the Coliseum December 3, now has ten touchdowns to his credit, and one extra point, making a total of 61.

Morley Drury, Trojan captain, kicked one extra point to bring his total to thirty-five for the season to date, giving him second place. Howard Elliott, another Trojan, is third with thirty-four, and Don Williams, who tallied once against California, takes fourth honors with thirty-two. Butch Meeker, the Washington State pilot, failed to score against Oregon State, but is in fifth place with twenty-eight digits.

The Trojans now have run up 175 points in six games this season, scoring an average of four and one-half

NIBS PRICE AND BEARS ON WAY BACK TO BERKELEY LAIR

Nibs Price and his California Bears left here last night and will be back in Berkeley today. Saturday night the players were guests of Ed R. Maier, former owner of the Vernon club in the Pacific Coast League, at a banquet at Maier's home here.

Irvine Phillips, Bear end, who suffered a slight concussion of the brain when he collided with Morley Drury, was in pretty good shape yesterday. He spent several hours underneath a chiropractor during the day and after it was all over remarked that he preferred football to the spine-bending sport.

Leo Calland, one of the assistant grid coaches at Southern California, had the laugh on Brick Muller Saturday. Leo and Brick used to meet on the field

U.S.C. wallops Notre Dame, 20-0! Fulla Bull, the notorious prognosticator, writes an interesting letter to The Times sports department from his padded sell in Patagonia. He starts courageously with the above prediction, and explains himself as follows:

FULLA BULL

"It's as simple as one of Stanford's triple reverses. The Trojans are as good as Stanford, as the 13-13 score proves. Stanford defeated Oregon, 19 to 0, which makes the Trojans winners by the same score. Oregon tied Idaho, which would mean that U.S.C. would beat Idaho, 19 to 0. Idaho defeated Montana State by a margin of 7 points, which makes the Trojans 26 points better than the Staters.

"Now figure it out the other way Notre Dame trounced Indiana, 19 to 6, a 13-point margin. Harvard trimmed the Boilermakers, 26-6, or by 20 points. This makes the Crimson 7 points better than the Fighting Irish. But Purdue won from Harvard, 19 to 0, making them 26

CAPACITY CROWD WATCHES YANK SLUGGERS PERFORM

Twenty-five Thousand on Hand for Clash; Bustin' Babes Shut Out After First Inning

BY BOB RAY

"Larrupin' Lou" Gehrig provided the home run thrills at yesterday's benefit game at Wrigley Field, the big Yankee first-sacker smacking out two prodigious circuit clouts and leading his club to a 5-to-2 victory over Bambino Ruth's Bustin' Babes before a capacity crowd of 25,000 fans.

Gehrig drove one ball far over the center-field wall past the flag pole in his first trip to the plate, doubled down the left-field line his next time up, and then lined his second home run of the day over the left-field bricks on his third time at bat. All of those three hits were made off Dick Moudy. Ruth was pitching when Lou came to bat the last time and the Bambino retired his clouting partner on a lofty fly to left field.

CHARLEY ROOT

Ruth didn't fare so well at the plate, the big fellow getting only one double in four times at bat. However, the Babe was up against plenty tough competition in Charley Root, the Cub ace, who was bearing down every time the Bambino came up looking for a home-run ball. But Babe played a spectacular game at first for his club and blanked the Larrupin' Lous in the two innings he pitched.

The game itself was a thriller and it must be admitted that the athletes didn't perform as though they were in a benefit clash. There were numerous spectacular catches, with John-

FORMER PRINCETON STARS WIN FROM TEAM OF HARVARD GRADS

NEW YORK, Oct. 30. (AP)—Reviving memories of the gridiron classics that once marked the annual football meetings of Harvard and Princeton former stars of the Tiger defeated an eleven of Harvard grads, 7 to 0, in the Yankee Stadium today.

The colorful scenes that always accompanied the clash of the big three combatants before the break in athletic relations last fall were missing as the veterans met for the announced purpose of promoting more friendly relations between the undergraduate bodies of the two schools. The 1500 chilly spectators were almost lost in the stands of the huge American League ball park.

A dozen Harvard rooters broke out into a faltering but organized cheer as the Crimson appeared and lapsed into silence thereafter. Rather determinedly a husky Harvard grad rose between halves and sang "Harvardiana" and responded to the cheers of even the scattered Princeton rooters with "Fair Harvard" as an encore.

SCORES 73 TO COP LOW GROSS

Wright Second With 75 in Pomona Club Event

Ferguson and Hurst Tangle for Low-Net Award

Robinson Leads Beginners in Girard Affair

Carleton Wright, one of the best known golfers in Southern California, toured his Mountain Meadows layout in 75 yesterday to win second day low gross in the annual club invitational, but Jack Gaines of Girard, twice city champ, copped the tourney medal with a perfectly played 73, Saturday.

JACK GAINES

L. Perry Ferguson, also of Girard, won third low gross in Class A with a 76 Saturday and tied with E. R. Hurst of California, president pro tem of the Southern California Golf Association, 80-8-72, for tournament low net but could not be reached in time for the play-off yesterday afternoon. The trophy was awarded to the progressive executive who is confidently expected to head the local golf association after the next annual election, scheduled for the Biltmore Hotel, Friday, November 18.

Earl Pickett of Virginia, found time yesterday to score a sensational 76 at Mountain Meadows to win low gross in the Class B, nine to twelve handicap division. F. B. Feitshans and W. E. Conner, of the home club turned in 86's to tie for the Class C prize.

Nearly 100 local golfers at Mountain Meadows yesterday swelled the invitational entry list to near the 200 mark—quite a record for a club situated so far from Los Angeles, but every contestant received the most agreeable golfing surprise of the season.

Mountain Meadows offers a perfect test of golf. The layout rightfully boasts of more feature holes than any course in Southern California. With a limited membership, club officials have succeeded in rounding out a test that would be a credit to any organization in the country. Greens are in very fair shape and fairways are good. Like El Caballero in particular, and other championship courses in general, Mountain Meadows offers a test where distances are really deceiving.

T. R. Nesbitt, club tournament chairman, arrigned a competition that met with the entire approval of all contestants. Nesbitt, with other club officials, presided at a hospitality program that reflected considerable credit upon the organization. Earl Forsman, club professional, started Carleton Wright and Porter Kerkoff in the competition and the duo forgot enough championship golf yesterday, to enable visiting amateurs to shoot through to valuable silver trophies.

Low scores in the three divisions of the two-day medal affair that concluded yesterday at Mountain Meadows were as follows:

SOCCER

Three local squads went to defeat yesterday by narrow margins in the Southern California League competition. The Victorias were stopped in their tracks by the Long Beach United at the Los Angeles High School, 4 to 1. The Spanish-Americans lost to Pasadena at the Crown City by two clear goals. The Excelsiors climbed in the league table as a result of a 4-to-2 victory over the Santa Monica Sons, who now have the undisputed possession of the cellar position. The Los Angeles Rangers fell at Long Beach to the Caledonians by three goals to one. The locals gave the league leaders a scare when they held them to no score in the first stanza.

The L.A.A.C. Reserves took the lead of Division Two, when they obtained the only goal of the game against the Rovers at Yosemite ground. The Turnverein Germania remained in the race when they defeated the Italians, 4 to 0, at the Loss Snyder playground. At the San Pedro High School the Magyar Reserves ran wild and scored eight times during the ninety minutes of play, while their opponents, the Scandia, tallied twice. Good, fast and keenly competitive soccer was dished out again by the largest league in Southern California.

MERCURY ELEVEN TIES RICHFIELD

The L. A. Soccer League staged very fast games at Loyola yesterday, when the L.A.A.C. outfit faced the Richfield Oil squad and the Magyars played the Stars of Hollywood.

In the first game, the Mercuries, who were strengthened by the inclusion of G. Allan, were first to attack, but the Oilers gradually forced them back, and, after ten minutes' play, their center found the net. Another combined attack by the Richfield forwards resulted in the center again beating the Mercury goalie.

From then on, the breaks went to the Seventh-street squad, who were awarded a goal after their inside-right had fisted the ball into the net. Shortly before the interval the L.A. forwards succeeded in drawing level. The second half was fast and even, each side scoring once making the result a tie of three goals each.

The second game ended in a victory for Hollywood by five goals to one. The Magyars started out at a terrific pace and held the Sheiks even at one goal each, until one minute before the chance over. However, Parkinson found the net in the last minute to make the half-time score 2 to 1 for Hollywood.

In the second half, the better condition of the Hollywood players was manifest and, toward the end they scored at will, adding three goals in succession. The result being Hollywood 5, Magyars 1.

COMMERCIAL CLUB IN TIE

"Smoky" Michels, Everett Sanders's Commercial Club speed-ball artist, and Barta of the Van Nuys baseball team, engaged in a pitching duel Saturday at Griffith Park, the game ending in a 1-to-1 tie after twenty-five men had gone out via the strike-out route in ten innings. Honors were evenly divided between the pitchers, Michels allowing three hits and walking three while Barta allowed two hits and walked five The fielding of Kingdon, Leathers and Bumiller featured for the clubmen, as did that of Bankston and Brandstetter for Van Nuys. "Bucky" Harris, Commercial Club receiver, hit a triple in the last of the tenth with no one out but could not score as Barta struck out Michels and Leathers and made Bumiller pop to Brandstetter.

POLICE GRIDDERS PLAY 18-TO-18 TIE WITH GOBS

LONG BEACH, Oct. 30.—Fighting tooth and nail throughout the four quarters, the Los Angeles Police Department eleven and Lieutenant "Bull" Durham's battle fleet base force aggregation battled to an 18-to-18 tie score before a crowd estimated at 18,000 persons, many of whom journeyed to the navy field from Los Angeles to see the policemen in action.

In the first quarter the policemen who were favored to win the tilt, appeared to have a big edge on the sailors. The game was hardly under way when the policemen shoved the ball down the field with a series of line plunges which netted them several yards and Dillon, right half for the cops, went around right end for 7 yards for a touchdown. For the remainder of the quarter the police team showed to advantage and gained considerable yardage with their line drives

In the second quarter, Swishelm, quarterback, and one of the outstanding players of the day for the base force, ran 45 yards on the police kick-off. The sailors then commenced an aerial attack which carried the ball to the Cops' 1-yard line. The officers put up a stiff battle and held the Gobs for no gain on two plays before Daniels could dive through center to score.

Not to be outdone the police team came back strong and carried the sailors' kick-off 15 yards back. They were then held for their first down and followed up by driving the Gobs down the field with a series of line plunges and end runs. The officers scored just at the close of the quarter on a 15-yard pass, Dillon to Hill.

In the third period the base force showed to advantage and constantly gained through the line and around the ends. The Police sent in a number of substitutes, but even the reserves and riot squad could not subdue the Sailors who scored two touchdowns before the period had ended. Swishelm was carrying the ball for the Sailors and scored both touchdowns.

At the opening of the final quarter the police team made a strong rally and shoved the ball down the field and finally scored when Rollen went through center for 2 yards and a touchdown to tie the score.

YOUNG NATIONALISTA FACES MIDGET O'DOWD AT OLYMPIC

If Midget Mike O'Dowd can elude the famous right-hand swing of Young Nationalista for ten rounds at the Olympic tomorrow night he should be the favorite.

The Filipino made a poor showing against Bud Taylor here, which gave the public the idea the brown-skinned boy wasn't there any more. But few of the folks who saw Taylor score a technical knockout knew that Nationalista had been sick for three days and came near calling off the fight.

Nationalista should have been at home in bed instead of fighting the bantam champion of the world.

The Filipino is very likely to have O'Dowd on the floor and if he does he may keep him there. Nationalista has had some of the classiest boys in the country in the resin.

Abe Goldstein was down four times, Tommy Ryan was a carpet inspector. Jimmy McLarnin says Nationalista hit him the hardest crack on the jaw he has ever received.

Just a week before Joey Sangor beat Taylor here he fought the Filipino in Portland. Nationalsta had one big round. He nailed Sangor so hard he reeled and reeled, but managed to stay up.

That is the keynote of Nationalista's fighting. He is liable to suddenly get his right hand over with a loop that shakes an opponent's ancestors.

O'Dowd is an improved fighter over his form here a year ago. He is hitting harder. He has always been a flashy boxer. In his last six fights four have been knockouts.

Babe Keller, who stayed ten rounds with Fidel La Barba, was knocked cold by the Columbus Irishman in a round. If that is any barometer on Midget Mike's stuff he doesn't need any further recommendations.

The other ten-round bout between Dario Barron and Jackie Dugan should be a sizzler between two right-hand sockers. Barron has come by spurts, now and then tossing off a bad fight. Dugan recently whipped a boy who holds a decision over Tony Canzoneri.

Dugan is as compactly built as a soda cracker. He fights low on the floor and he loves to mix it. If Barron can beat Dugan he will be just about ripe for any of the 130-pounders.

O'Dowd and Nationalista are making 121 pounds, Dugan and Barron, 130.

DARO ANGLING FOR MAT BOUT BETWEEN STECHER, ZBYSZKO

The wrestler who beat Ed (Strangler) Lewis nine times in ten meetings when the former champion was in his prime, and Joe Stecher, present champion, so decisively that he had to be rushed to a hospital for treatment, is the man "Carnation" Lou Daro, local wrestling promoter, is trying to get to head his next Olympic mat card, November 9. Joe Stecher will be his opponent.

That grappler is Wladek Zbyszko, known as the "mighty son of Poland," who has won the mat tournaments held in all the big wrestling centers of the world. He weighs 235 pounds, is six feet, three inches tall, and is the sheik of the muscle-twisting profession.

Wladek is possibly the most colorful grappler in the game today. Both Lewis and Stecher refused to meet him again as both of these stars needed first-aid treatment in their last bouts with Wladek. Lewis has not wrestled Wladek since 1920 when the latter beat the "Strangler" in Boston in twenty-seven minutes, and Stecher in an hour and a half, in 1922.

Wladek is the younger brother of Stanislaus, the old man whom Stecher beat several years ago to get his title. Before becoming a wrestler Wladek was a full-fledged attorney in Warsaw, having graduated from the university of that city. He found he could make more dollars than rubles at grappling and took to the latter profession. He is now rated as the richest grappler on the mat, owning four apartment-houses in New York; two big hotels in Old Orchard, Me.; and one in Warsaw. Like our cinema stars, he loves to wear a different suit of clothes every day.

The young Pole is still as good as he ever was and if he agrees to wrestle here, the fans may see the title change hands. Daro has Stecher's signed contract to wrestle any opponent the promoter picks for him. Daro picked Wladek, from whom he expects to hear today. What a yell Stecher is expected to put up when he hears about it. He may decide to get sick this week.

To Prosecute Swimmer in Hoax Case

LONDON, Oct. 29. (AP) — Indictable summonses for perjury, News of the World says, have been issued against Dr. Dorothy Cochrane Logan and her trainer, Horace Carey Dr. Logan was the perpetrator of the recent channel swimming hoax. She signed an affirmation that she had swum the channel, but later declared that it was merely a hoax. The case, the paper adds, has been set for a hearing on November 7.

News of the World says that the summonses were procured by Sir Archibald Bodkin, director of public prosecutions, who personally investigated the circumstances of Dr. Logan's adventure, in which she admitted she had spent most of the time of her alleged swim aboard the convoying boat. This was done, she explained, in order to show that it was easy to fake a channel swim, in the hope that her revelation would bring about organized supervision of these ventures

Eastern Grid Leaders Clash Next Saturday

NEW YORK, Oct. 30. (AP) — The University of Pittsburgh and Washington-Jefferson today head the dwindling list of undefeated football teams in the East with six victories apiece, no defeats and no ties. A year ago the Pennsylvania rivals battled to a scoreless tie.

The only other major team with a clear record, now that Dartmouth has been beaten and New York University tied, is Princeton with five victories. Records of the undefeated colleges, and those which have lost only one game follow:

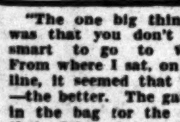
RABBIT PUNCHES

By PAUL LOWRY



IT LOOKS like a clear track for U.S.C. to meet Notre Dame with an undefeated record, and with the Irish cleaning up everything in the East and Middle West their gridiron classic in Chicago next month should take on the aspect of an East-West championship struggle.

U.S.C. has only Colorado and Washington State to hurdle before the Notre Dame battle, and the Trojans should take both in stride. Colorado is not a riot, and U.S.C.'s improvement has been so great since the game with the Oregon Aggies, who beat Washington State Saturday, that the Trojans should win decisively from the Cougars.

Two unbeaten elevens, representing opposite sides of the continent, meeting in Chicago, will mean a sell-out at Soldier Field with everybody scrambling for seats.

The spot will hold 110,000 football customers but the signs are out that all the choice ducats are gone already. Knute Rockne told me in Chicago after the Tunney-Dempsey fight that without a line of publicity on the game the Irish authorities had sold 35,000 seats up to that time. Goodness knows how many have been sold since Notre Dame started mopping up on everybody and the Trojans have kept their score sheet clean.

From far-off Bridgeport, Ct., comes a line from H. Kirby Shellaby, former Angeleno and auto-racing expert who is now making his millions with a brake-lining company. It seems that "Shell" did the very unusual thing for an outsider of crashing the barrier for the Yale-Amy game end he came away very much disturbed that the eastern games lack the color and the spectacle of the western engagements. He says the cheering sections are conspicuous by their absence and the cheer leaders act like one-legged men. He writes as follows:

"The one big thing I learned was that you don't nave to be smart to go to West Point. From where I sat, on the 30-yard line, it seemed that the dumber—the better. The game sure was in the bag for the soldiers but their firing range, particularly with the forward pass, was sour. Ben Turpin could have done much better. Another thing they lacked co-ordination and it did seem that the boys were trying to keep the plays a secret until they were all over. Once the Army had the ball on the 2-inch line and then waited for Yale to build a stone wall which the Army couldn't scale.

"This fellow Caldwell didn't show so much. He shone just like I would in a game of tennis at the old lady's home—sans competition. Had the competition been stiff I think Gerald Pidge could have done better than Caldwell. Just a couple of those deep yells you know.

"Tell your readers not to worry about the eastern football games, but to patronize the old home product and they are sure to get the best in the land.

"Things going pretty good here but I look forward to the day when I can return to God's country."

Arrested at the U.S.C.-California game Saturday—Messrs Abe Roth, Dick Donald and Ace Hudkins.

For scalping tickets, the cops charged.

It started out as a friendly arrangement, Ace buying a ducat from Abe for the face value, but when the arms of the law spotted a ten-buck note down they swooped.

"Come on with me," snarled a copper to Hudkins, "or I'll soak you in the nose."

"If you do I'll soak you right back," retorted Ace.

Explanations resulted in the arms of the law apologizing to the Messrs. Hudkins, Roth and Donald, for their zeal in a matter of circumstantial evidence, and nobody was biffed in the nose. It was a stroke of pure luck for the cops.

OXY THIRD STRING GRIDS FACE FROSH

Occidental's third-string varsity gridiron aspirants are slated for a little battle against the Oxy freshman pigskinners this afternoon at Patterson Field. Coach Kienholz's Tiger Babes rested this week, drawing a bye in the conference schedule, and are planning a week of strenuous labor on the grid in preparation for the contest with Redlands University this Saturday. Coach Exendine's third-raters are a strong crew and though the frosh are a bit weaker than the 1926 aggregation, the Babes figure to run their big brothers a close race for victory. The contest starts at 3:30 o'clock.

NORTHERN PHYSICIANS BEAT SOUTH GOLFERS

DEL MONTE, Oct. 30. (AP)—Shooting a good game of golf, the northern team of the California physicians defeated the southerners 35 1-2 to 24 1-2 here yesterday in the annual North-South tournament. E. A. Noyes of San Francisco carried off low gross honors this morning with a 78, while Le Roy Brooks also of San Francisco was low with a 74 this afternoon.

GIANT PRO GRIDS WIN

NEW YORK, Oct. 30. (AP)—The New York Giants of the National Professional Football League, defeated the Pottsville Maroons today, 16-0. The Giants won on straight football, scoring two touchdowns and two safeties and holding Pottsville to two first downs.

ny Butler, the Brooklyn infielder who played third for Gehrig's club, contributing two star plays. Butler knocked down O'Doul's line drive with one hand in the sixth inning, picked up the ball and then tossed out the fleet-footed outfielder by a stride. On the next play Johnny ran back in foul territory to make a neat catch of Doug Taitt's fly near the box seats.

Wally Hood also robbed O'Doul of a hit in the ninth when he made a one-handed stab of Lefty's torrid drive. However, O'Doul got partially even, but at Root's expense, in the sixth when, after a long run, he snagged Charley's line drive to left center. Dud Lee, Johnny Rawlings and Ernie Orsatti also came up with neat plays, while Gehrig's fielding performance around the initial sack was also worthy of mention. This guy Lou can do other things besides hit.

The crowd of fans that turned out for the affair certainly got its money's worth and the Legion reaped a sizeable chunk of cash for its charity purpose, so everybody ought to be happy.

HIT IN EXHIBITION

Before the contest Ruth and Gehrig thrilled the fans by putting on an exhibition of slugging while Hurler Nance of Seattle, tossed 'em up for the big boys to swat out of the lot. The Bambino drove out several long clouts, a couple of them whizzing past the upper part of the scoreboard out in right center.

The Bustin' Babes did all their scoring in the first inning when they bunched a couple of doubles, an infield hit and a wild heave to first. After Statz had been retired, Dud Lee, who gathered in three hits, doubled to right. Root got two strikes on Ruth and then served up an outside pitch to the Bambino. Babe calmly reached out with his big bat and shoved a double down the left-field line, Lee waltzing home on the hit. O'Doul beat out a hit to French and Ruth scored when the shortstop, who favored a lame arm, heaved low to first. Root then retired Taitt and Haney and the scoring for the Bustin' Babes was over.

Gehrig got one of those runs back in the home half of the first when he drove Moudy's offering over the center-field wall. Lou didn't appear to put much effort in his swing, but the ball traveled on a line over the far corner of the field past the flagpole. "Larrupin' Lou's" bat acted like magic on the pellet and the fans gave Gehrig a mighty cheer as he pounded around the pillows.

Wally Hood doubled to open the second inning and came around the sacks with the tying run on infield outs by Butler and French.

The Larrupin' Lous forged out in front in the third when Beck doubled to right and scored on Gehrig's scorching two-bagger down the right-field line. Jahn walked and then Hood singled across second to score Gehrig.

Gehrig's home run over the left-field wall in the fifth wound up the scoring for the afternoon.

After the game Ruth and Gehrig autographed a number of baseballs and tossed them to the kids to scramble for out on the field. Then the two big fellows, who spend most of their spare moments during the game autographing baseballs and even women's gloves, pushed their way through an admiring throng to the clubhouse.

Ace Hudkins, the Nebraska Wildcat, who fights Joe Dundee for the welterweight championship at Wrigley Field Thursday night, was introduced to the fans and he too had to spend a lot of time autographing.

PLAY AT BEACH TODAY

Ruth and Gehrig will appear this afternoon at Long Beach in the final game on their exhibition tour. A number of stars, including George Sisler, the great St Louis Brown first-sacker, have been signed to play in the game with the home-run twins.

Christy Walsh, who is managing the tour of "Larrupin' Lou" and "Bustin' Babe," announced that the trip through the country has been a great success. Yesterday's crowd, however, was the largest to turn out to see the sluggers, so that ought to prove that Los Angeles fans will turn out at Wrigley Field for baseball provided they get "baseball."

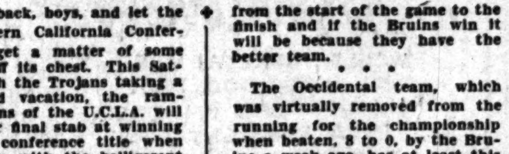
OBSERVATIONS

By The Innocent Bystander
BILL HENRY



STAND back, boys, and let the Southern California Conference get a matter of some moment off its chest. This Saturday, with the Trojans taking a well-earned vacation, the rambling Bruins of the U.C.L.A. will make their final stab at winning the local conference title when they tangle with the belligerent Sagehens of Pomona at the Coliseum. Both teams are undefeated and it is pretty generally admitted that if the Bruins can battle their way past the Pomona eleven, they can graduate into the Pacific Coast Conference with the recollection of having won the Southern Conference title at least once.

On paper the Bruins look like logical favorites to do that very thing. Aside from the fact that they have a student body approximately eight times as large as that of Pomona College, they have lots of good players, a high-powered coach, an excellent record and something of an advantage in the schedule. However, Pomona isn't to be sneezed at either. Certainly the Sagehens can be guaranteed to provide a battle from the start of the game to the finish and if the Bruins win it will be because they have the better team.

The Occidental team, which was virtually removed from the running for the championship when beaten, 8 to 0, by the Bruins a week ago, has at least this one distinction which might well be copied by others. The Tigers so far this year have scored twelve touchdowns and have kicken ten goals. The only two missed were in the Santa Barbara game when a flock of scrubs were running around loose. Against Arizona the Tigers scored twice and kicked two goals and against Caltech they kicked four out of four.

A lot of folks have it in their heads that the Sagehens might bowl over the Bruins in which case they look for a possible triple tie in the conference for there is at least a possibility that the Oxy Tigers will beat Pomona in their final big game of the season. Oh well, these teams don't get the publicity but they sure play ball.

ST. MARY'S IN GRID VICTORY

latter's 10-yard line and fell on the ball as it bounced over the goal line.

The game, for the most part, was a punting duel between Hunting of Gonzaga and Rooney, with the latter holding the advantage for the greater part of the game. In the first quarter Hunting got off some beautiful spirals, some of them traveling over fifty yards, but as the game progressed, and the ball became soggier, Rooney claimed the advantage.

The contest was marred by numerous fumbles, the wet ball slipping out of the players' hands like a watermelon seed. Gonzaga's biggest threat came late in the fourth quarter, when the line poured through to block a St. Mary's punt on the latter's 10-yard line and take possession of the ball. Three attempts to pierce the Saint line failed, however, and a pass over the goal line was knocked down and St. Mary's took possession of the pigskin on the 20-yard line.

Gray, at center, was the shining light in the Gonzaga line, while Baier and Walterskirchan also played good games. Hunting was the star of the Northerners' backfield, while Rooney at half stood out for the Saints.

A crowd of about 1000 witnessed the contest.

BULLDOGS DUE HERE THIS WEEK

The Gonzaga Bulldogs, thirty-one strong, scheduled to tangle with the Loyola Lions Saturday, are expected to arrive in Los Angeles during the early part of the day. Clipper Smith saw fit to bring a large squad for his gridders had two games to attend to before they start on their journey home.

OXY NET MEN ENTER NOVICE PLAY TODAY

Favored to repeat their victories in the Southern Conference and cop their second tennis championship, Occidental's 1928 varsity racket candidates are planning to get into early shape as a result of an open novice tennis championship tournament which opens on the home courts this afternoon. Neither Ben Gorchakoff nor Norval Craig, Oxy's championship doubles machine, will perform in the event, leaving other varsity candidates and freshmen in running for a school title. Dale Robinson and Lee Osborne, two prominent Tiger netters, and Yasu Meano, Word Berryhill and especially Frank Gove are the chief entries. The fair sex is also entered, with Evelyn Maxon, former Puente star and Southland prep champion, carrying the colors

November 26.—Notre Dame at Chicago.

It will be noted that the situation will be considerably cleared up this Saturday when Stanford and Washington mingle at Seattle. Local critics figure that Stanford is quite a bit stronger than California and that the Cards are the chaps to bump Washington off—if Washington is to be bumped off. However, they are also puzzled about the Huskies, trying to figure the actual strength of "Boom" Bagshaw's eleven. When the Seattle team thumped Washington State, 14 to 0, everybody said the Huskies were mighty powerful. But when the Oregon Aggies trimmed the Staters, 13 to 6, Saturday, the dopesters turned around and had another think on the matter. Stanford sank the Aggies, 20 to 6. On the basis of comparative scores Pop Warner's team would therefore rate a slight favorite over Washington, but this edge is probably offset by the Huskies meeting the Cards in their own back yard at Seattle.

TROJANS BEST BET

Right now the Trojans are a better bet to be undefeated—that is in conference games—on December 3 than the Huskies for where Washington has Stanford and California to dispose of on successive Saturdays the locals have only Washington State and they don't come until Howard Jones's boys have had one week's rest and what looms as an easy game with Colorado.

If both teams are undefeated December 3 the Huskies are likely to be favorites, for Southern California has that long trip to Chicago and back to contend with.

Of course, if Stanford trims Washington then the Cards have an equal chance with the Trojans of nabbing the title for California is not now rated strong enough to thump Pop Warner's team. Provided S.C. upsets both Washington State and Washington the Trojans and Cards would then finish in a tie for the championship, with only the tie game between them marring their respective records.

Jones will have his athletes out this afternoon, but may give them the day off tomorrow for their fine work against the Bears. There is plenty of work to do in the matter of working up new plays for the coming games.

Al Scheving, who was knocked goofy in the first half, spent yesterday in the hospital. He received a badly cut eye and for a time it was thought the injury might permanently injure the optic, but after an X-ray everything was pronounced all right. Scheving is light as linemen go but he's hard to beat.

TALK OF TOWN

Capt. Morley Drury and Don Williams were the talk of the town yesterday. It was Drury's devastating dashes which wore the Bears out, and then Williams came onto the scene to manufacture those two touchdowns so neatly. The Trojan players have a world of confidence in both Morley and Don and it's no wonder the way they tear off yardage.

With Williams once more in shape it was thought that Drury wouldn't have to work as hard as he did. But things turned out differently when Harry Edelson was hurt and Jones had nobody to sub for him but Drury. That was just too bad—from a California viewpoint.

Drury's astounding yardage total of 202 yards from scrimmage is still something to write about but it was his ability to slip into a new position so easily that impressed a lot of folks. Morley was prepared to sub for either Edelson or Lloyd Thomas. Most football players can remember what they themselves are supposed to do on every play. When it comes to recalling what the other players are supposed to do, that's another matter. But Drury knew all three posts and ran perfectly in Edelson's position despite the fact that he had never performed there in practice. Morley is a handy chap to have around for he can go in anywhere and perform creditably. With all due respect to Edelson, who is a fine line plunger Drury is the best fullback of the two because he keeps his feet after getting through the line.

The game was dull for the most part with such advertised stars as Stan Keck and Slagle absent from the Princeton team. Both teams fumbled considerably and the only penalties missing from the contest were those of roughness or unnecessarily hard play.

Princeton scored early in the third quarter with Bob Beattie, the ball-carrying headliner of the contest, carrying the pigskin over from the 5-yard mark on a smash through guard.

Proceeds of the game were turned over to the Red Cross. The line-ups and summary:

of battle years ago. Leo never won from California. Saturday the two were walking out through the Coliseum tunnel and some California rooter up above yelled "Hello" to Muller.

"Hello, yourself," returned Brick. "Too bad you didn't win," said the Bear fan. "Wait till next year," he added.

Leo turned to Brick with a laugh. "Well, it looks like the shoe's on the other foot now, Brick," said Calland.

"Wait till next year," used to be the Trojan war cry.

VENTURA GAS LOSSES LARGE

BY HOWARD C. KEGLEY

Natural gas is going to waste in the Ventura-avenue field at the rate of 139,000,000 cubic feet per day. At the customary wholesale rate of 10 cents per 1000 cubic feet this great natural resource is being wasted, in a single oil field, at the rate of $13,900 per day. The retail delivered-to-consumer value of that amount of waste, on the basis of 80 cents per 1000 cubic feet would be $111,200 per day or $1,000,080 in nine days, or a little better than $45,000,000 worth of domestic gas per year.

A tabulation of the gas production in the Ventura-avenue field last week indicates that the output was approximately 220,000,000 cubic feet per day, of which 81,000,000 cubic feet went into the pipe line. The Ventura Fuel Company took 35,000,000 cubic feet per day. Southern Counties Gas Company took 16,000,000 cubic feet per day, and Midway Gas Company took 30,000,000 cubic feet per day, making a total of 81,000,000 cubic feet daily, the remaining 139,000,000 cubic feet blowing away into the air and charged off as a total loss as a great natural resource.

GAS INCREASED

The amount of gas turned into the fuel pipe lines during the last ten days has increased somewhat, as a result of cooler weather and heavier draft on the distributing systems in Southern California cities, but the supply of natural gas has likewise increased, as a result of the completion of at least one enormous well in the last ten days, and two or three big completions within the last few weeks.

Another unfavorable economic feature of the situation is the fact that not all of the natural gas is being run through gasoline absorption plants before being blown off into the air so considerable gasoline is being lost.

The distressing thing about this wastage is that nothing much is being done about it, according to those who are interested in conservation. Gov. Young has appointed a gas conservation committee consisting of Atty.-Gen. Webb, W. J. Carr of the State Railroad Commission; Fred C. Stevenot of the Department of Natural Resources; Bert B. Meek and Alexander R. Heron.

This committee, it is asserted, is planning to hold a series of conferences with the oil, gas and gasoline companies, in order to bring out the facts, and will endeavor to reach some basis upon which the oil companies may be willing to act either individually or collectively in conserving the gas supply by holding back a certain amount of their oil production.

The main companies involved in the situation are the Associated Oil Company, Shell Company, General Petroleum Corporation and Petroleum Securities Company. The Associated is said to have the largest supply of natural gas and the best market for it, owing to large contracts which were made before the several gas pipe lines were built. Shell has a big supply of gas and not a particularly good market for it, according to reports.

TALK OF CONSERVATION

For several months there has been talk of conserving the gas which has been going to waste, but there is no substantial progress in that direction to report. Notwithstanding the fact that the big oil companies are all saying that the country is suffering from overproduction of oil, all of them continue to let their Ventura-avenue wells produce.

On the 8th inst. there were 104 producing wells in the field, putting out an average of 57,000 barrels a day. On the 30th inst. there were 102 wells putting out 53,000 barrels a day. September 3 there were eighty-seven wells putting out an average of 48,000 barrels a day. August 27 there were eighty-five wells putting out an average of 47,000 barrels per day.

Since the quantity of natural gas is dependent to a great extent upon the production of oil, leaders in the oil industry say that the right thing to do is to pinch down a considerable number of the wells and avoid expelling the gas. The Ventura-avenue field is an area of heavy gas pressure, and operators say that certain wells there might be badly damaged by sharply retarding their output, but it is generally admitted, by men who have had experience in the field, that some of the wells yield an extraordinary amount of gas in comparison with the amount of oil they put out.

The gas overproduction problem also manifests itself in the Seal Beach field, considerable fuel being blown into the air there, from day to day, but Seal Beach differs sharply from Ventura avenue, in that it is being intensively drilled and will doubtless show a sharp decline within the next few weeks. From all that can be learned, Long Beach and the surrounding territory should be able to use practically all of the gas that is put out at Seal Beach by December, when domestic gas consumption begins to climb up toward its winter peak.

Neill to Speak Before Mining Engineers Here

The Southern California section of the American Institute of Mining Engineers is planning to hold its first fall meeting at 2200 West Seventh street, November 8, at 6:30 p.m.

The principal speaker will be James W. Neill of Pasadena, who went to Japan and taught that country to manufacture steel. He will talk on his varied experiences in Japan. Mrs. C. V. Craig, president of the women's auxiliary of the engineers, will also be a speaker.

The meeting will be informal, and after the dinner and the program of short talks there will be a dinner-dance. A short report on the recent petroleum production meeting at Fort Worth, Tex., will be submitted.

TEST HAS TROUBLE

Project Near Pixley Unable to Get Water Shut-Off

DELANO, Oct. 30. (Exclusive)—The Federal Exploration Company's test well three miles northwest of Pixley, in Tulare county, is in water which the drilling crew has not been able to shut out, according to field reports.

Drilled to a depth of more than 5000 feet and given two cement jobs, the test has not yet showed indications of oil in commercial quantity, it is asserted.

Much acreage near Pixley has been leased as potential oil land on the strength of the Federal test.

GUSHER AT PASO REAL FEATURES

Penn Mex Completion of 40,000-Barrel Project Main Event at Tampico

TAMPICO (Mex.) Oct. 30. (Exclusive)—A 40,000-barrel producer in Paso Real was the big excitement last week in the Mexican oil fields, the well being the fifth successful completion for the Penn Mex Fuel Oil Company, since it recently resumed drilling operations there after being shut down nearly three years.

Paso Real is a continuation of the Tierra Blanca field, in the light-oil district. The new well is in semi-wildcat territory, indicating that the Paso Real field is one of considerable extent.

Only nine applications for drilling permits were filed last week, and during September only sixty-two were requested, or no more than frequently were asked in a single week during more encouraging times.

September rains and unsettled questions between the government and the oil companies are responsible for the slump. The big Penn Mex strike is an indication that there still is a great deal of undiscovered oil in Mexico, and that activity will greatly increase when matters are completely settled.

PROGRESS ON FREEMAN WELL TOLD

Shell Crew Down 3050 Feet and Prepared to Go Depth Limit

BAKERSFIELD, Oct. 30. (Exclusive) A Shell Company crew is drilling ahead in the Elbe No. 6 well at Round Mountain, known as the Freeman well, at 3050 feet without having encountered oil showings in the lower levels, according to field reports.

The hole has passed through promising sands, it is reported, and Shell, operating the No. 6 and No. 7 wells under an agreement involving eventual transfer of the field to the Honolulu Consolidated Oil Company, plans to continue with the Freeman well until the bit strikes granite, if an oil stratum is not encountered before that depth is reached.

The Bill Beasley No. 1 of George F. Getty, Inc., north of Edison, is going through hard sand at 3200 feet, according to reports. Recent operations in this well have not been productive of oil indications, it is understood.

Standard Oil Leads Leasing in Wildcat Area

McFARLAND, October 30. (Exclusive)—The Standard Oil Company continues to lead the leasing activity in the prospective oil field five miles east of here. To date more than 1000 acres have been recorded in leases from various land holders to the Standard.

Just when Standard purposes to drill for oil on the newly acquired holdings has not been announced. The Superior Oil Company has spudded in a well in this territory, and it is asserted that other companies are looking toward the northern Kern sector. The new district is west and north of the Poso Creek district.

PROPOSE TUBE FOR WILLAMETTE RIVER

PORTLAND (Or.) Oct. 30. (Exclusive)—A tube to carry the traffic under the Willamette River has been proposed for the St. Johns district in Portland. Rather than construct another bridge, the county officials feel that a tunnel would be more practical.

A bridge, were it constructed at this point, would be as much of an impediment to ocean traffic as the Longview span which Portland is fighting so bitterly. The tube, if constructed, would be a mile long, and similar to the Alameda-Oakland tube. It would cost approximately $3,900,000.

New Wildcat to Sink Near Old Zuni Project

HOLBROOK (Ariz.) Oct. 30. (Exclusive)—All is in readiness for spudding in a new oil-test well close to the old Zuni development, twenty-seven miles northeast of Holbrook. The heavy Zuni rig has been moved to the new site, where drilling is to be prosecuted by the Barbara Development Company of New York, which is reported to be financed for 4500 feet.

T. H. Jordan will be in general charge, with G. C. Leckron as driller. Back of the new enterprise is the New York firm of John Goetz & Co. Progress in sinking is reported from the Adamana well, southeast of this city. The local Great Basin Company has a fifty-barrel well at 300 feet depth, forty-eight miles northwest of Farmington, N. M.

MINE VISIT ENDS

Party Returns From Inspection of Estate in Dale Area

Local stockholders of the Arrowhead Development Company have returned from a visit of inspection to the company's Supply gold mine in the Dale district, near San Bernardino, being conducted through the mine workings by General Manager Peter Fox. Much interest was taken in mine development and operations by the visitors.

In recent mine development the Jean shaft has been sunk from the 100 to the 150-foot level, from which horizon a drift is being run on the vein to develop the big body of first-class mill ore exposed in the upper levels. This work is being done preparatory to placing the milling plant at the mine into regular commission.

QUESTION PERMIT VALIDITY

State Supreme Court Asked to Settle Argument Over Drilling for Oil on Tidelands

The question of the validity of the oil development permits issued by Surveyor-General Kingsbury and others applied for on the Rincon tidelands at Seacliff, west of Ventura, is to be heard by the State Supreme Court at Sacramento today.

Kingsbury has issued at least three permits for oil development along the Ventura coast—one to A. L. Hobson of Ventura, as a littoral or riparian owner; one to J. W. Ferguson, and one to A. H. Hawkins, who are permittees not owning littoral or riparian land.

The policy of the Surveyor-General in the last few months has been to reject all applications either filed on behalf of littoral owners or on behalf of strangers entitled to the inland.

Acting presumably, upon the advice of the Attorney-General, it is now the position of the department that the act is possibly unconstitutional, and that the State has no right to alienate for mineral purposes or for oil purposes any lands which it holds for the purpose of navigation, commerce and fishery.

The question involved is constitutional, affecting the sovereignty of the United States, the State of California, the littoral owners and the right of the State to deprive littoral owners of their access to the sea by the granting of permits.

Six separate petitions for writs of mandate to compel the granting of permits are now before the Supreme Court. The petitions of Effie S. Hobson of Ventura, Charles M. Workman and two petitions of lot-owners at Mussel Rock are petitions for granting permits to the owners of littoral or riparian lands.

It is the position of the littoral owners that their title and rights in the tide-lands cannot be divested by act of the State in granting permits to strangers.

Geologists assert that the Seacliff tidal lands are upon a structure capable of producing oil, and thus interest in the oil development is mingled with a question of the legal rights of the respective claimants.

CHLORIDE TO MILL ORE OF TENNESSEE

Report Heard Selective Flotation Plant Plans to Treat 500 Tons

KINGMAN (Ariz.) Oct. 30. (Exclusive)—From Chloride comes the report that 500 tons of Tennessee ore is to be run through the selective-flotation mill of the Chloride Mining Company, which already has been doing much custom work.

The Tennessee ore, carrying lead, zinc, gold and silver, is constant down to the lowest level, around 1600 feet, with several veins that range from five to sixteen feet in width.

The main problem in the past—that of transportation, may be solved by placing a modern concentration plant at the mine. A small mill now is being placed on the old Tintic mine, in the same locality, a property now being operated by Harold Hawks and Will Watchman.

Encouraging news is coming from the operations at White Hills, where a west drift on the 200-foot level of the G.A.R. is in a full face of ore sampling about $15 in gold and silver. The heading is entering a section near the old Hobo stope, from which, years ago, was an output of around $1,000,000. The present development work is from a new vertical shaft, designed to cut several dipping veins.

Development operations, with probability of a mill, are promised for the old Doyle property, in Aubrey district, in the south end of the Walapai Mountains. Transfer has been made to the Greenwood Mining Company, a New York organization, represented by A. N. Huson. The ore is said to sample about $40 in gold, with some zinc.

About ten tons a day of $20 gold ore is being run through an experimental mill on the Dixie Queen property, operated by Ed Mingle and J. D. Blosser.

Gold Ore Plans to Deepen Shaft at Black Eagle

OATMAN (Ariz.) Oct. 30. (Exclusive)—Large importance is attached to plans under which the Gold Ore organization is to deepen to 1000 feet the Black Eagle shaft of the Tom Reed Corporation. Foundations are in place for new and heavy surface machinery, to be installed at once for operation within a couple of weeks. There is to be upraising, to help in the work of deepening, and then will be started an extensive campaign of drifting to Aztec ground. The ore is known to be there, but at present it is too expensive to handle. Gold Ore will share in any profit that may be secured.

Sunnyside has cut about seventy feet into a vein, at an angle, with findings of material that carries good gold values. It is proposed to drift on the most attractive section of the fissure. Also is to be driving on the 535-foot level toward a wide vein that looks well on the surface, sampling some gold.

Gillespie Oil to Drill Tract Near Flagstaff

FLAGSTAFF (Ariz.) Oct. 30. (Exclusive)—The B. A. Gillespie Petroleum Company has leased 30,000 acres of the Campbell-Francis range, which starts about six miles east of this city, and will drill upon it within a short time. The structure has been given close geological examination, with the decision that oil probably lies within it, though at a depth exceeding 2500 feet.

A few miles farther to the eastward, the Sunshine Oil Company, a Canadian organization, made preparations for sinking a well near Canyon Diablo, but appears to have failed to secure backing.

The Gillespie company is an Arizona organization, but to an extent connected with the F. A. Gillespie & Sons Company, a successful Oklahoma corporation, with a number of producing wells. The elder Gillespie, builder of the dam that bears his name across the Gila River, west of Phoenix, resides in Los Angeles. B. A. Gillespie, his son, lives in Phoenix and operates the Red Rover mine in the Camp Creek district.

Cash Bonuses Paid for Trio of Oil Leases

EDISON, Oct. 30. (Exclusive)—Involving $12,800 in cash bonuses, the Honolulu Consolidated Oil Company has acquired a lease covering 640 acres of the William J. Johnson estate in the Edison district, east of Bakersfield. Three transactions were involved.

Florence L. Johnson, Josephine J. Milton and George S. Towne, executors of the Johnson estate, first executed the lease in favor of the Goldfield Consolidated Mines Exploration Company, which paid a $12,800 bonus at the rate of $20 an acre. That company then assigned the lease to F. M. Anderson, retaining a one-twenty-fourth royalty interest.

Mr. Anderson assigned the lease to Honolulu Consolidated. The lease covers the west half of Sec. 2 and the east half of Sec. 3, 29-29.

WILDCAT ON PROGRAM OF ASSOCIATED

Project in Rivera Area Located Near Numerous Fruitless Efforts

The Associated Oil Company expects within the next day or two to spud in its Patterson No. 1 wildcat well in the Rivera district. This project is regarded by many oil companies as the wildest sort of a wildcat, for the reason that eighteen dry holes have already been drilled within a couple of miles of the site.

The project is in the general area bounded by Bandini, Pico and Rivera, and might be termed an outpost of the Montebello district. Efforts have been made to have it called the Pico project, because it is situated near the town of Pico, but the Associated decided to call it the Rivera district, to avoid confusion in office matters, owing to the fact that there already is an oil district established as the Pico Canyon field.

Associated has recemented its Cypress No. 1 well in the Potrero district, owing to water trouble. It was believed that the water was coming in around the shoe, so the cement was used in such a way that it went through the holes in the perforated six and one-quarter inch, and sealed up the space below the eight and one-half-inch casing for about ten feet. This job was done at 4390 feet. As soon as the cement can be drilled out the company expects to drill on down and get a little more producing zone before trying to put the well on production again.

Eastern Capital to Try Revival of Mining Area

RENO (Nev.) Oct. 30. (Exclusive) with eastern capital backing the plan, another attempt to prolong the life of Virginia City mining has been launched. The Bullion, Gould & Curry, Chollar and Savage companies, all pioneer Virginia City producers, have joined forces to thoroughly prospect the Garfield lode from the Sutro tunnel. The Garfield parallels the famous Comstock lode, but has never produced ore to any extent.

Fifty years ago Virginia City was the foremost mining camp of the world and the home of over 50,000 people. Today all the once noted mines are abandoned, and only a village remains of the old mountain metropolis. The upper workings have been worked out, and the lower levels barred by reservoirs of scalding water. The new work is proceeding in a virgin area of the great silver-gold belt, and probably marks the last effort by the mining fraternity to rejuvenate the once prosperous region.

ALAMITOS FATE NEARS DECISION

Expect Early Developments to Determine Future

Hope Centers in Wells on West Side of Fault

Good Indications Reported in Projects Under Way

Recent developments indicate that the Alamitos Heights area, northwest of the Seal Beach field, has another shell to fire, and the next few days should determine whether that meteoric field is to sink still further into oblivion or have another burst of development.

The west end of Alamitos Heights has been rather a disappointment for most of the property owners and operators, because of the discovery that a fault traversed that part of the district, completely changing the geological aspects of the extreme western section. The General Petroleum Corporation's Wasem lease is located directly in the faulted area, and their production has not been such as to encourage much development by other operators.

Operations in other wells near the Wasem property, during the past couple of weeks, have developed indications that profitable production may be found on the west side of the fault, in which event it is probable that a new lease on life will be taken in the Alamitos Heights area.

Such a trend would give the General Petroleum Corporation the unenviable distinction of being situated directly between two distinct producing areas, separated only by a few hundred feet, with good production on all sides, but without much share in it. General Petroleum has played this role on previous occasions, notably at Dominguez and Rosecrans, where it was almost within reach of the real profitable portion of the field.

But it is generally considered among oil men that the trans-fault prospect of Alamitos Heights is the only chance that Alamitos Heights has to get back into the production limelight. The Wasem zone, which General Petroleum discovered, but did not get much benefit from, is regarded as the last of the producing zones in that area, and it has been quite well developed. The upper sands have already been thoroughly drained, and are now producing less than 4000 barrels a day.

SHOWINGS REPORTED

Round Mountain Wildcat Down 2800 Feet in Hard Going

EDISON, Oct. 30. (Exclusive)—The St. Helens Petroleum Company is down more than 2800 feet in its No. 1 well in the Round Mountain district and is in hard formation. Some oil showings have been found.

Activity in the district is growing, with new roads to leases being built and a pipe line projected by the Shell company.

OIL OPERATIONS IN NEW MEXICO

Three Wells in Maljamar Area Making Headway

Gas Flow of Eddy Test Will be Used to Heat Boiler

Caving Hole Handicaps Drilling of McQuigg Project

ARTESIA (N. M.) Oct. 30. (Exclusive)—Three wells in the Maljamar area are making good time and their progress is being watched with interest. The Pueblo Oil Company's Gessert No. 1 on Sec. 1, 17-31, has apparently missed the expected red sand at the 3050-foot level, but a sand resembling the red sand found in the Robinson No. 1, gasser—at 3240 feet has been found in the Pueblo at 3075 feet. An oil showing was encountered in the Pueblo from 3067 to 3076 feet.

The Robinson No. 2 of the Texas Production Company, Sec. 25, 16-31, which is drilling at 2625 feet, appears to be logging like the No. 1 well, completed as a 20,000,000-foot gasser two or three months ago. The Maljamar Oil and Gas Corporation's Beardsley No. 2 on Sec. 15, 17-32, is drilling at 2600 feet. The first show of oil was found in this test at 2575 feet.

In Eddy county, the Hammond test, northwest of Artesia, is shut down to install a control head, preparatory to using the gas flow found in this test for fuel to continue drilling the well. The last gas sand encountered in this test below 1200 feet has materially increased the gas flow in the well, but the exact quantity has not been estimated.

In Chaves county the McQuigg test in the Olive basin on Sec. 7, 5-29, is making slow time due to a caving hole. Drilling is under way below 400 feet. In the same county the Area Oil Company on Sec. 18, 13-31, is underreaming to 760 feet, following the completion of a bad fishing job, which has hindered drilling operations for several weeks.

A statement from the State land office at Santa Fe, says that leasing of State lands in the Pecos Valley recently has become active and that major companies are again bidding for acreage in favored locations.

DAY SET TO START NEW MINE MILL

Plant at Old Silver-Gold Property in Nevada to Operate November 15

RENO (Nev.) Oct. 30. (Exclusive) The Examiner Gold and Silver Syndicate, operating the old Daney silver-gold property near Silver City, announces that its new twenty-ton mill will go into commission about November 15. The company is headed by M. C. Kloskey.

The Daney is located on the Silver City branch of the Comstock lode and ranks among the oldest mines of Nevada. It is said to have been profitably worked by Mormon settlers before the discovery of the Comstock lode, and contains two strong ledges. For several months the plant will run exclusively on ore from the old dumps.

Conditions at the mines and smelter of the Mason Valley Mines Company, near Yerington, are reported as being more satisfactory than at any time since production was resumed two years ago. The management says new ore bodies are being developed in the Mason Valley mine, while value of the extensive deposits in the Bluestone group are improving with depth. The Bluestone concentrator is treating around 1100 tons of ore daily, and the Thompson smelter is handling about 500 tons per day. Over 300 men are on the pay roll.

The famous Valcalda gold property in the Silver Peak district, southeast of Mina, has been acquired by L. Z. Connor and associates of Los Angeles. Arrangements for extensive underground work and erection of a forty-ton mill are proceeding. The Valcalda has been a consistent producer for fifty years, and is said by the owners to have netted $3000 yearly although only worked in a small way.

The Humboldt Sulphur Company is preparing for the erection of a large flotation plant on its holdings west of Jungo, in the Black Rock desert. A powerful engine has been installed, and orders placed for additional equipment. The sulphur deposit is said by the management to be among the largest and richest in the country.

State Metal Association Names Officers

The annual meeting of the California Metal and Mineral Producers' Association, the only organization of its kind in this State, was held at San Francisco the 28th inst. The following officers were elected:

H. U. Maxfield, president; E. C. Hutchinson, first vice-president; A. B. Foote, second vice-president; George W. Starr, third vice-president; G. Chester Brown, secretary-treasurer, and P. C. Knapp, W. P. Henry, E. S. McCurdy, L. A. Bell and Edwin Higgins, directors.

The association has been in existence since 1914. It was formed to promote and protect the interests of those engaged in mining; to obtain betterments in all branches of the industry, and to promote the health, safety and welfare of miners and employees.

Recently the association obtained the services of G. Chester Brown, for many years chief mine inspector for the Industrial Accident Commission, to assist the members relative to accident prevention and workmen's compensation insurance.

CLARK OPTIMIST ON OIL OUTLOOK

Angeleno Declares Industry in Sound Condition

Present Situation Viewed as Superficial, Temporary

Union Official in Texas on Tour of Inspection

SAN ANGELO, Oct. 30. (Exclusive) "Fundamentally the oil situation has never in its history been in as good condition as it is now. Superficially and temporarily the industry has never been confronted with as serious a crisis as exists today."

Thus did E. W. Clark, executive vice-president of the Union Oil Company of California and president of the American Petroleum Institute, summarize the oil situation, when he visited San Angelo with L. P. St. Clair of the Union, and his brother, E. S. St. Clair of Bakersfield. They motored here from Fort Worth with L. P. Byrum, in charge of the Union Oil Company offices in San Angelo, taking the highway to see more of the country.

Mr. Clark explained his statement by declaring that oildom has been generally fearful of an exhausted supply, but that today the industry looks to the future with assurance that there will be enough oil for all purposes for years to come. The temporary crisis exists in overproduction.

With more oil in storage than at any other time in the history of the oil industry, Mr. Clark would not hazard a guess as to the time when depression would lift. He said the problem of overproduction demands a policy of conservation and the keeping of the oil in the ground, to the extent that it is possible.

The American Petroleum Institute, of which Mr. Clark is president, is collaborating with the government now in a policy of conservation, and that is the cure for the existing depression, Mr. Clark believes.

Bradshaw Mill at Goldfield to be Enlarged

GOLDFIELD (Nev.) Oct. 30.—Bradshaw, Inc., has announced that the capacity of its plant at this place will be increased from 900 to 1350 tons daily early in 1928. The company for several months has been reworking the old tailings left by the Goldfield Consolidated mill and asserts that earnings are averaging about $1000 daily.

The company demonstrated its ability to recover net profits from the old dumps after several unsuccessful attempts by other interests. The plant will be closed about December 1 for the winter, as no provisions have been made to prevent the freezing of solutions.

The White Caps Company reports that gross earnings are averaging $32,000 per month, with 800 tons of $40 ore shipped to the Mason Valley smelter. The management says that the ore body on the 1220-foot level is fourteen feet wide, marking one of the most notable developments in the history of Nevada gold production at depth. Good ore is under development on the 1120-foot level, where the west ledge has been recovered in new ground. The property is at Manhattan.

Gas Showings Encountered in Delano Project

DELANO, Oct 30. (Exclusive)—Strong gas showings have been recorded and "decidedly encouraging indications of oil have been encountered in the Wallace No. 1 well of the North American Oil Company, east of Delano, which is being put down as a test of approximately 5000 acres controlled by the company in that area.

Although the well has not reached the stage where a conclusive test is deemed advisable, the hole at 3400 feet shows "favorable formations," it was stated by T C. Kieruff, president of the developing company.

North American leased extensive acreage in the Delano area and decided to drill a test well there early this year after more than a year of geological investigation.

If the Wallace well, being drilled on the Walter J. Wallace vineyard property three miles from Delano, becomes a producer, it will be accepted by the company as proving the entire area under lease and will result in a drilling program of real importance, it was indicated in the statement by the president.

United Republic Purchases Mill of Oatman Mine

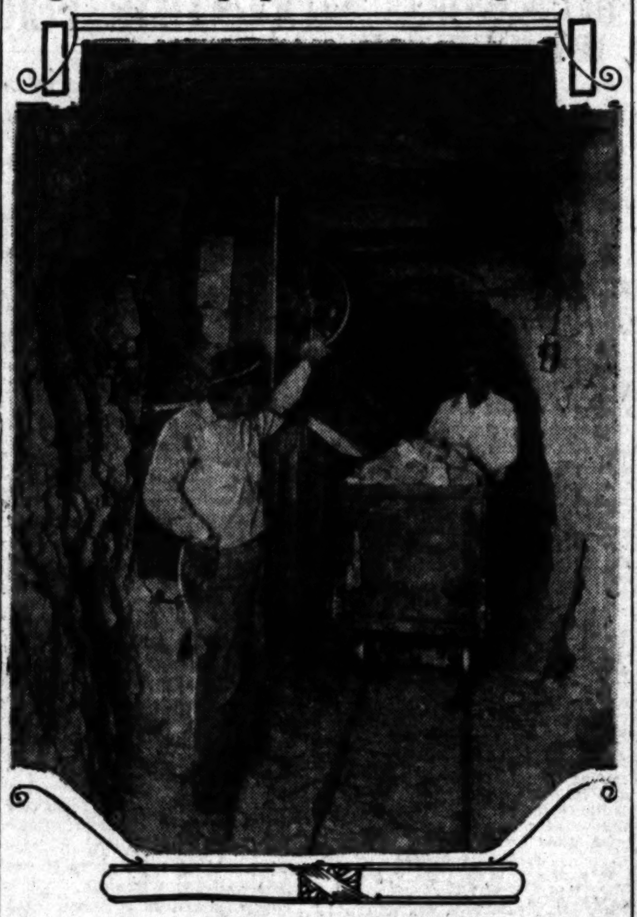
The United Republic Gold Mines Company of Los Angeles, extensively developing and equipping its Century silver-lead mine in Mohave county, Ariz., will not erect the proposed fifty-ton plant, but has purchased the practically unused 150-ton mill of the Oatman United Company at Oatman.

The machinery and equipment of the Oatman plant are being dismantled and will soon be delivered at the Century mine, where excavations and foundations are about ready for the reinstallation of the reduction works, which should be ready to go into commission within thirty days. Milling practice includes ore treatment by oil flotation. A Diesel engine of 100 horsepower and a twenty-five-horsepower semi-Diesel engine will provide power for mine and mill operation.

A five-drill air compressor has been added to the machinery equipment of the mine. The company is employing two shifts in developing the large silver-lead deposits of the property and large tonnage of ore of excellent shipping and milling grade are being blocked out.

MINE'S MILL GETS UNDER WAY

Argentena Equips Nevada Property



Loading Mine Car From Tunnel Chute

Property at Goodsprings begins working profitable ore. Capacity of plant can be doubled without interfering with daily operations.

WITH the completion last week of its comprehensive development and construction program, extending over a period of a year and a half and involving an expenditure of approximately $300,000, the Argetena Consolidated Mining Company is now operating on a definite production basis, according to company officials.

The last unit in the company's construction program—the new mill and concentrating plant—was finished and placed in operation last week. The mill, which has an initial capacity of from fifty to eighty tons of ore per day, was designed so that its capacity can be doubled without interrupting operations.

Prior to beginning its construction program the company sufficiently developed its ten mining claims in the Yellow Pine district of Nevada, to demonstrate that large bodies of silver, lead, zinc and vanadium ore were available, and that the installation of plant and equipment for economical and scientific mining operations was justified.

In its exploration work the company carried nearly 3000 feet of drifts and tunnels, opening up ore bodies estimated by George A. Tweedy, mining engineer in charge of the work, at 100,000 tons, with an estimated profit value of $10 per ton.

After blocking out these ore bodies, the company proceeded with the construction of its mill, power plant, pumping plant, aerial tramway, loading stations and other necessary facilities.

Sufficient water has been developed at Goodsprings, in the company's own well, to meet all requirements of the mine, and at Goodsprings the company installed a modern power plant with a 250-horsepower Diesel engine directly connected with an electric generator.

The power is conveyed to all parts of the mill, mine and camp by the company's own line, approximately three miles long. Water is pumped from Goodsprings to tanks at the mill site.

The aerial tramway, 2500 feet long, conveys the ores by gravity from the upper loading station at the adit tunnel level to the mill, and to the loading bins for shipping ores. In the mine workings all ores are handled by gravity through a system of chutes, which bring the ores down to the adit tunnel level.

Through the adit tunnel the ores are taken to the upper loading station, where they pass over sorting tables and through a jaw crusher before going into the tramway bins. The shipping ores and milling ores are placed in separate bins, and are handled separately by the tramway.

INNOVATION DUE IN OLD MINE FIELD

Leasers to Employ Long Drill Method on Tract of Mohawk Ground

Taking advantage of the "long-drill" method of mine and prospect exploration, an innovation calculated to revolutionize former prospecting methods, Capt. John A. Hassell and Jack O. Donnell of Los Angeles, have obtained a two-and-one-half-year lease on a block of ground covering a portion of the Mohawk gold mine at Goldfield, Nev., this drilling method having been successfully used by the big mines in Butte, Mont., the Chief Consolidated in the Tintic district of Utah, and the Tonopah Development Company at Tonopah.

The lease covers a surface area of 550 by 1000 feet, by 600 feet in depth, in the heart of the richest mineralized section of Goldfield, and in the exploration of unexplored, undeveloped and unworked section within its boundary lines work is already under way by the employment of the "long drill" system of prospecting.

This method calls for the use of a heavy type drifting machine, using jointed rods attached to the drill stem. By this method, it is asserted, holes can be drilled at any angle between five and forty degrees, to a length of 350 feet, at a rate of forty feet daily, and at a maximum cost of $1 a foot. Assaying the sludge from the holes at every five feet gives a log of values encountered.

NEW GROUP TO OPERATE OLD ESTATE

Lucky Dream Company Plans for Opening Up Contention Mine

PHOENIX, Oct. 30. (Exclusive)—About 60,000 tons of milling ore, with 10,000 tons of $20 ore already blocked out, is reported in sight in the old Contention mine, twelve miles north of Phoenix. Development, under charge of E. M. Crabtree, is to be prosecuted by a new incorporation, the Lucky Dream Mining Company of this city.

Two shifts are being worked in the mine of the Wenden Copper Company, in Cunningham Pass, in Northern Yuma county. Extension of development on the 1000-foot level of the Barkdoll shaft has been discontinued and efforts are being concentrated on plans for shipment of ore from the 500-foot and 800-foot levels.

Steady operation of a ten-stamp mill is reported from the Vulture mine, under charge of Engineer D. R. Finlayson. He is backed by a new Coast corporation, which hopes for large profit in exploration of the great pioneer ore body, from which millions of dollars in gold have been taken.

The Palo Alto Mining Company, a local corporation, headed by Charles Stevens, is driving a long tunnel on its group of eleven claims at Silver King, to cut a promising silver-copper ledge.

Ross Cross-Cut Tunnel Due at Goal Shortly

In a letter to stockholders of the Comanche M. & R. Company of Los Angeles, the statement is made that the Ross cross-cut tunnel, being run in the extensive development of its property in Mono county, is expected to reach the Kerrick vein by November 15, next. Soon after making this connection arrangements will be made for the construction of large reduction works, and the installation of a hydroelectric plant for mine and mill power, according to Charles A. Palmer, president and general manager.

At a meeting of the board of directors on the 18th inst., plans were perfected for the financing of mill and power plant construction, and it was announced by the management that shipping ore being extracted in present development operations would practically pay all expenses of underground exploratory and development work now in hand.

GAS PROMOTER SPUDS IN WELL

J. W. Miller Starts Wildcat Near Farmington

Other Oil Operations in New Mexico Field Told

FARMINGTON (N. M.) Oct. 30. (Exclusive)—J. Warren Miller, who proposes to furnish Farmington with a natural gas supply, and who plans to obtain gas in the San Juan Petroleum Corporation well, Sec. 17, 29-13, spudded in a new well on the Markley estate Wednesday. It has one of the best rigs in the district and is expected to tap the Pictured Cliffs sand.

William Poole and C. B. Peebles have moved a rig on the Fred Lawson place in East Aztec and are rigging up to spud in at an early date. The objective is a gas sand at about 700 feet.

The Great Basin Oil Company, operating on the Mancos River structure twenty miles north of Shiprock, drilling on the No. 9 well, has reached a depth of 340 feet. This well is one location of about 500 feet south of well No. 8. There was no showing at that depth, although production was encountered shallower in the No. 8 well. It may be the drill will have to go on down to the Dakota sand in this well, which should be around 500 to 600 feet. They plan to drill three more wells to test out the productive area of their 800-acre and 4000-acre leases.

Messick & Bell, drilling the Congress Oil Company well on Sec. 34, 29-11, has reached the bottom of the hole in cleaning out, with a 50 per cent increase in the gas flow. They will start drilling deeper to ascertain if the sands of the immediate formation have been fully tested.

The Huerfano Oil Company well in the Bloomfield district, on Sec. 25, 29-11, has been plugged back to the first producing sands at 617 feet and is standing. No test has been made.

The Huntington Park Oil Company reached a depth of 4180 feet this week and encountered a heavy flow of wet gas that caused some caving, which caused the company to stop the drill and send for 5 3-8-inch casing.

The outlook for production is said to be encouraging. It is believed that the drill is at the top of the Mesa Verde sands. This well is in the Blanco district.

The Co-Ne-Mo Oil Company, operating in the Kutz Canyon district on Sec. 28, 29-11, has its rig on the location and is waiting for the approval of its bond to start drilling. It expects to start the drill next week.

Copalitos Ore Samples Given Milling Tests

A 200-pound sample, consisting of mine-run ore from the Pilar vein of the Copalitos M. & S. Co., operating in Sinaloa, Mex., has been submitted to experimental milling tests in Los Angeles, with results reported to be quite satisfactory.

Leslie Dutro, writing from the mine, says: "In Pilar No. 2 tunnel we are making ore rapidly. The face is in solid ore and has been for sometime. The ore body is large, running better than eighty or ninety ounces in silver to the ton. At the present time there is enough ore in sight to keep a 100-ton mill in service for a long period. Raises from the tunnel levels soon be made on the ore bodies, and it is the intention to connect the two tunnels by cross-cut, primarily for better mine ventilation, but at the same time extending the area of development work."

Mine Exhibit at Arizona State Fair Attractive

PHOENIX, Oct. 30. (Exclusive)—One of the most attractive displays at the Arizona State fair is that of the mining department, housed in a separate two-story building, under superintendence of W. J. Graham, an experienced miner.

Several representatives of the school of mines of the State university will be in attendance during the week for demonstration of ore treatments and explanation of rock textures.

More than 10,000 ore specimens are in place, ranging from great slabs of malachite down to small nuggets of gold, while many unusual minerals and formations are shown. Mining machinery has its own place, with addition this year of a small working model of the new Phelps-Dodge lead smelter at Douglas.

DEEP ZONES HOLD PROMISE

Development of Old Fields Below Present Levels Seen as Best Prospect for New Production

The best prospect for new production in California oil fields at present appears to be in the development of new zones in old fields, rather than in the discovery and development of new producing areas, in the opinion of oil men.

The outstanding example of this development of new zones in old fields is Signal Hill, where wells headed for the deep sand are starting at a rate which almost rivals the first days of the field's development. Other instances of such development are to be found in the various fields of the Fullerton district, such as Coyote Hills and Yorba Linda.

Signal Hill naturally offers the most interesting possibilities along this line because of the division of the field among several dozen operators, and on account of the unusual thickness and richness of the deep zone which, from preliminary exploration, appears to equal the best of the upper sands, and in some cases exceed all the upper zones combined.

Development so far indicates that in some places the deep Signal Hill zone is more than 700 feet thick. The greatest penetration has been obtained by the Richfield Oil Company in its Booth No. 8, which set its water string at 5280 feet, and stopped drilling at 5930 feet, still in the oil sand. Most deep-zone wells, prior to the Booth No. 8, were satisfied with 200 or 300 feet of oil sand, picking it up at 5200 or 5300 feet, and stopping at 5300 to 5500 feet—occasionally going as deep as 5700 feet.

An indication of what the operators think of the possibilities of the deep sand at Signal Hill is seen in the action of the Superior Oil Company in starting work on four wells at once, all headed for the new zone. Besides this activity Richfield, Shell Company, California Petroleum Corporation, and a dozen small operators are planning immediate drilling. One operator estimates that thirty deep zone wells will be drilling within thirty days, and that a hundred will eventually be put down.

The program in the fields near Fullerton is still of a more or less exploratory nature. The success which the Chicksan Oil Company, and the Standard Oil Company have had in developing the Kraemer sand at Yorba Linda, and Herndon and Hunter's deep sand work in the East Coyote Hills field indicate that a really prolific deep sand is to be found in other fields of that area, although it is unlikely that any of them will prove to be as important as the Signal Hill zone.

EARLY SHIPPING OF ORE SIGHTED

Lead-Zinc Ledge of Promising Values Opened Up

Development on Property Proceeds Uniformly

MAYER (Ariz.) Oct. 30. (Exclusive)—The Arizona Redlands Copper Company, while working on a definite development program, is looking toward early shipment to the Humboldt mill, of ore from a recently opened lead-zinc ledge on the 850-foot level. Samples run up to 30 per cent zinc and about 10 per cent lead, with additional values in gold and silver.

The mine comprises the old Minor group, five miles east of Mayer. It was acquired two years ago by a California corporation, which thus far has spent about $200,000 in opening it up, with a main shaft 467 feet deep and with much lateral work, which is to be extended to undercut a promising parallel ledge.

There has been a large amount of diamond drilling, said to have established the continuance of a broad body of milling copper ore. Surface improvement includes a fifty-horsepower hoist, a new pumping plant and a well-equipped camp. L. J. Soper of Phoenix is president and C. J. Pinson of Beaumont, Cal., consulting engineer. Headquarters are in Phoenix.

The Blue Bell Mine of the Southwest Metals Company, closed with that company's Humboldt smelter, again is to be operated, shipping ores for concentration.

Harley A. Sill, a Los Angeles metallurgist, announced that the old Tip Top mine, in the Bradshaws, again is to be in operation early in November, together with its mill. The mine was a dividend payer as early as 1879.

HANDICAP AT TEST

Lack of Water Slows Up Drilling of Richfield Project

McKITTRICK, Oct. 30. (Exclusive) The Richfield Oil Company test well on Sec. 10, 29-17, in San Luis Obispo county, west of the McKittrick field, is drilling in blue shale at 1400 feet, according to field reports. The well presumably is going through the Santa Margarita formation.

Scarcity of water has proved to be a serious difficulty in the sinking of this well. Hardly enough water is available for the boilers, rendering the supply for drilling extremely short. Quality of the water also has proved a disadvantage, it is stated, it having been necessary to shut down operations a number of times to scale the boilers.

Idaho Copper in Move to Boost Output of Mill

The new milling equipment being installed at the Iron Dyke mine of the Idaho Copper Company is expected to increase the capacity of the plant from 100 to 350 tons daily, while the ore now being mined and treated is carrying a higher gold and copper-silver content than any heretofore broken in the mine. The new equipment includes a ball mill, classifier and filter, this installation predicting an increased percentage of recovery of the metal content of ore handled.

Prospecting by means of diamond drilling is still being carried on in the Deep Creek sector of the Red Ledge mine holdings, and with most satisfactory results, while the driving of the long transportation and operating tunnel of the Red Ledge has been greatly facilitated by the installation of new machinery, including a 150-horsepower Diesel engine, a new drill air compressor, and a mine ventilating system, all of which is working perfectly.

WHALERS DUE ON QUEST HERE

Sea Products Fleet Slated to Arrive Today

Los Angeles Waters to Be Combed for Mammals

Shipbuilding Project Up for Consideration Today

Headed by the factory steamer Lansing carrying a crew of 100 men, the whaling fleet of the California Sea Products Company of San Francisco is due off San Clemente Island this morning. As they did last winter, the fleet will establish a base from which they will comb the waters off Los Angeles for the mammals said to be in great profusion this season.

The fleet comprises the Lansing and the three killer boats Hawk, Hercules and Traveler, recently back from a rich harvest off Alaska, expected to be eclipsed by the present expedition. Capt. F. K. Dedrick, president of the company, also is in charge of the expedition.

The fleet's appearance at San Clemente follows the vacation of that field last week by the Los Angeles Whaling Company, recently formed with local capital. The latter's fleet, comprising the mothership Coronado and the killer boats Clemente and Barbara, based at the island a month ago and the killers were reported averaging two whales each daily. They were under Panaman registry, however, and when they put into Los Angeles Harbor with cargo they were seized by customs officials, who asserted regulations state such cargo from foreign ships is dutiable.

The backers' evident desire to comply with the law, however, is expected to be considered by Washington, and a decision looked for in two or three days mitigating part of the punishment possible, which could constitute confiscation of ships and cargo, it is said.

In the meantime the San Francisco fleet, an American flag concern, is on the ground. Whether the Los Angeles Whaling Company's fleet will change to American registry or whale off Lower California as the Mexico Whaling Company's local fleet soon will do, is unknown. A libel filed by a local ship supply house for upward of $7000 of asserted unpaid supplies also will have to be cleared up before the Los Angeles fleet goes to sea again.

SHIPPING BOARD TO HEAR LOAN PLEA

Plans for a fleet of thirty-five-knot passenger liners have so impressed the United States Shipping Board that the latter tomorrow will listen to New York shipbuilders' plea for a loan from the board's construction fund maintained to encourage American shipbuilding.

Also, the plans of the New Yorkers include proposals for a fleet on the Pacific as well as on the Atlantic Ocean. The latter would be traversed in four days and the Pacific in eight. Even this time might be eclipsed by a day or so when the proposed airplane connections are used. The top decks would be airplane platforms, whence planes could hasten freight and passengers the last day or so from shore.

Twenty-foot models simulating all conditions of a big ship have impressed Shipping Board officials in demonstrations at Washington. Assertions are that despite their increased speed of 50 per cent over existing liners, these ships will require half the fuel and a third the crew, due to improvements in marine engineering.

One company already has been formed with a view to building ten 20,000-ton liners of the type for the Atlantic service, if aided by the government fund. Recent rumors link the Pennsylvania Railroad and the Boveri Company with the project, the terminal of which would be Montauk Point, Long Island, the eastern end of the Pennsylvania lines.

The "K" Line freight steamer Pacific Maru, Capt. K. Kashiwa, put in for bunker oil yesterday and will sail south tonight, bound from Japan to Manzanillo with 2350 tons of briquet coal for the cruisers Asama and Iwate. She then will return here for case oil and general cargo for the Orient. The cruisers have just concluded a visit to both American coasts with 200 midshipmen, and will sail home via Hilo from Manzanillo.

Six undesirables of as many nationalities were deported by local immigration officials on the Scottish Standard yesterday, all for Europe. They include an Englishman, Scotchman, Irishman, German, Hollander and a Jamaican, all having "jumped" ships in the harbor. One, C. P. O. Witte, had been an electrician for years in San Diego till he ventured to Tia Juana one day and could not get back. John Tumulty, the Irishman, was making his escape when two colliding autos hit him afoot at West Basin.

The liner Ecuador will take three Mexicans out today, and two Japanese and a Chinese went north on the Ruth Alexander yesterday for deportation from San Francisco. Bulimaro Sanchez, having been deported twice before, goes south today again after serving 150 days in jail. Two Dutch boys were sent home yesterday, after being picked up begging for postage stamps in Wilmington. They are off the Grootendyk.

Count Felix Von Luckner's four-masted auxiliary schooner Vaterland is reported sought by a motion-picture company under charter for a year's trip to India. The craft has been on a leisurely trip around the world, remaining here the last three months. The Count is lecturing in the Middle West. The Kaimiloa, of similar type, which put in from Hawaii two weeks ago, is reported for sale.

M. H. Scott, veteran border inspector for the Immigration Service, has been transferred to Los Angeles Harbor, and reported for duty yesterday. This gives C. G. Gatley, inspector in charge, four inspectors, two clerks and one runabout auto of ancient vintage. The station still is without a boarding launch, the inspectors being compelled to ride launches of other government services in boarding vessels.

A thirty-foot sloop owned by A. Garnet of Hollywood was stolen from Long Beach Saturday night, but recovered yesterday when M. Oldman, guard, apprehended a boy on the craft up coast. The youth slipped out of Oldman's car on the way to the police station and escaped. The boat was returned minus only an anchor.

RECORD OF WELL UNUSUAL

Project on Bastanchury Ranch Near Fullerton One of Most Economical and Unique Rotary Jobs

One of the most interesting and economical rotary well drilling jobs that has ever been done in California was recently finished on the property of the Bastanchury Ranch Company near Fullerton. The hole was drilled a mile and a quarter south of the West Coyote Hills oil field, and while it failed to produce oil, it did develop into an excellent water well, which is being used by the ranch company for irrigation purposes. The fact that most wildcat wells drilled by rotary to a depth of 4500 feet or over cost upwards of $75,000 makes the Bastanchury project's history particularly interesting.

Much of the credit for the accomplishments in this test well is credited to the co-operation of the Union Oil Company. The Company, because of joint interests with Gaston Bastanchury in the planting of their fee lands to citrus fruits, furnished and serviced most of the equipment used, and loaned one of its best drilling crews.

The well was drilled with regulation rotary equipment. A seventeen and one-half-inch hole was drilled to 2907 feet; a twelve-inch hole to 4762 feet and a ten and five-eighths-inch hole to 5580 feet. No showings sufficient for a test were found, so the well was abandoned without setting casing other than 677 feet of sixteen-inch surface pipe. This was set after the well had reached 3438 feet, not necessarily to protect the hole from caving, but for use in making a water well should the hole fail to yield oil.

255 DAYS REQUIRED

The time from commencement to completion of drilling was 255 days. Of this time, less than one-half was actually used in drilling because only one shift was employed, the first forty-three days, for an eight-hour tour, thereafter for a twelve-hour tour. Thus the drilling time was only 120 full days, and this included about eight days for setting pipe and making repairs to machinery.

About sixty-six full days were consumed in drilling through 1500 feet of hard formation, more than half of which had to be drilled with hard rock bits. This being a test well in new territory, the upper part of the hole was cored where possible at frequent intervals and the lower part almost continuously.

Three things prompted the procedure of drilling with only a daylight tour. All of these have their distinct operating, as well as economic advantages. In this manner the entire hole was drilled by one driller, giving him complete knowledge of every foot of the hole with all attendant conditions and placing upon him entire responsibility as to handling of the equipment and as to drilling progress. The idle twelve hours of the day were used in having the night watchman circulate the hole with mud. This enabled the use of thin mud, giving greater continued penetration into the formations, and thus forming a better, more perfect mud wall. During the entire period of drilling, even after one or two forced shutdowns for repairing equipment, there were no cavings in the hole. Drilling only in daylight hours enabled the driller, as well as the geologist, to observe closely the character of formations and any showings of gas or oil at intervals where no cores were taken.

Above 2907 feet there were only nine fishing jobs with partly used six-inch drill pipe. All of these occurred in drilling hard rock with disc bits. According to a survey made after drilling was finished, this was probably one of the most uniformly straight holes ever surveyed in any territory.

FORTY-FOOT CORES TAKEN

Another important feature developed in drilling this well was the taking of forty-foot cores in formations not too hard for that amount of penetration by core bits. This was first tried after the well reached about 4800 feet. Barring several of the first of such attempts, where the method was still largely experimental, full recoveries were usually had. The ordinary core barrel had to be changed somewhat. It was important to devise some new means of holding such a great length of heavy core material in the barrel.

LOW COST OF WELL

In view of the new methods and conditions outlined above, it is interesting to note the low drilling cost of this test as compared with the average cost of other wells of similar depth. Had not 1500 feet of hard rock formation in the middle and lower portions of the hole been encountered the cost would have been reduced still more. The total cost was less than $30,000. The well was later converted into a water well and turned over to the Bastanchury Ranch Company for $6000, which is the average cost of such water wells, including casing. If this amount is deducted, then the total cost of drilling the test for oil to a depth of 5580 feet was less than $25,000.

Officers Check Woman's Story of Riddled Car

Police authorities yesterday were checking up the statement of Mrs. John Wynkoop of San Francisco that the bullet-riddled automobile found near San Jose Friday and registered in the name of John Wynkoop was stolen from in front of her apartment Friday night.

Mrs. Wynkoop claimed the car yesterday. Wynkoop, a former Federal prohibition agent, has been the object of a police search here on the charge of owning and operating a still, and has been at liberty on bail pending appeal of a conviction on a charge of embezzling government property.

While claiming the car, Mrs. Wynkoop told the authorities in San Francisco that she was certain her husband had come to Los Angeles before the machine disappeared, and equally certain that her husband was "not in the car" when it was "shot up."

However and notwithstanding, when Murray said good morning to the judge the sentence was $15 or fifteen days, and when his pockets were found to be richer in lucky charms than cash, Murray went to jail.

ORDINANCE CLASH DUE IN COUNCIL

The City Council is scheduled to clash this morning over the adoption of the ordinance of intention for the widening to ninety feet of Wilshire Boulevard from Alvarado street to Figueroa street.

At the Council meeting a week ago, Councilmen Hall, Ingram, Jacobson and Martin protested against the asserted attempt to "railroad" this ordinance through the Council and their votes postponed action until today.

Councilman Hall of the Eleventh District, where the thoroughfare in question is located, is opposing the ordinance on the ground that it will not be worth the $2,000,000 it will cost the 400 lot owners in the assessment district, as the widened street will have stub endings at Figueroa and Alvarado streets.

Suicide Attempt Laid to Quarrel

Mrs. Grenal Rockwell, 25 years of age, of 616 West Sixty-first street, was taken to the psychopathic ward of the General Hospital for observation last night following an asserted attempt to end her life by swallowing poison as the aftermath of a quarrel with her husband, L. Rockwell.

Mrs. Rockwell was treated first at the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital, where Police Surgeon Saverien stated that she will recover. Her removal to the General Hospital followed an asserted threat made to Police Surgeon Phaff that she would seek to end her life again at the first opportunity.

The quarrel which is said to have occurred between Mrs. Rockwell and her husband, followed a juvenile spat between their two small children. The parents are said to have disagreed as to which child was in the right.

HERE'S MAN WANTS TO GET INTO JAIL

Rev. Harry Mays, 6240 Compton avenue, wants to get into the County Jail. His unusual request is contained in a communication addressed to the Superior Court. However, Mr. Mays does not ask to be confined; he merely wants to be admitted. He says he is a "vitalic healer" and he wishes the opportunity to treat narcotic addicts now held in jail through laying on of the hands. Rev. Mays recently arrived in this city from Akron, O.

TOURISTS POUR BACK INTO CITY

Thousands Glad to Be Home Again as Rate Limit to East Expires

East is East, but Los Angeles is home—so declare the thousands of Californians who are arriving daily at the Santa Fe and Central stations from trips to the middle western and Atlantic Coast cities.

The time limit on the summer tourist rates expires tonight on all the railroads, which accounts for the great influx of local residents from eastern points.

The Santa Fe, Union Pacific and Southern Pacific trains have been carrying extra sections on their westbound trains all week. Saturday the Santa Fe's California Limited arrived in four sections, carrying more than 150 persons to a section. The crack train which arrives here today over the same line is expected to come in in four sections.

Both the Southern Pacific and Union Pacific westbound trains have been arriving in two sections during the past week and the travel today is expected to be heavier than ever.

NEBLETTS INVOLVED IN DIVORCE

Partner of McAdoo Files Action for Decree Against Popular Violinist

Asserted harsh mental notes, totally different from the soulful tones she drew from the violin with the delicate touch of her bow disrupted the harmonious married life of William H. Neblett and his wife, Leona Walton Neblett, talented violinist and music instructor, Neblett sets forth in a suit for divorce. He is a member of the law firm of McAdoo, Neblett & O'Connor.

According to Attorney Robert B. Jackson, representing Neblett, the complaint charges Mrs. Neblett with mental cruelty and desertion. Jackson also said that Neblett will demand the custody of the 6-year-old son.

Mr. and Mrs. Neblett were married nine years ago and came to Los Angeles in 1920. Since January, 1925, Neblett has been a partner member in the law firm headed by William Gibbs McAdoo, former Secretary of the Treasury. Mrs. Neblett is well known in musical circles in this city, both as a violinist and music instructor.

The couple maintained their home at 21 Twenty-first street, Hermosa Beach, until they separated a year ago. Since that time Neblett has lived in Beverly Hills, while Mrs. Neblett continues to reside at the beach, the complaint states.

WORKERS IN GAS PIPING WIN FIGHT

Unions Lose Attempt to Have Installation Done by Licensed Plumbers

Over the opposition of the unions, the Board of Building and Safety Commissioners has started under way a plan to enable experienced installers of gas piping and appliances to obtain licenses to do this work in Los Angeles. The unions had attempted to have all this gas-pipe fitting and appliance work done by men qualified as sanitary plumbers. This provision would have forced the gas companies, which as a service to their consumers employ men to connect gas appliances, to hire licensed sanitary plumbers for this work.

The Board of Plumbing Examiners has been instructed by the building and safety commission to hold examinations for this newly designated work of installers of gas piping and appliances.

Commissioner Antram of the safety commission, said that the board is anxious that no hardship be visited upon any industry by reason of the new plumbing ordinance which goes into effect tomorrow.

'Deceased' Wife Returns After Husband Weds

Thomas A. Young did not suppose that anyone would mistakenly inform him that his wife was dead, so upon being told by an acquaintance that Mary Young, from whom he had separated years before, had died, he believed it, wherefore he married Willa Nelson.

A few weeks ago Mrs. Mary Young appeared on the street. She caused plenty of trouble in the new Young family, Young told Judge Sproul.

"I was amazed when I saw her," Young said. "I had thought her dead years before.

"My present wife and I knew we could never live together happily under these circumstances. So we wish to have our marriage annulled so that I can obtain a divorce and marry her again."

"Lor' Lumme," Cries Sailor, in Ecstasy

And He's Right, Too, Isn't He?
May Hayes and Isabel Feeney.

"MAN and boy I been goin' to sea for nigh on thirty year, and Lor' lumme, never I see a voyage where a ship carried more pretty lookin' women. Scuttle me if the decks ain't alive with 'um this trip. You writin' fellers ought to put a piece in the paper about it."

Thus a veteran sailor on the liner City of Los Angeles addressed local ship news reporters this week-end as they clambered over the side of the great liner at quarantine.

Purely in an altruistic academic spirit, and in the interest of accurate journalism, the reporters deemed it their duty to check up on the sailor's assertion, and found it to be accurate. If anything, it erred on the side of conservatism.

Liner Calawaii Takes Part of Record Consignment of Airships and Accessories

Aerial defense of the United States in the Pacific took a decided forward movement when the Lassco liner Calawaii sailed from Los Angeles Harbor this week-end bearing the first installment of a total consignment of twenty-three carloads of airplane parts for the Naval Air Station at Pearl Harbor, Hawaii.

Included in the consignment are ten complete planes to augment present aerial equipment at the island navy base. Four of these, heavily crated, were loaded athwart the forward deck of the Calawaii in the largest packing cases ever seen at the local port. Each extends the entire width of the ship and looms so high that Capt. A. A. Sawyer barely is able to see the bow of his ship from the bridge.

The remainder of the equipment and the other six planes temporarily have been stored in the Lassco warehouse at Berth 156 to await future sailings. The liners City of Los Angeles and City of Honolulu each will take a share of the planes one week and three weeks hence, respectively, and four weeks from now the Calawaii will clean up the job when she sails again for Hawaii.

The planes and equipment were constructed at east coast factories and sent overland for shipment from this harbor. The contract for their overseas transportation was awarded the Los Angeles Steamship Company and represents one of the largest single shipments in the history of that company's Hawaiian service.

Sailing on the Calawaii was A. W. Van Valkenberg, secretary of the Honolulu chapter of the National Aeronautic Association, who is enthusiastic over the aid to Pacific aviation given by the Navy's latest addition to the Pearl Harbor aerial forces.

STORM AND SEA RESCUE RECOUNTED

Round-World Ship Arrives Here After Eventful Trip From New York Harbor

Carrying ninety-seven passengers, sixty-three of them with Los Angeles as their destination, the round-the-world liner President Adams drew into Los Angeles Harbor at sundown yesterday after a rather eventful voyage from New York.

The vessel rode out a terrific typhoon in oriental waters and rescued ten persons from a sinking schooner in the Caribbean, near the Panama Canal. The schooner, the William E. Burnham, was waterlogged and sinking and had hauled up a distress signal which was sighted by Carl E. McStay, field secretary of the Automobile Club of Southern California, a passenger. The crew of six and the captain, his wife and their two children were taken off in a lifeboat after which the schooner was burned.

Others aboard were Col. L. S. Chappelear, who has been Adjutant-General of the department of Hawaii; W. Y. Smither, general superintendent of the Broadway Department Store, and his wife; George B. Anderson, manager of the Los Angeles Railway Company, and Asa Candler, Jr., son of the Coca-Cola king.

AIDE TO HAYS WILL OUTLINE FILM PLANS

With representatives from all of the electrical utilities and industries in Los Angeles scheduled to be in attendance, Jason S. Joy, personal representative of Will Hays on the Pacific Coast, will outline plans of the Los Angeles motion-picture studios for the coming season at the weekly luncheon meeting of the Electric Club today at the Biltmore. Today's meeting will be conducted by J. Hunter Clark of the Power Bureau.

DIVORCES GAIN ON MARRIAGES

Divorce gained several laps on marriage in Los Angeles county last year, relatively speaking, according to statistics released yesterday by County Clerk Lampton for the twelve months ending June 30, last.

Marriage licenses issued totaled 16,827, an increase of 560 over the previous year. Divorce suits filed were 9726, an increase of 557. While the numerical increase of marriage licenses was larger by three than the increase in divorce suits filed, the ratio of increase is substantially lower.

The situation is even more strikingly displayed in the figures on divorces granted. These numbered 7090 last year, the increase being 965 over the previous year, a gain of approximately 14 per cent. Marriage license issuances increased less than 4 per cent.

And when final decrees entered are considered, a tremendous increase is shown. Last year 5600 marriages were dissolved by final decree of divorce, as against 3978 the year before, the increase being more than 40 per cent.

Exclusive of domestic litigation, 27,968 civil actions were instituted last year as against 27,803 the previous year. Criminal actions increased from 2516 to 2581.

SEARCH FOR DEATH CAR FUTILE ONE

Doubt Cast on Tourist's Tale of Tragedy by Lack of Proof in Search

A month's search in the desert near Daggett by highway patrolmen of the Automobile Club of Southern California has failed to bring forth the remotest clew to the whereabouts of an automobile reported stranded in the sandy waste bearing the mummified bodies of four women and a boy and the matter last night was considered a closed incident.

Lawrence J. Callaghan, a tourist, said to be from Memphis, telephoned the highway department of the automobile club about a month ago giving meager details of what he said he saw in the desert, resembling an old automobile bearing the bodies.

Callaghan gave an address in the East, but efforts to locate him have been unfruitful. He told the club attaches at that time that he saw the car and bodies, but was too terrified to make a preliminary investigation or leave marks by which the road could be retraced. He ignored all authorities of the law between here and Daggett, to whom such a report ordinarily would be made, it was pointed out.

The club highway patrolmen have scoured all secluded roads in the Daggett district with the aid of several pioneers of the region, who doubted that such a tragedy could have occurred on the desert in these days without discovery in a comparatively short time.

LOCATION OF NEW STATUE CONSIDERED

Hillside Being Prepared in Forest Lawn Park for "Mystery of Life"

The final choice of a permanent location for "The Mystery of Life," an original masterpiece in marble, which recently arrived here from Italy, is being made by officials in charge of its erection. The sculpture is the work of Prof. Commander Ernesto Gazzeri, Italian artist.

Art critics who have been shown pictures of the statue declare that its tentative location on the sloping hillside of Forest Lawn Memorial Park is too low for its proper display. Engineers then were engaged to plot the hillside and after a study of their report, final choice will be made and the statue unveiled as soon as possible.

"The Mystery of Life" is an allegorical piece, twenty feet long and containing eighteen life-sized figures. It centers its action on a stream of water which emerges from the rocks to flow for a short time in the sunshine, then to disappear again to an unknown destination.

Elaborate ceremonies are being planned by Hubert Eaton, at whose request the statue was made, for its formal presentation to public view. It is the largest single piece of statuary in Forest Lawn and took the sculptor three years to complete.

FIVE KILLED IN CRASHES

Two Children Among Victims of Automobiles, With Three More Persons Expected to Die

Five are dead and three near death as a result of week-end automobile accidents. Eliphalet Patte, 12 years of age, of Inglewood, a victim, according to deputy sheriffs, of a hit-and-run driver, died at the Methodist Hospital yesterday as the result of injuries received late Saturday night, when he was struck by an automobile in front of his home. The driver of the car, it is stated, did not stop.

J. T. Barnum, 34, of Montague, who died yesterday at the San Dimas Hospital, was the seventh victim of the accident near San Dimas station Friday when a Santa Fe train hit a construction truck. Six others died a short time after the accident.

Ernest Fhitley, Jr., 3, living on Carmelita street in West Maywood on the edge of Huntington Park, heard his grandfather's truck coming up the street Saturday and dashed out to the road to meet it. A few seconds later he lay crushed and broken under the wheels of the lumbering vehicle. He had run to his death as his grandfather, without seeing the child, swerved to back into the yard.

PRONOUNCED DEAD

The boy was hurried to the Huntington Park Emergency Hospital, but physicians pronounced him dead. The grandfather, Frank Atha, collapsed when he discovered what had happened.

Anthony Damian, 74, of 1014 North Oxford avenue, was hit and killed, when he attempted to cross that street late Saturday. Walter Winninger, 41, of 1072 North Oxford, a laundry driver, is being held on a homicide charge by the police, as the driver of the car which hit him. William H. Medille of 369 North Wilton Place, who says he witnessed the accident, declares that Winninger was traveling at a high rate of speed without lights. Winninger admits that he had been having trouble with his lights and that they might have snapped out temporarily, but says that he was running slowly and that Damian stepped out into the street from behind another car and that he was unable to see him until it was too late.

Otto Enyeard, 20, of 225 South Fourth street, Montebello, died yesterday at the Mercy Hospital in Whit-

TRIAL TO BE SET TODAY FOR HUERTA

Ex-President of Mexico and Four Others in Plot Case Due Before Court

Adolfo De la Huerta, former provisional President of Mexico, and four co-defendants are to appear this afternoon before Federal District Judge Henning to have the date set for their trial on a charge of violating the United States neutrality laws.

The former Mexican President was arrested last July with Francisco Ferriz, Louis Gayon, Frank Thayer and Alfonso Gomez Morentin, following the seizure of a truckload of arms and ammunition near the international boundary line just north of Nogales. All five defendants entered pleas of not guilty and are free on bond.

The arms and ammunition were destined, it was said, for revolutionary forces in Northern Mexico.

The case is the second of its kind to be tried in Los Angeles Federal courts within a year. Enrique Estrada, former Mexican Secretary of War, now is serving sentence at McNeil Penitentiary with thirteen of his military aides as the result of an attempt to "invade" Lower California with a rebel army.

PAVING AUTHORITY ASKED

The Board of Public Works asks the City Council for authority to start proceedings for the paving with eight-inch cement concrete of Country Club Drive from Rimpau Boulevard to Robertson Boulevard.

HOME CORNER-STONE LAID

Ceremonies Conducted by Temperance Union at New Refuge for Aged Women

Impressive ceremonies yesterday afternoon marked the placing of the corner-stone of the new $200,000 Southern California Home for the Aged. The building now is under construction at 2235 Norwalk street, Eagle Rock, under the direction of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, and the stone-placing was the closing event of the forty-fifth annual convention of the organization, which had been in session for the past six days.

The new home will replace the present building at 215 South avenue, which has been operated for the last twenty-five years by a board of directors selected from the members of the temperance organization. These quarters are too small to accommodate all women making application and eligible for admission, according to Mrs. Celia M. Noll, 6469 Santa Monica Boulevard, president of the board in charge of the construction and operation.

COMPLETION DATE

The new building will be completed about January 1, 1928, according to present schedule and will accommodate 100 women, all of whom will be more than 65 years of age, the age limit being one of the first requirements for entrance.

The structure is to be a modern, fireproof building, three stories in height and containing offices, reception rooms, dining-room, kitchen and an auditorium with a seating capacity of 250. The sleeping quarters all will be outside rooms.

Short talks were made by various members of the board of directors at the dedicatory program conducted in the unfinished assembly room, which preceded the corner-stone laying. More than 500 members of the W.C.T.U., State officials and those who aided in financing the new building were present.

Among the several who told of their experiences in the campaign for the home was N. H. Leonard, 620 North Ross street, Santa Ana.

CONTRIBUTOR SPEAKS

Introduced by Mrs. Noll, who presided, as the donor of the largest single contribution to the building fund, Mr. Leonard told of saving each week since he was 16 years of age and having accumulated $10,574 when his financial assistance was asked some months ago. This saving, according to Mr. Leonard, accrued through his refusal to use tobacco in any form, and he knew of no better cause for this fund than

GOLFER KILLED BY SON'S SWING

Ben H. Wesley and Youth on Practice Fairway

Victim Was Officer of Auto Supply Company

Death yesterday ended a father's Sunday morning golf game with his only son when Ben H. Wesley, 40 years of age, died as a result of injuries received in an accidental blow from a golf club in the hands of his 13-year-old son, Donald. The accident occurred on the practice fairway of the Fox Hills Country Club.

Details of the tragedy were not ascertained yesterday as there were no witnesses and the son was prostrated with grief at the family home, 4452 Dundee Drive.

STRUCK IN NECK

Wesley was struck in the neck just below the base of the left jawbone, either while standing at the left and slightly to the rear of the boy or directly in front. In the first case, officials declare, the blow must have been struck on the follow through of the club, while in the second, it could only have been caused by a down-stroke, probably as the father reached for the ball accidentally rolling from the tee.

Attendants at the club and players at near-by tees ran to the spot when the boy screamed. Wesley died a few moments later and the child was rushed to his home by friends.

Actual cause of the man's death will be ascertained at a Coroner's inquest to be conducted today, it was stated, although it is certain that death was accidental.

HERE FIFTEEN YEARS

The slain man for eight years had been general auditor of the Western Auto Supply Company with offices at Eleventh and Grand, according to information in the Coroner's office. He had been a resident of Los Angeles for more than fifteen years, coming here from the East. Besides the son, he leaves a widow, Mrs. Belle Wesley.

Funeral arrangements will be made later, it was announced at the undertaking parlors of Herbert H. Noice and Son of Culver City, where the body was taken immediately after the tragedy.

WATTERSON TRIAL WILL OPEN TODAY

Embezzling Case to Begin in Independence Under Judge Lambert

The trial of W. W. and M. Q. Watterson on charges of embezzling more than $400,000 in funds of the Inyo County Bank, of which they were officers, is scheduled to open at Independence today.

W.W. WATTERSON

The bank, with its headquarters in Bishop and branches at Big Pine, Independence and Lone Pine, together with the National Bank of Bishop, another Watterson institution, closed on August 4, last.

The Wattersons posted notices on the doors stating that the tactics of the city of Los Angeles in the "water war" had caused the banks to shut down. When State Superintendent of Banks Wood arrived on the scene he caused the notices to be torn down and issued a statement to the effect that huge embezzlements of the bank's funds had caused their closing.

M.Q. WATTERSON

The Wattersons were charged with embezzlement of the banks' funds and with making a false statement of the banks' conditions to the State Banking Department in June. Their trial had been set for early in October but when the case was called Dist.-Atty. Hession moved the disqualification of Superior Judge Lehy. The judge disqualified himself and Superior Judge Lambert of Bakersfield was called to try the case. All of the past proceedings in the case were declared null and void, a new jury panel was drawn and the case will start anew today.

To date the Wattersons have not indicated what their defense will be.

BASHFUL when separated, but decidedly otherwise when together, according to their friends, are the two sets of triplets who met yesterday afternoon at the home of a friend, Miss Mallie Taylor of 3995 South Van Ness avenue.

Devonia, Elizabeth and Lilian De Laney, daughters of Mrs. Elizabeth De Laney, of 874 West Fortieth Place, are just under 17 years of age, their birthday being due in December, while Ramona, Reona and Orena Bever, daughters of Miles Bever, real estate operator, of Anaheim, were 17 in August.

NEW JULIAN TRIAL DELAY SEEN

Second Motion for Continuance in Action Against Two Score Money Lenders Indicted After Corporation Crash Expected to Be Granted by Court

A second postponement in the trial of the two score or more of money lenders indicted on usury charges as an aftermath of the Julian Petroleum Corporation crash is reported in prospect when the cases are called today before Judge Doran of the Superior Court. It was learned definitely yesterday that a continuance of the actions will be asked and that Judge Doran probably will grant the motion for a postponement—the second such motion submitted since the indictments were returned.

Originally, those indicted were scheduled to go to trial September 15, but a continuance was granted until today by Judge Stephens of the Superior Court, who is now handling the work of another department of the court.

On the eve of the calling of the case, it was also reported that Dist.-Atty. Keyes will submit a motion for the dismissal of the cases against those of the men under indictment who have made restitution. Rumors to this effect have been current about the Hall of Justice for the past week, in spite of a previous announcement by the prosecutor that no further dismissals will be sought.

ONLY REAL GHOSTS MAY PLAY TRICKS

Police Ban Laid on Imps' Halloween Street Pranks; Playgrounds Divert Youth

Rather more safely and sanely than in the past, the city will celebrate Halloween tonight, with children participating in appropriate programs at twenty-one of the major playgrounds and adults giving vent to the spirit of the occasion in the downtown section and elsewhere.

However, the horseplay and rowdyism of the past will be curbed as far as possible under orders of Chief of Police Davis. Those engaged in vandalism of one sort or another will be treated summarily by the police, he announced.

The children of the city have been invited to let loose in the playgrounds, where costume parties, ghostly revels, old-fashioned games, parades and music and dancing will be the order of the evening. In the downtown district, where the adults are expected to disport, confetti and ticklers will be barred and bars of soap will have to be left at home. Cafes and places of entertainment are prepared to receive heavy crowds.

Viaduct Will be Dedicated Soon

Dedication of the new 1000-foot viaduct bridging Pico street and serving to eliminate the grade crossing at this point, is scheduled for Wednesday, when city and county officials, together with Pacific Electric executives, will join in an inspection of the structure.

D. W. Pontius, vice-president and general manager of the Pacific Electric, announced yesterday that special trains, carrying city and county officials, members of the Traffic Commission, representatives of improvement associations and others, will be run to the new structure and all will be given an opportunity of riding over and inspecting it.

TAG FIXING AT END TODAY

New Bureau Takes Over Traffic Violations Tomorrow and Promises Equal Treatment to All

Police have been instructed to make no "border line" arrests after the traffic violations bureau, scheduled to open tomorrow morning, is established. "Only those who have plainly violated the law will be given tags," said Capt. Clyde Plummer, head of the police traffic bureau. "Once the tags are issued, they cannot be fixed, changed or adjusted by an officer in the police department.

"Tags will be made out in quadruplicate. After these tags are written, police officers cannot adjust them in any way. One of the tags will go to the accused violator, and one each to the traffic violations bureau, the police department, and the City Auditor.

"Because of the inability of the police department to adjust tags, officers have been instructed to make certain that a clear violation has been committed before issuing a tag."

READY TO FUNCTION

The traffic violations bureau, sponsored by the Traffic Commission and the Automobile Club, with the assistance of city officials, will open tomorrow at its own quarters on the first floor of the International Building, 118 West Temple street.

Persons given tags have five days in which to appear at the bureau. Failure to appear will result in the issuance and serving of warrants. When an accused violator appears at the bureau, he will go to a window corresponding to the alphabetical initial of his name.

A clerk will take his tag, and by referring to the records, determine whether it is a first, second or third offense.

The amount of the fine, corresponding to the schedule printed on the reverse side of the tag, will be given the violator, who will deposit bail to that amount. This ends the procedure, unless the offense calls for a court appearance, when the violator will be told to appear in Municipal Court across the street.

SCHEDULE OF FINES

Should any accused violator desire to plead not guilty, or to tell his case to the judge, he will be privileged to do so, as at present.

Fines for minor offenses, such as parking overtime, will be small, starting at $1 for the first offense. Serious offenses, such as speeding and reckless driving, will mean court appearances, without the option of posting bail.

With "tag fixing" eliminated, and all violators obliged to meet punishment on an equal footing, the amount of revenue derived from fines is expected to be larger, even though the individual fines, for minor offenses, will be smaller.

"IT IS MORE BLESSED TO GIVE—"

The fourth annual appeal of the Los Angeles Community Chest is before the public, and the active work of subscription taking starts today. The 1928 budget is $2,750,000.

In its three years of operation the Chest has reduced the cost of raising and distributing welfare funds from 34 to 6 per cent. It has cleared away confusion, introduced system and increased the efficiency of all of the 150 agencies which it financially maintains.

Last year the response to the appeal proved inadequate and Los Angeles was outstripped by other cities in caring for the sick and dependent.

Those who are in a position to subscribe generously should take advantage of the opportunity afforded by the Community Chest. It is urged that wage earners give at least one day's pay. If this is done and the problem is attacked energetically, and with a will to win, the goal soon will be reached.

The obligation laid upon the people of Los Angeles to meet the minimum requirements laid down by the organization is clear and should be underwritten cheerfully and promptly.

by Harry Carr

"BIG BILL" THOMPSON of Chicago has struggled valiantly—and not in vain.

His political gang has found out that Chicago has a public library. And the awe of most of his henchmen probably has increased for Big Bill by the discovery that he can read books.

But it is to be hoped that Big Bill isn't intending to keep up his war against the British Empire much longer. His fury begins to grow monotonous.

You need something in a circus in addition to the clown.

POLICE DOGS

Savants never get so high in the brow that they can't get up a good dog fight. And so the German Psychological Society has broken up trying to debate the merit of police dogs.

The truth is that the police dog is a pretty good dog—as a dog. He keeps his ears cocked up; and contrives to maintain the solemn air of importance that keeps many corporation executives in their jobs.

When it comes to catching thieves and criminals he will follow the wrong man with the most intense dramatic fervor.

THE BLOODHOUNDS

When I was a kid reporter the Sheriff of the county sent for a pack of bloodhounds to trail a murderer.

It was a great thrill. They caught the scent and went baying on the trail of the quarry. We followed them as best we could at our slower pace.

Finally we came up with them, rescued the tomcat they had chased up a tree and came home again.

A ROTTEN BOOK

Bayard Veiller, the dramatist, showed his good sense in refusing to go on with the plan to dramatize Elmer Gantry.

That is a rotten book—a cheap play for a sensation. All that it amounts to, by and large, is a dirty slam against clergymen. Much like a gutter gamin throwing mud pies at the shining sides of automobiles.

It has no deep-weighed significance. It has about as much meaning as Bill Thompson's private war against the British Empire. Only not half as funny.

POET PRODIGY

At 14 years of age Nathalia Crane of Brooklyn has won first rank as a poet. She has silenced the high-brow critics who paid her a formal call with huge notebooks to demand where she got her ideas.

She said she didn't know; which placed her in the selected company of other poets who do not know where they get their idea. How does anybody know where he gets his ideas? Most of them from a very bleak, barren soil, apparently.

THE LOVE CULT

The weird rites of the "Love Cult" are to be moved from the Mediterranean to South America, where more freedom of expression can be had.

The Russian count—who acts as high priest—seems, on further examination, to be a singularly practical individual. By dint of playing "mystic melodies" and loosing the smell of jasmine he has persuaded a number of able-bodied husky Poles and Germans to take off their clothes and do all the garden work on his mountain estate for nothing.

Policeman Placed in Jail Over Shooting of Woman

STORIES CLASH ABOUT BULLET

Victim Wounded in Riding Home From Beach

Near-Tragedy Due to Accident, Say Detectives

As a result of an unexplained shooting, Policeman Jack Talley was in the City Jail last night on suspicion of assault with a deadly weapon and Mrs. Alice Mieglitz, 37 years of age, of 253 Charlotte avenue, East San Gabriel, in a serious condition at the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital.

Detectives believe that the shooting, which occurred early yesterday, may have been accidental, but conflicting versions of what occurred caused them to place the police officer under arrest on the felony charge.

Talley stoutly denied any connection with the shooting. His partner, Policeman W. R. Kent, yesterday told Detective Lieutenants Stevens and Hickey that he and Talley had been on duty at Venice as part of the extra force assigned to enforce Halloween regulations.

START FOR CITY

With other officers they left for Los Angeles in a police patrol after their work was finished. This was shortly after midnight. On the outskirts the patrol broke down, Kent said, and he and Talley accepted a ride from Ernest Mieglitz, son of the wounded woman.

Talley rode on the right running board, Kent said, while he rode on the left side. As they approached Adams street Kent said it became very foggy. While he was unable to see clearly what happened, he said he heard several shots and then a woman cry, "My God, I am shot." The car stopped and he jumped off, he said. Before he could again step aboard the car was driven away. He then made a search for Talley but was unable to find him.

It developed, according to Detective Lieutenants Stevens and Hickey that Mieglitz had started for the Receiving Hospital at top speed when he found his mother had been shot.

GOES TO HOME

Talley the detectives state, jumped from the car and went to his home.

From information gathered by the detectives from Mieglitz, his mother and other occupants of the car, Policeman Talley, shortly after accepting a lift, had taken out his revolver and fired several times in the air to give them a "thrill." A second time he pulled out his revolver and it was discharged accidentally, they said, the bullet striking Mrs. Mieglitz in the left arm and penetrating her chest.

Talley the detectives reported, was found in his room at home. He denied having been with Kent or having done any shooting, they report. Because of his denial of the circumstances Capt. Slaten ordered his suspension and arrest on the felony charge.

the W.C.T.U., and more especially the home for the aged mothers.

Preceding the placing of various articles in the corner-stone box, Mrs. Eva C. Wheeler, president of the Women's Christian Temperance Union of Southern California, brought the annual convention to a close, after officially thanking the many agencies in Los Angeles for the courtesies extended during the six-day session.

Featured in the documents sealed in the concrete wall of the building in the copper-lined box, most of which are official in character, is a Bible 100 years of age, presented to the board of directors for the ceremony by Mrs. Abbie Fuller, 98 years of age, and who has been a resident of the old home for a number of years. The principal address of the program was delivered by Mrs. Belle Kearney, an ardent prohibition worker in the Southern States and a State Senator from Mississippi.

FOOTBALL players at the University of Southern California will practice today on a turf trimmed according to the ideas of a fair coed, who was unfortunate enough to have her favorite gridiron hero playing on the losing team in Saturday's Trojan-California game.

Anne Wrightman was so vociferous in extolling the talents of her boy friend who plays on the California team that Bonnie Jean Lockwood and Carol Green persuaded her to bet on him and, incidentally, his fellow-players. The loser agreed to trim Bovard Field with Jerry, the trick collegiate mowing machine, as soon as the game was over. So Anne missed her Saturday night date, but she is attending classes today consoling herself with the thought that even though her pigskin hero is not as great a football player as she thought, she is the world's champion long-distance grass mower—that is, she and Jerry.

the court action today will focus attention on facts surrounding the financial collapse of the Julian Petroleum Corporation last May.

Subsequent grand jury investigation, following the withdrawal of the stock from the local stock exchange, showed an actual overissue of 3,015,283.34 shares of preferred stock and 1,276,000 shares of common. Those figures are above the 600,000 authorized for issuance in each instance.

The bubble surrounding the Julian Petroleum Corporation's stock fiasco broke on the evening of May 5, last, when S. C. Lewis, president of the corporation, addressed a communication to President Jardine of the Los Angeles Stock Exchange, expressing belief that Julian stock was overissued. President Jardine immediately ordered the stock from the exchange.

Following that action events moved swiftly. A. C. Wagy & Co., Inc., a brokerage house controlled by Lewis, was drawn into the affair and its doors closed by Corporation Commissioner Friedlander, pending a check of the assets of Lewis and his corporation.

BENNETT HUNTED

Within a week the matter was taken before the county grand jury by Dist.-Atty. Keyes and the overissue figures were revealed by the testimony of W. C. Kottemann, an accountant. Nearly two months elapsed with investigations before the grand jury returned various felony indictments against fifty-five prominent bankers and business men.

During the investigation, the name of Jacob Berman, alias Jack Bennett, figured consistently in the testimony. He was missing, however, after being the first man indicted in the affair. He was charged with embezzlement and forgery and his bail set at $250,000.

A search for him was begun, which extended across the United States and into Europe. He stopped in Paris for a while, but suddenly disappeared, going to Vienna by airplane. He came to the United States after a long search failed and surrendered to Dist.-Atty. Keyes at San Francisco.

Testimony before the grand jury indicated that Berman, although not an officer of the company and receiving no salary, was the moving figure in the negotiations for loans to the Julian Petroleum Corporation.

When the crash came, Lewis upheld Berman to some degree, declaring that he had placed Berman in charge of procuring loans for the company because he believed him to be "a very bright youngster" and because he had implicit faith in him.

ROW ON RECEIVERS

While the grand jury investigated, contention arose over the appointment of receivers for the corporation. E. H. Cochran and Samuel M. Shortridge, Jr., of San Francisco, appointed by a Northern Federal District Court, attacked United States District Judge McCormick's appointment here of Joseph Scott and H. L. Carnahan. The latter pair won after a long legal battle.

City Prosecutor Lickley entered the affair with an investigation of usury in the case. He issued scores of complaints against many of the men already indicted by the grand jury on felony charges. Those cases are still pending in the Municipal Court.

A Federal investigation also was started to determine if the mails had been used in marketing any of the overissued stock, but no charges were filed from that quarter.

Blood flowed also in the affair among the stockholders when A. M. Loeb, a member of a stockholders' committee, was struck in the eye and blinded by H. J. Kimmerle in a fight in the Wilcox Building, where the offices were located. Kimmerle was convicted on an assault charge and sentenced to serve two years in the County Jail.

A month ago the District Attorney's office began dismissing criminal indictments on the usury charge, where a refund of the interest received was made to the company, and ten of these had been dropped when Dist.-Atty. Keyes announced a halting of that plan. He gave as his reason that one of the accused men whose indictment was to have been dismissed attempted to deceive the prosecutors.

BANDITS CLUB THEIR VICTIMS

Two Men Sent to Hospital After Attacks

Purse Snatchers Also Busy; Jeweler Robbed

Apartment Owner and Guests Stripped of $1200

Bandits armed with clubs and revolvers, purse snatchers operating in flivvers and pass-key and bedroom window burglars caused crime records to mount during the week-end it was revealed in reports filed yesterday.

Two pedestrians were beaten severely and one had his right arm fractured, the proprietor of a jewelry store was robbed, the manager of an apartment-house and several of his guests were held up and robbed in the lobby of the building, three women were victims of purse snatchers, and more than a score of residences were broken into.

The police score card for Saturday night and Sunday morning shows three arrests for violent crime. In this case the police scored heavily as two of the suspects positively were identified, according to the reports, by the victim of one of the week-end robberies.

TWO MEN BEATEN

John Garner of 222 North Fremont street is one victim of the club-wielding bandits. He reported he was set upon by two men as he was walking along the street in front of his home. Without warning he was struck down by a blow on the head. As he struggled to regain his feet a second blow landed on his right arm, fracturing the bone. Undaunted, Garner attempted to battle with the bandits with his one good arm, but a third blow with a club struck him on the forehead and knocked him senseless. When he regained consciousness the bandits were gone with $10 of his money.

Robbers sent a second victim to the Receiving Hospital for medical attention when they beat into unconsciousness Clyde J. French of 548 South Wall street at Sixth and Crocker streets. French told police he was walking along the street when two bandits leaped upon him and beat him down with the butts of their revolvers. He was robbed of $5. At the hospital it was stated he had suffered concussion of the brain besides numerous lacerations of the scalp.

SUSPECT SEIZED

Police scored when they took into custody Fred W. Chaddick, alias Big Tex, said to be one of the notorious Roy Yeoman bandit gang, held by the police for several bank robberies and the robbery and murder of R. B. Negley, a grocer.

Chaddick was arrested at Third and Main streets by Officers Williams and Vannice. Others of the gang awaiting trial are Joe Miller and Joe Jackson. Yeoman is suspected of the murder. Chaddick is said to be implicated in many of the robberies attributed to Yeoman's gang.

H. C. Dean, proprietor of an apartment-house at 605 South Griffin avenue, was conversing with several guests in the lobby of his rooming-house when two bandits, both armed with revolvers, stepped in through the front door and commanded the assemblage to elevate their hands.

After relieving Mr. Dean of $600 in cash, the bandits ordered their victims to sit down, lower their hands and remain quiet. For half an hour, according to the report of investigating officers, the bandits remained in the lobby, holding up and robbing each guest as he arrived.

Their plunder totaled more than $1200 in cash, police reported. Having garnered in this amount the bandits backed out of the apartment-house, stepped into an automobile parked at the curb, and fled.

Harry Williams reported two bandits entered his jewelry store at 5176 West Adams street earlier in the evening, locked him in a small closet, and robbed him of $25 in cash and a $100 gold watch.

Two Mexican bandits operating in an automobile learned that their particular kind of crime does not pay. They held up Angel Hill in front of his home at 565 Bishop Road and failed to obtain anything of value. A few minutes later they held up A. Maldonado near the same place and the result was the same. They were not heard of again.

Laura A. Coffman of 346 South Johnston street, reported losing $20, Mrs. Sarah Als of 434 South Breed street, $4.50, and Mrs. Marian Diamond of 129 North Boyle avenue, $3, to purse snatchers operating in flivvers. The victims were robbed in front of their respective homes.

While no one particular heavy loss was reported, twenty-five burglaries were recorded for the week-end.

PAIR APPREHENDED

Waiting at Washington and Estrella streets for suspicious persons to come along, Officers Farrant and Hofer of the crime cruisers detail, apprehended Ernest Grosso, 19 years of age, of 223 East Eighty-eighth street, and Fritz McCurry of 446 East Ninetieth street as they drove by slowly in an automobile.

The appearance of the two youths answered the description of two bandits who an hour earlier had held up E. W. Hope of 733 South Coronado street, and robbed him of $35 and a watch, ring and chain in Venice, the officers reported.

When taken to the Wilshire Police Station the suspects were searched. A ring was found in the left shoe of McCurry and the watch and chain taken from Hope's coat pocket, according to the officers. Confronted with the evidence the two boys confessed the robbery, the officers reported. Both were booked on suspicion of robbery.

COUNCIL DISAPPROVES PLEA FROM WATTS

The request of the Watts Chamber of Commerce for the assignment of a police surgeon and ambulance to this district has been disapproved by the City Council on account of lack of funds. The Council says that this service will cost $24,000 a year.

POLICE RANGE TO BE COPIED

Washington Asks Drawings of Target Field

Others Like It to be Built Throughout Country

Bullet Trough to Conserve Lead Among Features

Devised and built by the personnel of the organization, policemen of the Seventy - seventh - street substation have completed a pistol range of such outstanding practical value that blueprints of it have been requested by Washington authorities to serve as a model for ranges throughout the country.

Constructed entirely of material donated by the Department of Power and Water and various business organizations in the southern section of the city, the range, now estimated to be worth between $8000 and $10,000, was erected without cost to city or police department.

EXPERIMENTED YEAR

The result of experiments conducted for more than a year by Captain of Detectives George T. Williamson and Captain of Police J. J. Mart, both of Seventh-seventh division, the firing ground contains many features that are declared to be material improvements over other types.

Told of these various innovations, Lieut.-Col. George C. Shaw, director of civilian marksmanship, Washington, D. C., asked for specifications and later wrote Capt. Williamson that the plans would be used as a model for other ranges.

One of the outstanding features of the range, which was erected near Ninety-ninth street and Western avenue, is a steel shield which the bullets hit after passing through the targets. The steel is placed at such an angle that the bullets are deflected into a trough at the bottom of the shields. The lead from this trough is remelted and moulded into bullets right on the grounds, thus providing amunition at a cost far below the regular retail price of shells.

TARGET ALWAYS UP

A second feature is a target system which keeps targets continuously in place and ready for firing. As one target is lowered another comes into view; while the one on top is being scored upon the one below is being repaired.

The range is bounded on all sides by stout timbers taken from wrecked Los Angeles River bridges and is bullet proof. In addition, it is so constructed that those firing cannot aim over the wall in back of the targets.

Last month, more than 1600 persons took advantage of the ground for target practice, Sergt. John C. Guerdat, range master, reported yesterday. Included were university students, postoffice and bank employees and various officers from suburban police departments, as well as those of the local force.

SEARCHERS FOR PLANE SHOOT LION

No trace of the missing mail plane from which Dick Bowman, Pacific Air Transport pilot, leaped early Wednesday morning to what seemed certain death, was found yesterday, according to officials of the Pacific Air Transport Company. More than a dozen searching parties are making a canvass of the region in which the plane is known to have crashed to earth, in addition to several airplane scouts.

While resting for a few minutes Friday midnight, Louis Pratt of the air transport company and Jimmy Brodin of Long Beach, two of the searchers, were surprised by a huge mountain lion which walked almost into their camp-fire circle before its presence was discovered. Both men were dozing and Pratt was awakened, he said, by the lion's breath in his face. Leaping to his feet, he fired several shots at the animal as it scampered away in the darkness and a search of the surrounding country revealed that his marksmanship was excellent. The animal will be brought back to Los Angeles, Pratt said, and probably stuffed by a taxidermist. Both Pratt and Brodin have been carrying on the hunt ever since early Wednesday, without much food or rest.

The reward of $250 offered for the recovery of the wrecked plane was withdrawn yesterday. The searching parties include several forest patrol squads, forest rangers and several crews from the air transport company. The hunt will be carried on ceaselessly until the plane is recovered, according to a company announcement.

TOTAL OF FIVE DIE IN TRAFFIC

tier of injuries received early Sunday morning, when he drove his car into a cement wall at the Union Pacific grade crossing between Whittier and Pico on Whittier Boulevard. He was on his way from Whittier to Montebello at the time.

Robert Stuart, 8, of 1545 Kendall Place, is believed dying in the General Hospital as the result of a skull fracture and internal injuries suffered when he was struck by an automobile driven by Mrs. Lila Organ of 3929 Pevey street while crossing Sunset Boulevard at Silver Lake Boulevard last night. Mrs. Organ was not held, as the police believe the accident was unavoidable.

Another boy and a man were injured, probably fatally, in traffic accidents yesterday.

Edward Davis, 59, suffered a crushed chest and possible internal injuries when the car which he was driving crashed into a machine driven by N. Brisken of 618 1-2 North San Bonito street. Brisken was uninjured, but his wife, Esther, received painful cuts and bruises. Davis lives at 200 South Fresno street. The accident occurred at First and Fresno streets.

Robert Peterson, 9, received a basal skull fracture when struck down by a truck at Sixth avenue and Washington Boulevard. He was taken to the Receiving Hospital, where physicians stated his condition is critical.

For the first time since it was founded in 1791, the Royal Veterinary College, London, will admit women students.

ACTOR BREATHES EASIER NOW

Wolheim Gains Permission to Have Surgeon Ream Out Famous Beak

Louis Wolheim's nightmarish face is still his fortune but a compromise operation on it performed yesterday will permit him hereafter to sniff air into his lungs a little more easily.

Dr. W. E. Balsinger lifted the grim-visaged actor's nose up a couple of notches in a delicate operation to enable Wolheim to breathe better. But that was as far as Dr. Balsinger went, in spite of Wolheim's previous announcement that he was to have himself beautified by undergoing a little plastic resculpturing.

However John W. Considine, Jr., United Artists executive, thought differently and threatened to get a restraining order in Superior Court to prevent the Wolheim face from being changed. A compromise resulted and now Wolheim can breathe with greater proficiency.

English women are said to have revived the strange old custom of using snuff.

Ruth Elder, the trans-Atlantic flyer, was a beauty winner in a contest held in Lakeland, Fla., in 1925.

MOVE FOR HIGH MEAT TAX FAILS

Unions Lose When Council Committee Favors Flat Fee of $25 for Markets

The attempt of unions to bring about the closing of retail meat markets on Sundays, holidays and evenings through a high tax ordinance has failed at the City Hall. The City Council's Health and Sanitation Committee's report recommending a flat license fee of $25 a year for all classes of retail markets has been adopted by the Council and the City Attorney instructed to prepare the necessary license ordinance. This fee is to pay the cost of health department inspection of meat markets.

The union's plan was to put through an ordinance that would require such high city fees to pay for health department inspection on evenings, Sundays and holidays that the small neighborhood markets which keep open these hours would be forced to discontinue this service. At the committee hearings, the charge openly was made and not denied that the unions were behind the high license move.

Mrs. Charles C. L. Leslie, 63 years of age, wealthy and socially prominent, ended her life yesterday in the attic of her luxurious home at 767 Garland street while her husband was away attending church services.

A pathetic suicide note, found near the body, disclosed that the woman had visited a physician recently and had been informed that she was facing a breakdown.

The body was discovered by Capt. Narietch of Fire Department Rescue Squad No. 1, who raced to the house in response to a call from Mr. Leslie. He had returned from church to find the house apparently empty. He climbed to the attic and there was assailed by the odor of strong chemicals. The rescue squad found the woman dead in a small room in the attic. She had taken a poison.

NEW PLANE FLIES HERE FROM EAST

Craft Will Be Utilized on Route to Fort Worth for Mail or Passengers

Flying one of the latest Fokker airplanes, a single-motored dual-control cabin plane, Lieut. Jack Frye, pilot for the Aero Corporation of California, landed at his home field at Ninety-ninth street and Western avenue yesterday afternoon from New York. The flight was made in thirty-one flying hours, according to Fred H. Hattoon, business manager of the corporation.

The plane, the second of its type to arrive on the Pacific Coast, has been purchased by the corporation for use on the air-mail route between here and Forth Worth, Tex., in the event the corporation's bid is accepted by the Postoffice Department. Otherwise it will be used in passenger service to the Texas city.

Bids for the new air-mail route, linking the East and the West over a southern route, were called for some time ago and awarding of the contract is expected within thirty days. Accompanying Lieut. Frye was Harry Tucker of this city. Tucker served as relief pilot.

Hi-Jinks Will Help Cripples

HEARING ON QUIZ RESUMES TODAY

Attorney for Plaintiff Police Promises Sensations

Officer to Testify About Test Questions

Candidates Had List Before Release, He Charges

Hearing by the Civil Service Commission into the charges of police officers that the last examination for promotion was conducted with fraud, dishonesty and irregularities will be resumed today at 9 a.m. when further revelations will be made by the plaintiff officers in the court action to set aside the last test ratings.

SENSATIONS PROMISED

Promise of spectacular developments was given yesterday by Attorney Henry G. Bodkin, counsel for the officers protesting the examination, following a meeting with the committee appointed by the unsuccessful candidates to conduct the fight.

Interest in today's meeting centers in the return to the stand of Acting Detective Lieutenant Hoy who Saturday was withdrawn from the stand when he refused to reveal the name of a brother officer who had told him that at least one list of the commission's examination questions had been in the hands of candidates for promotion prior to the test on April 12, last. Today the man will be named, Attorney Bodkin said, and he will also be produced before the commission to testify himself concerning the charges.

OFFICERS TO TELL ALL

At yesterday's meeting between the officer's committee and the plaintiff attorney it was decided that the officers now under subpoena to testify before the commission will give all information possible in order to aid the commission in its efforts to ascertain whether or not there was irregularity and collusion in the conduct of the examination for ratings for appointment as detective lieutenants.

The attitude of the commission as given at Saturday's hearings was only that of wishing to get at the facts in the case.

NEW BUREAU DESIGNED TO AID NEGROES

Student Seeks to Find Round Holes for Similar Pegs Among Laborers

Following a canvass and study of the negro population in Los Angeles upon a scientific basis, Frederick W. Wells, graduate of Columbia University, has opened what he terms a labor service bureau for colored people and white employers of Los Angeles and vicinity, it was announced yesterday. He is making his study and is opening the bureau as part of a thesis for a Ph.D. degree.

Since last April Wells has been studying the negro population of the city. He fixes it at about 34,000 men, women and children. He has enlisted the aid of some of the prominent white men and women of the city in carrying out his work.

The main trouble with the negro as he has found him in all parts of the country, he says, speaking from the economic point of view, is that too often the negro is a square peg trying to fit himself in a round hole. In establishing and conducting the bureau, Wells's great objective will be, he says, to improve the industrial relations between the negro and the white, by providing the white employer with the best fitted negro for the particular job at hand.

Too many white employers feel, according to Wells, that such and such a piece of work is nothing at all—they'll get a negro to do the work. The negro gets this idea from his employer and he does just that kind of work.

"There is a wealth of service for white employers embodied in the colored population of Los Angeles that is going to waste, because of a lack of intelligent functioning on the part of both negroes and whites here," said Mr. Wells yesterday. "We hope with our bureau to open the way to a greater understanding between the two peoples. Our office is temporarily located at the Y. W. C. A. Building, at 1036 East Twelfth street."

War Grizzlies Elect Officers and Make Plans

Two hundred veterans of the One Hundred and Forty-fourth Field Artillery, better known during the World War as the "California Grizzlies," attended the annual reunion of the organization yesterday afternoon at the Breakfast Club. Richard J. Bond was elected president for the ensuing year; C. M. Cotton, vice-president, and Earl Putnam, secretary-treasurer.

Following an address of welcome by Maurice DeMond, president of the club and an honorary member of the Grizzlies, each community representative of the organization reported on activities for the year. A program of greater activity for 1928 was outlined. Entertainment during the reunion, which started at noon and lasted until dark, was provided by members of the organization.

The next annual meeting will be held here and plans are being made for a special ladies' night.

Pickwick Starts Service to East

Daily stage service to Oklahoma City, St. Louis, Chicago and other eastern cities was inaugurated at 1 a.m. yesterday by the Pickwick Stages System.

Twenty-seven passengers were carried on the bus which initiated the new service, which will be "Pickwick all the way."

DRAIN ORDER SOUGHT

City Engineer Shaw recommends to the City Council that he be instructed to include a storm drain in the improvements being planned for streets in the Bedford-street and Guthrie-avenue improvement district. The estimated cost of the drain is $67,000.

POWER BUREAU CASE DRAGS ON

Injunction Hearing Starts Fifth Week Today

Department's Answer May Clear Site Mystery

Revenues Held Sufficient for Project, City's Stand

The mystery which has developed regarding a new site for the proposed $8,280,000 steam-powered electric plant on which the Power and Light Bureau has taken options because of general opposition to locating it on tidelands of the West Basin area, may be cleared this week when the bureau begins its defense against the action brought against it by the Southern California Edison Company in Superior Judge Tappaan's court.

The case will go into its fifth week today, the Edison company attorneys having introduced a large volume of testimony regarding the intentions of the bureau, in the company's plea for a permanent injunction against the construction of the plant on tidelands.

LOCATION ARRANGED

The defense in the course of the trial has disclaimed any further intention of placing the plant on tidelands, but insistence of the plaintiff's attorneys that it is now proposed to erect the plant on land adjoining tidelands in the northeast area of the West Basin at the harbor, so that ocean water for condensing purposes may be obtained, is expected to bring some reply from the bureau through its witnesses.

Explanation by bureau officials for the secrecy regarding the new site is advanced as being necessary to complete arrangements for obtaining the area without having to pay an excessive price for it. Counsel for the Edison company has hinted that the secrecy is for the purpose of getting the use of harbor waters without being enjoined as to the new site in the present suit.

The battle this week is expected to be one of figures obtaind from the city's records in answer to the assertions made by the Edison company attorneys.

OUT OF OWN POCKET

The Edison Company contends that the bureau is not in financial condition to go ahead with the erection of a costly power plant, that a large portion of its revenues come from other city departments which are supported by taxation and that without the transfer of power bond funds into the power revenue fund the latter will show a deficit of $300,000.

The defense plans to show this week that the bureau is amply able to construct the plant out of current revenue funds and will attempt to disprove that there will be any legalities in regard to the transfer of power bond funds to bolster up power revenues.

One of the contentions in the case by the plaintiff is that since the proposed plant is for future use, it should be paid for only out of bond funds, so that the cost may be borne by future generations who may be benefited by the use of the plant.

Kitty's Sad Fate Brings Echo of Chasing Bulldog

"A cat is a cat," soliloquized F. J. Fitzhugh, 36-year-old bank clerk, as he raised his trusty shotgun to position and took good aim at Lavender, Persian pet of Miss Mary Rhea Jordan, who gently reposed on the back yard fence.

"And Your Honor, he blew Lavender to atoms with the shotgun," Miss Jordan complained to Municipal Judge Bogue in Small Claims Court, where she filed suit against Fitzhugh to recover damages of $20 for the cat.

"Judge, things got so that it was just a matter of my health or Lavender's, so I decided in favor of myself," the defendant asserted. "The cat whined and meowed so much that my nervous system became a physical wreck. Finally I purchased a bulldog in hopes of bringing much-needed peace to the neighborhood, but Mike wasn't used to such noise and the cat chased him away, never to return."

The magistrate pondered over the question. Finally the wheels of justice ground and Judge Bogue dismissed the case on the grounds that the warfare now is even-Stephen with both parties to the litigation minus a pet and the peace of the region is restored.

Alien-Smuggler Cases Up Today

Rex Smith, aviator who was mentioned in connection with the escape of Clara Phillips, notorious "hammer" murderess, will appear before Federal District Judge Henning today for sentence following his plea of guilty to smuggling aliens into California from Mexico by airplane.

George F. Sargenti, asserted companion of Smith in the smuggling venture, who pleaded not guilty, will appear to have a date for his retrial set, the jury failing to agree at the first trial.

Cigarette Curb to be Considered

The City Council's Health and Sanitation Committee is scheduled to consider at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow Councilman Foster's proposed ordinance designed to curb the sale of cigarettes to boys and girls under 18 years of age.

The tentative draft of the ordinance proposes a tax of $100 a year for the privilege of selling cigarettes, requires permits for the sale of cigarettes to to be approved by the Mayor and prohibits the sale of cigarettes within two blocks of any school.

PLANE REGULATION ORDINANCE ORDERED

City Attorney Stephens has been instructed by the City Council to prepare an ordinance declaring "for hire" airplanes a public utility and, therefore, subject to Board of Public Utilities regulation and supervision as to operation.

HE HAD THE FLOOR

A Chicago woman at a police showdown picked out the prisoner who had choked and robbed her and she did it with her fist. Now there's an idea worth copying.

NOW IT'S BOOTLEG LIFE

Ambitious scientists are beginning to talk about synthetic life, but if it is anything like other familiar synthetic concoctions it will have a flaming stomach and a smoking brow.

HIGHER EDUCATION

Now they have offered a $5000 prize for a college airplane race. The undergraduates won't be safe until the upper classes have landed. This move probably marks the beginning of the age of the campus stripped-down air flivver.

IN KNICKERBOCKERS

The tailors of London and New York are having an argument whether men in knickerbockers can be orderly and sedate. There is no particular reason for arguing that a little leg exposure breaks decorum. Men do not have flirty legs.

OF THE IMAGINATION

When it's so hard to fly from Europe to America with only a sandwich for a load, the lecturers who have been picturing air raids on New York by European planes loaded with tons of bombs are probably themselves on nonstop flights.

DANGEROUS BREED

Back in New Rochelle a speeding motorist, arrested for endangering the public, was released by the judge when he explained that he was on the way to see his new-born triplets. Yet, heavens! if there's anything in heredity that chap should have been turned right over to the birth controllers.

PANGS OF PARIS

There are a dozen suburban towns around Paris—some of them having 10,000 to 20,000 population, which are still without roads, pavements, water, gas, sewers, or electric lights. The inhabitants are largely the clerks and artisans of the metropolis. They have acquired homes, but none of the common comforts and conveniences that mark the domestic life of today.

NOBODY WON

After all the expert naval opinions as to whether Britain or Germany was victorious in the great sea battle of Jutland, Bernard Shaw breaks in with the decisive dictum that nobody won it. It is good to know that whenever there is a diversity of judgment on any great international question we can look to the Shaws and Menckens for absolute and final decision.

THE YOUNG TURKS

The Turkish government does not want any strange aviators flying over their country. The birdmen will be expected to go around the edge of modern Turkey and avoid trouble and embarrassment. If they land they may not find it easy to get away. It will be remembered that young Turks always roost as high as they can. Possibly these birds do not want anything to disturb them in their overhead.

THE GREAT DISCOVERER

Chicago is going to show what it thinks of the Columbus claims by erecting a monument and memorial 120 feet high to the glory of Leif Ericson. It will stand on the highest available spot in the city and may be seen for several miles. It will be the most impressive tribute that America has yet reared to the Vikings and it is in the center of the territory now occupied by a million of their descendants. If Leif had discovered Minneapolis instead of Nahant he might have stayed.

IN BIG BUSINESS

On a recent day the New York Stock Exchange bought or sold more than 3,000,000 shares of stock in 638 different corporations. It was a big day, but big days are becoming quite common on the Exchange. When the brother of Charlie Ross can sell his seat for $250,000 it may be noted that a membership in this hive of business activity is the most valuable club connection in America. Some folks might consider it a glory to go broke on the Knickerbocker exchange.

CHAMPION REALTY AGENT

The sixtieth anniversary of Secretary Seward's deal with a Russian czar calls attention to the fact that Seward put through the biggest and best real estate deal ever consummated on the Pacific Coast. The United States occupied Alaska October 18, 1867, following its purchase by treaties negotiated by Secretary Seward. The purchase price was $7,200,000. Just taking a cursory glance through little items relating to Alaska, note that in 1920 the copper output alone was valued at more than $12,000,000—and every year there has been gold, silver, copper, lead, to say nothing of furs and fish—what a bargain Seward drove!

COLORADO AND THE I.W.W.

The trouble fomented by I.W.W. and other radical agitators in the Colorado coal fields is taking the customary course of such affairs—hysteria followed by violence, and threats to extend the disturbance into areas where employers and employees have no quarrel. With long practice, the I.W.W. has learned how to stage-manage so as to get for itself the maximum amount of publicity. After such a strike has progressed for about a week it becomes necessary to stir flagging interest by providing a martyr.

In the present case the "martyr" is a young girl, whose arm was broken by a harassed mine guard attempting to eject her from company property where she and others were rioting. She is in a hospital, much to the regret of the agitators, who would have preferred her killed or at least seriously injured, but the Reds have persuaded radical newspapers to refer to her as having been "tortured," an obvious absurdity. The men at the invaded mine were not on strike.

The radical press accounts say that a force of 225 "pickets" with the girl at their head attempted to rush the mine and were driven off. The word "picket" was chosen, of course, because courts have held that in some cases peaceful picketing is not unlawful; but the word does not describe members of a riotous mob such as this evidently was.

The Governor of New Mexico is taking steps to prevent the spread of the disturbance into the New Mexico coal fields; he will do well to show determination from the start, if he means to protect life and property. California has learned from bitter experience that there is only one effective way of dealing with the I.W.W., and that is to put its leaders in jail. The enactment and enforcement of the criminal-syndicalism law in this State put an end here to such scenes as are now being enacted in Colorado, and the State has been given a wide berth by the Reds since the gates of San Quentin began to open for them.

The Colorado coal strike seems to have started, as all I.W.W. strikes do, with no preliminaries or wage demands. A committee is scheduled to have a meeting with operators today, and the so-called Jacksonville scale of $7.25 for a day's work is to be asked. If the miners get it they will be the worse off; as in the Middle-West field, the establishment of the scale will mean intermittent instead of steady work and incomes will drop.

The trouble with the coal industry is too many mines and too many miners and this cannot be cured by arbitrary raising of the wage scale. The Colorado episode, however, is I.W.W. inspired and can be cured by getting rid of the I.W.W. Colorado will have to set itself to this task if it does not want an important industry destroyed within its borders.

FOR GREEK ART

The Agora of Athens was once the place of assembly for the people of ancient Greece who attained a cultural plane that has never since been surpassed and probably never equaled. When militant neighbors worsted the Greek lovers of art and philosophy with vulgar armies, Greece fell politically and in its decline permitted the famous market place to fall in ruins. The centuries following the national decline of the Greek nation saw the Agora, built on low ground, buried deeply under the accumulated debris and storm-borne soil of a mourned city.

Now comes an unknown American with a gift of $2,250,000 to be disbursed in digging up the Agora that such works of art as remain intact under the decay of ages may be restored to Greece and brought to the light of a new age of culture which admires and imitates the best that Greece produced in its ascendency. What treasures the careful spades of the archeologists may disinter! Here stood the temple of the mother of gods and the ornate Stoa Basileios. Ravaged and crumpled as they were, there may yet be rich works of art protected through the ages by classic arches or snarled columns, and from fragments large and small there are bound to rise restorations of Grecian art known to that age when the Greek exalted beauty.

Whatever is found will be the property of the Greek government and the American master of fortune who has made the excavations possible donated the huge sum from pure love of the high culture of the Greeks and his desire to aid in recovering every possible remnant of their cultural glory. Greece is too poor to pay the bill and will be grateful to the unknown American, as indeed will all the world that loves the classic attainments of ancient Greece.

PAN-AMERICAN

The Pan-American conference at Havana next January will have one feature to lift it above the plane that has characterized previous meetings. President Coolidge has signified his intention of addressing it. The Pan-American Union has not been as productive of good as was hoped in the early days of its existence; it has not served to allay the irritation that exists between the United States and the nations of Latin America. Organized to promote friendly co-operation, to advance the common interests of the two sections, it has accomplished but little in that direction, and Latin America is not unduly enthusiastic for its continuance.

North America and South America have not yet attained a plane of mutual understanding. Differing in language and ethnical history, they need each other's help. Latin America is in possession of a continent of wonderful natural resources and a great future awaits it. Together we occupy the larger portion of the western hemisphere and should not perpetuate the differences that hindered the development of Europe for centuries. The subjects announced for consideration in the coming conference are comparatively unimportant—settlement of international disputes, the enforcement of civil contracts, etc. We mistake the man if President Coolidge does not by one of his plain, direct, statesmanlike speeches transform the commonplace meeting into one of great importance, and do much to dispel suspicion and misunderstanding.

A GOLDEN HARVEST

Rosy reports of the condition of American agriculture are being sent out by Secretary Jardine; and the dairying and financial associations. No longer need the American farmer be pictured as festooned in crape, but as holding his hat under a golden shower. In fact, he is in the best position since 1920 in the matter of purchasing power of his products. Mr. Jardine says this year's cotton crop, at October prices, is worth $200,000,000 more than last year's, though a third smaller. While some districts, notably the eastern corn belt, do not seem to have felt the general prosperity as much as others, there are no conspicuous surpluses or shortages. Overproduction, so greatly feared by some economists, is not in evidence. In fact, crop production per capita of population is next to the smallest in thirty-three years.

Cheering news from the cattlemen is to the effect that their industry is at a peak of prosperity which, it is believed, can be maintained for some time to come. Fewer cattle have been marketed than in some former seasons, but producers have been paid $37,000,000 more than a year ago. Of course meat consumers do not view this latter report with much enthusiasm, but they are expected to assume an air of resignation.

However, overproduction of beef or anything else is not calculated to be of permanent benefit to the consumer. It is to avert that very condition in the cattle industry that a prominent cattle man lately advised others against a further stimulation of market prices—clearly a sensible admonition. In former years we have seen in the bean, prune and canned goods industries the bad effects of the forcing up of prices in the consequent glutting of markets and the ultimate discouragement of the producer. It is good to learn that, aside from the cotton and cattle industries, the northern wheat belt and northwestern apple districts are all in a more prosperous state than formerly, though in some sections the potato crops are rather short.

In California it has been an excellent year for the orchardists and vineyardists in most localities. On the whole both yield and prices have been good. The fruit and vegetable canning season, now drawing to its close, has been one of the most successful in years. Good prices have been secured by the growers of citrus fruits, particularly lemons. An enormous yield of grapes has resulted in testing the carrying capacity of the transcontinental railroads.

As the increased prosperity of our California producers is bound to be reflected in a corresponding increase of their buying power, as stated by Secretary Jardine of other sections, we shall have a fine home market for our local nonagricultural industries, which, other things being equal, should be patronized to as great an extent as possible.

FILMS FOR MERCY

The use of motion pictures for educational purposes is growing apace and the adoption of the cinema for teaching advanced method in surgery is hailed as a very definite aid to busy surgeons so closely confined by their labors that they cannot keep in touch with surgical progress. Twelve films are planned by the American College of Surgeons and of this number two have been completed.

Medical practitioners throughout the world will be enabled to witness demonstrations of the most skilled masters in operations employing the latest technique. The films portray up-to-the-minute methods as followed in the clinics of renowned specialists and pains have not been spared to make them correct in the tiniest detail and helpful in the highest possible degree.

Physicians and surgeons leave their medical colleges with the most advanced methods and theories, but the problem of keeping abreast of the continuous progress made by medical research and great clinics, after they enter active practice far from the centers of education where they gained their fundamental knowledge, is old and until now has hardly been solved. Motion pictures bring the solution and will carry into remote communities the visible record of medical and surgical advance for the information and guidance of every studious member of the profession. The motion-picture camera and projector have never done anything better than this. They have amused, thrilled, and informed, but through the twelve films for the aid of medical practitioners they will help to mend broken bodies and relieve human suffering.

A REFEREE

The football referee lives a sad life. If he penalize a side for roughing the fullback and depriving him of a touchdown, he is consigned to perdition. He may be innocent of guile and yet driven to oblivion by the rooting sections.

Nobody loves a referee. Sooner or later he gives a decision that miffs his best friends and he becomes an outcast from society and is compelled to drink his ginger ale alone.

Although the most pious persons feel impelled to massacre him at times, the referee seems to be a necessary evil. Somebody has to be goat. Alibis are not plentiful. Hell is now more generally spoken of on the gridiron than in church.

If a fund were to be started for pensioning disabled and pop-bottle-marked referees, nobody would be found to finance it. Sentiment prefers them to die by slow death from starvation or freezing. Torture would be a diversion.

The great need of America is an unbiased referee. He should be without friends or affiliations. The contestants should be strangers to him and he should be the product of no institution. He should be as ignorant as a perfect juryman.

THE COME-BACK

The big things have been done in the world by fools who never knew when they were licked. Washington was pummeled across Massachusetts through New Jersey into Pennsylvania; but he sprang back. Grant's stick-to-it-iveness saved the Union in the Civil War. Marcus Morton ran for Governor of Massachusetts sixteen times with disastrous results. He came back and was elected the seventeenth time by a majority of one vote.

"Few people lack strength; they lack will," said Victor Hugo. It may be nothing but a prize fight; but keeping kicking is king. "Bob" Morrison, ragmuffin, backslid disgracefully three times and took a new suit of clothes with him each time. But he came back the fourth time and developed into Dr. Robert Morrison, who translated the Bible into Chinese.

Tamerlane watched an ant drag a grain of corn up an incline to a certain point—and fall sixty-nine times. It won the seventieth. Franklin Pierce broke down utterly in his debut at the bar. He came back and ultimately was elected President of the United States.

Napoleon was defeated in the battle of Marengo. He consulted his watch and found it to be but 2 o'clock. He decided he had time to win another battle and made his famous charge. His resilience failed him at Waterloo.

A warrior has no business with a brittle will. A bull dog has won his place in the esteem of the world by never knowing when to let go. The dishonor lies not in being counted out; but in staying out.

Nature abhors a vacuum, and man a quitter. Elasticity is the sign of youth. The power to rebound keeps balls and men in the field of action.

HIGH-SPEED ULCERS

An English surgeon and medical authority of highest standing declares that fast eating is the cause of most ulcers of the stomach. Dr. Garnett Wright, F.R.C.S., and possessor of a long list of impressive titles in addition, is authority for the statement and his eminence in his profession gives his words force enough to demand attention. Dr. Wright recommends that to combat the affliction luncheon clubs be formed which shall extend the time of food consumption over a two-hour period.

The English surgeon's suggestion will be eagerly promoted by employees and reviewed with gingerly animosity by a few employers, though the English doctor probably expects the average big-hearted American pay-roll boss to become very solicitous for his workers' stomachs and to guard them against ulcers by giving them from two to six hours for the mid-day meal. These high-speed stomach ulcers are not to be sneezed at and not only should the luncheon hour be doubled at least, but possibly wisdom demands that shops be closed two hours earlier at night to give employees an early start on a three-hour dinner period.

An employer whose helpers were all afflicted with stomach ulcers would be in a bad way, but of course some will continue to risk it. The two-hour luncheon clubs will likewise be combatted by the luncheon mills whose efficiency experts plan on feeding four persons per hour for each padded stool. High-speed eating is so common in America that Americans may develop immunity to the malignant high-speed eating ulcer that menaces English stomachs, an end that employers will eventually seek. All a good lazy American needs now to complete his short-hour alibi is an authoritative statement that rising before 8 a.m. is productive of ocular ulcerousness.

AN EASIER WAY

On the Ob River, in Siberia, the natives insure a good catch of fish by killing a spotted cow. An easier way would be for an amateur vocalist to stand on the bank and sing "The Volga Boatman's Song," which would make all the fish turn white side up.

Fool Proof

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 26.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Being a medical woman, I am constantly meeting middle-aged people who are almost paupers; they now having to depend on charity or outside help to keep themselves alive. So many of these unfortunate human beings in the past had been left money enough to care for them to the "end of the chapter," but lost their all either through bad investments themselves, or through the mismanagement of a "family friend" who had been made executor of the estate.

I have this to say: Banks have not taken their message to Garcia. They have been so ultra-conservative that the majority of people do not really know what a bank can do for them. Ninety-nine out of 100 people, think of a bank only as having to do with savings and commercial accounts or a place that rents out safety deposit boxes. What does the majority of people know about how a trust department functions?

The only way to educate the public is to reiterate and reiterate. Every other public organization if it has anything good, lets the world know about it, not so the bankers.

The only peace of mind that can come to one (so you will not turn over in your grave) making a will, is where some bank has been made the sole executor of an estate. For in this rapidly changing order of everything that is going on in the world, a trust department of any reliable bank is the nearest thing to being fool proof that exists today in the business world.

Burglary Promotion

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 26.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I am convinced that the best way to promote the burgling and allied industries is to advertise in the papers. Always let the boys know what you are doing to keep persons and property safe; and when the job has been pulled let them know all your plans concerning the capture of the operators; especially report the value of the treasure they failed to find.

In Hollywood a very fine home was finished and occupied about a month ago; with a high cement wall and a garage taking up the fifty-foot front. Two raucous animals of the wolf breed were installed behind the wall at each family absence, advertised with a porch light. Their job consisted mostly of startling innocent neighbors who passed on foot; also warning the boys to try the rear part of the house, away from the street light, and out of sight from the street; and to be reached by way of the vacant lot next door. This was done about last Saturday night, loot valued at about $9000.

Immigration Quotas

SACRAMENTO, Oct 22.—[To the Editor of The Times:] One regrets that those present at the quota law conference, as recorded in your account thereof, should place profit before the future of American institutions.

Our country already has an almost crushing color problem. Though we fought a Civil War over it, even today no one knows whence its real solution will come. It would be a tragedy to add another color problem, through a mass movement of Mexican peons, thus further diluting our American stock.

Mexico is sending us more than two immigrants for every one from Great Britain from whom we have inherited our institutions. Mexico's ratio is more than eight to one from Sweden and more than eleven to one from Norway, countries who have given us the Nordic or Viking type like Lindbergh.

RIPPLING RHYMES

THE TRAVELERS

My friends depart for foreign shores, I weep and wish them well; when they return they all are bores, with endless tales to tell. If there is anything I hate, that gives my soul [illegible], it's hearing travelers relate long tales of what they've seen. They all have trodden beaten roads along the foreign shore, and they have brought home loads and loads of junk I've seen before. They have a condescending way that jars me to the quick, and their demeanor seems to say that I'm a cross-roads hick. The grocer who has been to Rome looks down with high disdain upon the man who stayed at home, some honest plunks to gain. The banker who has been to Greece regards with cold dislike the neighbor who has dodged police along his native pike. The plumber, he is back from France, the clothier's back from Spain, and every time they have a chance they talk till I'm insane. If ever I should go abroad, the foreign curves to learn, all quietly I'll blow my wad, and silently return. Perhaps I'll loaf in London gray, or walk the streets of Rome, but none will know, from what I say, I've been away from home. I won't pretend I walked with queens or chummed with belted earls, or that on pork and beans I [illegible] Parisian girls. I'll have no stories to relate when to my home I come, but I will strive to imitate the man who's stricken dumb.

Be sure you get GENUINE Palmolive. Costs but 10c a cake. Use no other on your face. Crude imitations, represented to be of olive and palm oils, are not the same as Palmolive. Remember that. The Palmolive-Peet Co., Chicago, U.S.A.

RADIO ACTIVITIES

From Broadcasting Stations to Receiving Sets

KHJ WILL HAVE NEW DIAL MARK

"Times" Station Change Set for Tomorrow

Channel Shift Authorized by Radio Commission

Wilfred Fletcher, Welsh Tenor, on Program

BY DR. RALPH L. POWER

Commencing tomorrow, when it goes on the air at 6 o'clock, KHJ will be on its new frequency channel of 720 kilocycles or 416.4 meters. This will bring the station a trifle high on your dial.

KHJ is glad to enter into the spirit of the change and co-operate to its fullest extent with the Federal Radio Commission, which recently ordered the change.

Each broadcast station must expend a considerable amount of money to keep the transmitter exactly on its assigned frequency and to check it periodically. In fact, each wave length change generally means that new crystals must be ground and sundry other changes made. That is but one of the troubles which beset the average broadcaster.

The United States Bureau of Standards of the Department of Commerce is co-operating in checking frequencies. Experts in that governmental division are constantly calibrating the various devices shipped in by different stations for examination.

The Radio Commission rules that stations must adhere to within 0.5 kilocycles and has severely penalized chronic offenders.

ACCURATE CHECKER

Although there have been many "hay-wire" transmitting outfits assembled in various parts of the country, no standard frequency devices can be made fashioned from odds and ends of equipment.

Perhaps the most generally used device is the piezo oscillator and frequency meter (wave meter) and it is conceded to be the most accurate checker known.

The average frequency meters do not visibly register a change so small as 0.5 kilocycles and therefore they do not comply with the full text and spirit of the law. Except in the case of specially designed apparatus, frequency meters have been found by governmental agencies to change calibration without frequent recalibration.

In the period of four months past, exactly forty-six radio stations have asked for calibration of piezo oscillators at the Bureau of Standards, while twenty-one stations asked for calibration of frequency meters.

STUDIO FEATURES

The soloist of the studio features was Wilfred Fletcher, popular Welsh tenor, accompanied by Louise Miller, the studio pianiste. His rendition of "Una Furtiva Lagrina," by Donizetti, was excellent. This composer's works are among those listed as always welcome via radio.

Mr. Fletcher offered two pleasing groups. "None but the Lonely Heart," by Tschaikowsky, was an outstanding number. The Russian composer's works show a tendency to pass to and fro between contrasted moods as from hilarity to despair, from wildness to suavity, with a noticeable penchant for melancholic expression.

In other numbers Tschaikowsky uses considerable folk song material, though not with the sympathy and passion of the nationalists.

COURT TAKES CHANCE

Defendant's Suicide Threat Fails to Deter Imposing of Sentence

"Judge, I'll commit suicide if you send me to jail, because I'm innocent of this accusation," James Day Hopkins cried to Municipal Judge Wilson at the conclusion of his trial on a disturbing-the-peace charge.

"Really, I don't believe in encouraging such steps, but inasmuch as I am fully convinced of your guilt, according to testimony brought out by Prosecutor Chotiner, I would be derelict in my duty to the people if I sentenced you to less than sixty days in the City Jail," returned the magistrate.

Mrs. Beulah Hopkins, wife of the defendant, testified her husband came home in a "mean mood" on the night of the 23rd inst., threw the clock out of the window, broke the radio and mistreated her. Then Policemen Kriewald and Baker, summoned by neighbors, interfered and took Hopkins to jail.

YOUR BABY and MINE

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope, forwarded to this office, will bring a personal reply.

TEETH MAY CAUSE SLIGHT DIARRHEA

Mrs. M. B. When a baby whose diet has in no way been changed has an unusual number of bowel movements, it is possible, if he shows no other signs of illness, that these may be due to coming teeth. It isn't wise to attribute too much to teeth, but an undue activity of the bowels is usually noted during the eruption period. Cut down the feeding time of the infant at the breast, give more boiled water to drink and keep the child quiet. If this doesn't end in a day or two and the baby seems ill in any way, see the doctor.

Mrs. R. H. C. If your 6-months-old baby is still wearing a flannel binder that should have been discarded months ago for the knitted part-wool band, which can be worn indefinitely. The average baby in a steam-heated apartment does not need so many woolens. The band, shirt (light weight part wool)—hose and cotton dress or creeper is sufficient.

Mrs. H. E. In your enthusiasm for the success of the stiff cuffs to prevent thumb-sucking don't overdo their use. The baby's arms should not be imprisoned in this way for long periods, to keep him from putting things in his mouth when playing. Rather, keep out of his way the undesirable things which he might put in his mouth.

Mrs. W. M. Your baby weighs as much as the average 1-year-old child. This weight requires one-quart of milk a day. I would give it with only a little water and much less maltose than you are using, half as much. Use other sugar on cereal and in other forms, cereal, toast, vegetables, etc. Your menu is fine with this exception.

Mrs. E. H. The baby has made a very large gain so be careful not to overfeed him. A baby makes an average gain of one and one-half pounds a month, the first six months. Wash off the nipples, which have been soaking in the boric acid water, before putting them in the baby's mouth. We don't want him to get boric acid water with his meals. Your baby may be a very light-skinned baby. If he gets out into the sunlight every day it is surely not from that particular lack.

Mrs. M. S. I have a leaflet on cod liver oil, which will be of great help to you, I am sure. This may be had by sending a self-addressed and stamped envelope and a request for the leaflet.

WIFE SAYS HUSBAND CALLED HER ANIMAL

Dr. Frederick Henry Latterner, physician, called his wife a "cow and a pig," according to the suit for divorce which Mrs. Adelia Francis Latterner has filed. Community property worth $200,000 is involved, according to the complaint. Dr. Latterner, his wife charges, beat her and threatened to kill her, and several weeks ago started a divorce suit himself in Nevada.

Good Coffee

Stir a teaspoonful of ground coffee into a half-glass of cold water. It should show very little discoloration and very few grounds should sink to the bottom of the glass if the coffee is of good quality.

NANCY PAGE

By Florence La Ganke

Back in grandmother's day one window was always set aside for winter plants. Geraniums, begonias and ferns held the places of honor. Stepladder shelves were usually built to stand in the window and hold the potted plants.

Then potted plants went out. Now they have returned and few and far between are the homes which do not have some growing plant in at least one room.

But we no longer range them in graduated rows. We isolate them. This makes the pots more prominent and consequently we do more in pot decoration.

For one friend Nancy and Peter painted a flower pot and its pottery saucer. Ring on ring of brilliant colored enamel paint made the plant container a thing of joy and gaiety.

Small square wooden boxes into which the pot is slipped make another effective holder when the box is painted or covered with plain paper. On the paper are glued silver stars. The whole surface is covered with shellac or clear lacquer.

Even pleated lamp shades with small floral decorations may be inverted and used as covers for the red, uninteresting clay pot.

HEALTH and DIET ADVICE

by Dr Frank McCoy

author of "The Fast Way to Health"

Dr. McCoy will answer personal questions on health and diet, addressed to him, care of The Los Angeles Times. Inclose stamped, addressed envelope for reply.

ARE YOU SHOCK PROOF?

How often we hear of the death of a prominent citizen who seemed in the best of health until he suddenly had a "breakdown" and passed quickly away. Do you suppose such an occurrence would be possible if he were really in perfect health? He may have weighed 200 pounds and still, if he suffered a sudden collapse, there must have been a secret physical weakness which made such a thing possible.

In time of earthquake, no matter how large the building, it cannot be seriously injured if properly constructed. Concrete buildings properly reinforced with steel are not affected by the severest shock Mother Earth has yet given. Concrete buildings often crumble at the slightest shock if not enough iron is used in the construction to adequately hold the concrete together. I was recently admiring a beautiful office building which only a few days after was a mass of ruins. Upon inquiry I found that not sufficient steel had been used to properly reinforce the concrete; when a shock occurred, it crumbled as readily as other buildings of a flimsier construction.

Are you building the "house" you live in — your physical body — with such carelessness? Are you under the delusion that a large body is essentially a healthy one? Do you know that each cell of your physical organism must have the requisite amount of such minerals, as lime, and also that enough iron must be present in each cell to add the needed strength to the cell? Most of the time you do not realize how flimsy your body is until some emergency arises as it did during the influenza epidemic, when those with large bodies collapsed so suddenly, if they did not have a physical structure as strong as it looked.

Nature may have endowed you with natural strength, but if this is dissipated by excesses you will find that in a great crisis you do not have enough reserve to fall back on. Do you awaken in the morning feeling as tired as when you went to bed? If so, you need to check up on yourself and find out what is causing your depletion of strength. Can you walk five miles without fatigue? If you cannot, start today and ascertain what errors you are committing which are producing this lack of endurance. Do you fall asleep while reading the evening paper? Perhaps you are overworking your nervous system.

Do not wait to remedy your bad habits until it is necessary to go to the doctor, or the undertaker may be called in first. There is grave danger in staggering along under a load of bad habits until necessity calls a halt. It is then often too late to remedy the trouble.

You never get sick at a convenient time, and you must not think that your yearly vacation will correct the hidden weaknesses you have been months in developing. Your body is but a boat on which you are to cross this ocean of life. Take care of it well and keep it in the necessary repair if you are a good captain and wish to sail into the port a healthy, happy, and fruitful maturity.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Question: J. A. F. writes: "I am very much interested in your daily articles. Can chronic colitis be cured and what would you advise? Have been unable to work for eight months."

Answer: Chronic colitis simply means a chronic inflammation of the large intestine. The only treatment necessary is with diet, but you must be patient and not expect very quick results. The most poisonous eliminations from the body pass out through the colon, and even after your diet has been well regulated it will take a long time before the inflamed mucous membranes can return to their normal tone. A short fast will be helpful at the beginning of treatment, then follow a well-regulated diet such as I suggest in my weekly menus. One or two enemas daily should be taken during the fast and for several months while living on the right diet.

Q.: L. M. S. asks: "Will you please tell me what foods should be given a baby eighteen months old?"

A.: Pure cow's milk provides all the nourishment necessary for the eighteen-months-old baby. The quantity must be proportioned to suit the type and temperament. If any other foods besides the milk are used they should be fruits and non-starchy vegetables.

Q.: Mrs. R. T. S. asks: "Is it safe to rub ice on the neck and face to tighten the muscles? Is there any chance of causing paralysis of the neck muscles?"

A.: The ice treatment to the neck and face is excellent for strengthening the muscles. The cold makes the muscles contract, and in this way they are developed and brought back to a normal tone. I have never heard of any injury being caused by this treatment, and it certainly cannot produce paralysis.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Question: Anxious Mother writes: "I have a girl of 11 who has had a loose cough for about four years. The doctors say it is not her lungs. I would like to know what it comes from, and what would cure it."

Answer: There is such a thing as "habit" cough, but if your daughter has been troubled for four years there is doubtless some other deep-seated cause which could be discovered upon examination. I would suggest that you take her to one doctor after another if necessary until you find someone who understands diagnosing well enough to find the cause of her trouble.

Q.: E. W. asks: "May one who has catarrh eat whole-wheat bread and muffins?"

A.: Whole-wheat bread and muffins are wholesome foods, but all starches should be discontinued by the catarrhal patient until the excess amount of mucus has subsided. After that these foods may be used in moderation with good results.

Q.: H. P. T. asks: "What is the best method of preventing the return of cancer once removed by operation? Does exposing part to sun help?"

A.: The best method I know of for preventing cancer is to live on a careful diet, exercise vigorously each day, and adopt the right mental attitude. It is a noticeable fact that cancer rarely, if ever, develops with those who continue to live a vigorous physical-culture life. The congestion of cancer cells to any one part of the body cannot occur if the circulation of blood does not become sluggish. Sun baths are helpful because of the ultraviolet effect on the blood. Nude sun baths should be taken, exposing the entire body, as the effect of the sun's rays is no more helpful over a certain diseased part than upon other parts of the body. The main object of these sun baths is to absorb all the ultraviolet rays possible, and the effect is general upon the blood and not specific to any one part.

FEUD MURDER TRIAL OPENS

Story of How Killing Followed Trading of Child's Cart for Bag of Beans to be Told Today

The story of the family feud which grew out of the trade of a little red wagon for a bag of butter beans and ended in the slaying of Walter E. Galloway, August 26, last, will be told today in Superior Judge Bishop's court when Mrs. Madge Galloway, wife of the victim, will be called to the stand by the prosecution as the first witness against Thomas A. Christian, accused of the shooting.

Numerous other witnesses directly connected with the events immediately before and after the shooting will be called to the stand after Mrs. Galloway, according to E. J. Dennison, deputy District Attorney, in charge of the case. Among them will be Capt. F. H. Crossman, firearms expert; County Autopsy Surgeon Webb and W. L. Fore, chief of detectives of the Sawtelle division, Los Angeles police department.

According to testimony introduced at the preliminary examination, Christian leaped on the running board of Galloway's automobile on a country road near the Westward Ho golf links and shot him. Galloway died three days later in a Culver City Hospital.

The prosecution contends that the animosity between the Christian and Galloway families dated back for months and started over the promiscuous borrowing of garden tools by Christian.

The climax came shortly before the shooting when Naomi Christian, daughter of the defendant, it is asserted, traded her little red wagon to Donald Galloway for a bag of butter beans. After the Christian family had consumed the beans they demanded that the wagon be returned, the prosecution asserts, and the fatal quarrel followed.

County Justices Drafted to Help Municipal Court

Drafting four outside justices of the peace to expedite the adjudication of cases now crowding the Municipal Court calendar was announced yesterday by Judge Stutsman, presiding magistrate of the Municipal Court.

The four justices, whose assignment to the Municipal bench becomes effective today, are Frank Gray of Burbank, Thomas B. Reed of Covina, Arthur Mueller of Huntington Park and Herbert Decker of San Fernando township.

Judge Reed has been assigned to the County Traffic Court to succeed Judge Hardy of Culver City, whose two months' appointment expired last week. Judge Decker will take over the Van Nuys branch of the Municipal Court, while Judge Gray will be assigned to the civil calendar here. Judge Mueller will preside over the San Pedro Municipal Court during November and December.

Marriage to be Debated Today

Companionate marriage, advocated by former Judge Lindsey and opposed by Rabbi Louis Newman of San Francisco, will be the subject of a debate between the two men tonight at Temple Emanu-El. Lindsey and Rev. Bob Shuler will debate on the same subject at the Philharmonic Auditorium tomorrow night.

It is Judge Lindsey's contention that a special form of legal marriage, suited to the needs of the present generation, is essential.

It is Rabbi Newman's conviction, however, that companionate marriage would not serve to settle the problem and that Judge Lindsey underestimates the nature of love.

HOSPITAL FUND VOTED

Pending the completion of the Los Angeles Harbor branch City Hall the City Council has appropriated $675 for the care of emergency cases at the privately owned San Pedro City Hall. An emergency hospital will be located in the new branch City Hall.

Wife Defended in Check Case

When Mrs. Margaret Meyer, pretty 22-year-old wife of a naval officer stationed at San Francisco, passed three worthless checks on Long Beach and San Pedro merchants she was the victim of strange circumstances, her attorney, Samuel Hahn, contended at the preliminary hearing before Judge Mueller in the San Pedro division of the Municipal Court.

Mrs. Meyer issued the check without felonious intent, Attorney Hahn explained, for she anticipated that her account at the bank was covered by a United States Navy salary warrant, forwarded the institution by her husband. Her arrest followed when the eventful check failed to appear.

Judge Mueller held the woman to answer to the Superior Court for trial on three charges of passing a check with insufficient funds and fixed bail at $1000, which was furnished.

SALVAGE SHIP SAVES MILLIONS

Unusual Four-Year Record of Peacock Told

More Than 400 Persons Also Rescued by Vessel

Kekoskee Tank Steamer Last Craft Towed to Port

Shipping to the value of $15,000,000, stranded or wrecked off the California coast, has been rescued in the past four years by a single vessel, the salvage steamer Peacock, it was revealed yesterday at the port when work began on repairs of her last ship salvaged, the tank steamer Kekoskee.

Her operators estimate that in addition to the aid she has given some thirty-five vessels in distress the Peacock has rescued more than 400 mariners from shipwreck dangers.

On September 1, 1923, the day the former navy mine-sweeper first touched the waters of the Pacific, her spectacular career of rescue and salvage began.

On that day, the five-masted American barkentine Monfalcone, four months overdue on her way from New Orleans for Los Angeles with a cargo of resin and oyster shells, put into the Canal, dismasted and her crew literally starving after having been blown into mid-Atlantic.

WINS AFTER ALL

Merritt, Chapman & Scott, owners of the Peacock, offered her towing services to the disabled windjammer and with her tow the Peacock immediately headed north. In the Gulf of Tehuantepec, however, the two vessels encountered such terrific gales that in the fighting of the weather the tug ran out of fuel. She managed to reach Salina Cruz, however, replenished her supply and with the Monfalcone arrived here on September 17.

A week before seven United States destroyers had gone ashore at Point Honda, and, dropping her tow line, the Peacock immediately left for the scene.

For three months, her salvage crew headed by Capt. M. A. Varhum and her salvage masters, Robert S. Gardener and Capt. E. W. Samuelson, worked in the surf between Points Honda and Arguello and rescued guns, torpedoes and machinery valued at more than $250,000. So difficult were operating conditions that overhead trolleys were rigged from shore and the material salvaged removed to a special railroad line laid from the Southern Pacific main line.

OTHER SEA ACCIDENTS

The Peacock since has been at the scene of every major marine accident in Southland waters. A few of her outstanding rescues are summarized.

Tank steamer Frank H. Buck, stranded on Point Pinos, Monterey Bay, May 3, 1924. Length, 408 feet, 6076 gross tons. Value, $750,000; repairs, $139,970.

Vessel rested on ledge of rocks amidships and stranded on very rocky shore. Peacock blasted rocks from under forward end, under which six hydraulic jacks were placed. Air compressers on board blew water out of tanks and ship pulled into deep water with aid of four beach gears.

Power dredge J. E. Upson, ashore in southeast gale at Balboa Beach, September 20 1924; heavy surf. Value, $200,000. Peacock shot hawser aboard through surf with Lyle gun and dredge pulled off in face of heavy sea.

Lumber steamer David C. Meyer, ashore in fog at Point Firmin, March 8, 1926. Value, $250,000, 2510 gross tons. Lumber cargo, vessel damaged beyond repair. Lumber was thrown overboard, picked up and salvaged. David C. Meyer floated by Peacock and towed to port.

Tank steamer Solana, stranded twelve miles north of Point Arguello, November 3, 1926. Length, 419 feet, 6870 gross tons; value, $1,300,000; repairs, $352,000. Peacock crew rigged two beach gears through heavy surf, floated Solana with full cargo Diesel oil and delivered her to owners at San Pedro, November 7, 192[illegible].

TUG STOPS SHIP'S LEAK

Freight steamer Circinus, ashore on Moro Point, Baja California, September 21, last, while going full speed ahead. Length, 410 feet; 5567 gross tons. Value, $1,700,000; repairs, $188,888. Salvagers placed donkey boiler, lighting plant and beach gears aboard stranded ship, refitted her boilers, unloaded 2500 tons of her cargo on lighters and with aid of four other tugs Peacock floated her on September 28.

Under way for port in tow of Peacock, the Circinus was discovered to be leaking badly. Salvage crew succeeded in installing pump at sea in a half-hour which controlled leak. Circinus was towed into San Diego, where divers removed huge rock from hold in hull bottom and repaired leaks so that she could be brought to this port.

Tank steamer Kekoskee, rammed on port quarter off Point Arguello, October 11, 1927, by freighter Pomona. Length, 392 feet, 5124 gross tons. Value, $450,000, repairs, $70,900. Peacock reached Kekoskee twelve hours after collision. Found damaged vessel had hole twelve feet wide in side of ship at engine-boiler rooms. Towed her to port with thirty feet of water in aftercompartments.

DELIVERING GOODS

Tank steamer Winifred O'Donnell, ashore while going full speed ahead at Point Arguello, October 12, 1927. Length, 434 feet, 7000 gross tons. Value, $750,000, repairs, $48,480. Peacock reached scene following afternoon, placed gear aboard ship in power launch with heavy sea running. Floated ship with beach gear following morning and towed her to port.

In addition, the Peacock has rescued or raised a score of stranded or sunken fishing boats, raised two sunken tugs and pulled free numerous ships stranded in this immediate vicinity.

She has never failed to deliver the goods when sent to the scene of disaster. Her owners declare credit for her 100 per cent record goes rightly to her veteran master, Capt. Varnum, and to her salvage masters, Gardener and Samuelson.

Swedish Prince to Lecture Here

Prince William of Sweden, second son of King Gustave, will arrive in Los Angeles November 14 for a five-day stay, during which time he will deliver two lectures, it was stated last night by Robert A. Olssen of 1149½ Lillian Way, a motion-picture photographer.

The first lecture will be delivered at the Philharmonic Auditorium, Mr. Olssen said, November 14 at 3:30 p.m., the subject being "Hunting Big Game in Pigmy Land." The second lecture is scheduled for the evening of November 16.

The Prince will choose his remarks from his experiences while on expeditions in Central Africa, Mr. Olssen said. Mr. Olssen accompanied the Prince upon hunting exploratory trips in Central America.

COMEDY ENLIVENS 'NIGHT CAP'

Diverting Mystery Play Comes to Morosco as One of Best Recent Shows

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT

A Coroner, a detective and a policeman are required to help solve the murder mystery in "The Night Cap." You can suspect any one of them of being guilty, if you like. And if that doesn't afford enough range, there are seven or eight other characters in this "mysterious comedy drama" that might be thought to have committed the crime which is the basis of its plot.

"The Night Cap" is at the Morosco, and it is one of the most entertaining shows recently presented there. The audience has very little spare time to devote to what happens in the face of what seems likely to happen the very next moment. This is to say that the suspense is good, and there is a lot of amusement besides in both the situations and the dialogue. Harry Garrity has a particularly good comedy part, and makes considerable of this, one of his few opportunities of late. V. Talbot Henderson also lends a zestful note of mirth with his persistent jag.

Chiefly "The Night Cap" is about a shortage of securities, for which the hero wishes to take the blame. In order to offset the shortage he is anxious to have himself disposed of permanently by any of a number of interested people. The outcome of this would be that the proceeds of his insurance policy would go to offset the shortage in funds. He would commit suicide, but is prevented from doing that by a clause in the policy, which prohibits paying the insurance in such an event.

There would seem to be any number of people who are interested in ending the hero's life, but it so happens that he isn't killed after all. The audience is not, on this account, denied the necessary murder to make a complicated second and final act.

"The Night Cap" has been tricked around considerably so that it is different as a mystery play. It deals rather largely in coincidence and accident, and the last act inclines toward anticlimax.

Nevertheless, it has been very cleverly written by Max Marcin and Guy Bolton, and if it isn't one of the more sensational mystery plays, it is a novelty and good. The reception of the audience indicated last evening that it will prove unusually popular.

The comedy portrayals of Garrity and Henderson are outstanding. Frederick Pymm is also responsible for some laughs. John Litel is effective, and helps the convincingness of the play along by his acting as the hero. Kay Hammond's role is not especially important, but she is in the picture, in any event. Jane Morgan does some emoting very acceptably. Oscar Gray Briggs as the coroner contributes some interest, while Mitchell Harris the policeman, Arthur Belasco, James Bush and Raymond Lawrence also appear.

You'll find "The Night Cap" diverting fare.

"IF I WAS RICH," NEW BELMONT PLAY

All of the problems associated with a young married couple, a $40-a-week job, and a $5000-a-month ambition, were woven into the comedy "If I was Rich," that opened last night for a one-week's showing at the Belmont Theater.

The play was written by William Anthony McGuire, and the plot was a clever one although short of a few of the characters introduced in the recent Hollywood Playhouse version.

Revolving around a modest young man who was afraid to ask for a raise and suddenly found himself posing as the son of a wealthy South American rubber king, the situations became more tense every moment. A mysterious jewel theft served as the climax.

In the leading roles were Edmund Smith and Lurine Tuttle. Miss Tuttle was most pleasing as the tiny, red-headed wife with a perfect passion for imitation jewelry.

Fred Niblo to Present Stars at Premiere

Setting at rest all speculation as to what film celebrity will act as master of ceremonies at the world premiere of Douglas Fairbanks as "The Gaucho" at Grauman's Chinese Theater on Friday night, comes the announcement from Sid Grauman that Fred Niblo, director, had been chosen to introduce the stars who will be on hand for the festivities.

Practically every star, director, producer, writer and studio executive of note already reportedly has made reservations for the opening, which Grauman's aides state will be even more colorful than the initial showing of "The King of Kings."

Criterion Will Note Halloween

At 3 o'clock this afternoon, the Halloween festivities at the Criterion Theater will get under way, with Creighton Hale, who plays the role of a scared-to-death young man in the eerie "The Cat and the Canary," host to matinee Halloween revelers.

In the evening, Flora Finch will be guest of honor at a special program of weird features (in connection with the shuddery mystery thriller,) which, it is said, will outspook the spooks.

CLOSING PERFORMANCES

"Young Woodley," in which Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., is starring at the Majestic, begins its final week today. Plans are reported under way to take this popular young actor and his play to San Francisco and booking dates in the northern city are given as the reason responsible for its limited engagement here.

Film Folk Are Theater's Guests

Phyllis Haver

Will be present on the stage as well as on the screen tonight at the Hillstreet, where the photoplay in which she is appearing with Rod La Rocque, "The Fighting Eagle," yesterday had its local premiere. Donald Crisp, director, will officiate.

STIRRING FILM AT HILLSTREET

Rod La Rocque on the screen in a swashbuckling, slashing romance of Napoleonic days and Marietta, a bit of loveliness in person and in a dance performance in a Jack Laughlin revue.

The two feature the new bill at the Hillstreet this week, a bill which proves as well rounded, varied and interesting as any at that Eighth and Hill street theater in the past few months.

The picture, "The Fighting Eagle," a C. Gardner Sullivan production for De Mille, directed by Donald Crisp, is a swiftly moving, stirring tale of a gallant, if boastful, swordsman of Napoleon, his fights, his dare-devil heroism and his proven love for a lady of the secret service. All the color and romance possible in a period picture with a background of monarchial intrigue attach to this film. It is a bully yarn and well told.

La Rocque is seen in the role of the braggart and daring swordsman, endowing his characterization with a fine dramatic fervor and a feeling of enthusiasm which makes for vividness. He is well cast in the role, which cannot be said for Phyllis Haver, nor Julia Frye, who nevertheless, do pleasing work. Sam De Grasse as the arch-villain, Talleyrand, and Max Barwyn as Napoleon make effective characters.

The emphasis in the tale is on the fighting and the intrigue rather than the love interest, which will be pleasing to many. It would seem, however, as if provision could have been made for a greater exhibition of love technique from a gentleman who proves himself such a generally colorful gallant.

The accompanying vaudeville at the Hillstreet is topped by Marietta's performance in the Laughlin revue. The little dancer is most graceful, agile and pleasing in her terpsichorean exhibitions. Worthy of mention in the act are the male trio and the eccentric dancer.

If Hopper and Gatchet would confine themselves to songs and imitations, their act would be a wow. As it is, they seem to have cluttered it up with unessential and meaningless features. The soldier drill fails to carry any particular conviction of humor, but when the pair start out on their songs, they prove themselves comedians of high rank.

A most amusing bit is contributed by Carleton Emmy and "his wild wags," a troupe of diminutive and extremely clever dogs. The Barderlangs, exponents of equilibrism, have somesomething new and unique in the way of strong-man acrobatic work to offer and those who like this particular brand of vaudeville endeavor will like them. Will Aubrey, as the rambling philosopher, has some wise cracks and some music to offer, while Eddie Conrad and Marion Eddy offer a sketch they call "Whoo-Ha." Miss Eddy sings well.

NEW ORPHEUM BILL LED BY VANNESSI

Flo Irwin, Harrington Sisters and Marie Vero Are Also Featured

BY PHILIP K. SCHEUER

Vaudeville in its more conventional aspects, moving with a certain sluggishness across the stage at the Orpheum yesterday afternoon, divided itself into acts presenting Vannessi, Flo Irwin and Company, the Harrington Sisters, Willie, West and McGinty, Marie Vero and others. The audience vouchsafed its little enthusiasms over this one and that, and when the orchestra played the exit march, dispersed quietly to its Sunday supper.

The Gamble Boys, with Vannessi, harmonize vocally and instrumentally, doubling the strength of their playing by the ingenious use of that inelegant but serviceable invention known as the kazoo, and of a perfectly ordinary tea-kettle whose manufacturer doubtless will be surprised and delighted to learn of this new employment for his product. In the company there is also a somersaulting fellow with a bright smile and a name, Sonny Hines, and, indispensably, Vannessi, herself.

Vannessi, set off and enhanced by several gorgeous costumes and expensive-looking scenery, dances as she would were she the favorite of an oriental potentate, and the audience the favoring potentate—slowly, sensuously, and with heavy-lidded allure. The setting for her peacock creation brought spontaneous applause. Vannessi's singing voice does not carry far there is more power in the eloquence and poetry of her motion.

George Ade is the author of "Mrs Peckham's Carouse," an amusing playlet not without its poisoned dart for prying reformers, with Flo Irwin bringing mimicry of an unusual veracity to her "carouse." With her are George Pearce Frances Raymond, William Wagner and Bernie Bernhard, not unknown to local playgoers.

The Harrington Sisters, ensconced comfortably on a bench in "A Garden of song" converse melodiously about their hopes and fancies "when they grow up." Specially written numbers include "My Sweetie Turned Me Down," "Ask Me Another" and a delightfully whimsical one beginning "We're goin' to be a couple of notorious women; gosh! but we're goin' to be bad!"

Marie Vero, a young coloratura soprano, pleases with her rendition of "The Story of the Rose," a compilation of the various "Rose" songs, "Are You Lonesome Tonight?" and two of the less-familiar arias.

Willie, West and McGinty who scored in a recent edition of the Ziegfeld Follies, are silent but sturdy carpenters engaged in constructing a house. They mean well but encounter all manner of difficulties, and the spectator watches them and laughs most unfeelingly.

Frank Richardson, "the Joy Boy of Song," smiles pleasantly and sings some "popular" numbers which, if they continue to be heard for many more months, will attain the dignity of classics. This would be too bad.

Bordner and Boyer Company have an acrobatic act, one of the most amusing features of which is their manner of talking unconcernedly to each other while they are poised for an instant in space.

FOUR ACTS DELIGHT

Writers' Club Playlets Combine to Win Enthusiasm

BY WHITNEY WILLIAMS

Check up another month of successful entertainment for The Writers. Their second program of one-act plays, presented last Friday and Saturday evenings in their club playroom, was composed of four adroitly woven sketches that were exceptionally well received.

There is ever a nice balance of drama and comedy in the plays offered each month by this club—and those of this month were by no means lacking in either. In fact, the comedy was even more subtle than usual—and in the hands of capable people. This was particularly true in the case of "The Bracelet" and "Mr. Sampson."

Whenever Maude Fulton is in a play it may be assumed that she will give one—if not the—outstanding performance of the evening. Fritz Feld, however, shared honors with Miss Fulton this month, for a peerless characterization of a half-wit. Feld will be remembered by the public for his work in "The Miracle."

In his role, Mr. Feld gave one of the finest portrayals it has ever been the privilege of the Writers to behold, either on their own or any other stage. Staring constantly into space throughout the entire action of "The Cajun," without the utterance of a single word he conveyed to the audience the final circumstance of long lines of first-cousin intermarriage. The play itself, depicting life among one of the so-called lost peoples of the South, was ably enacted by Feld, Evelyn Selbie, Jacqueline Dyress, Gaston Glass, Paul Weigel and Pierre Regino.

Miss Fulton's play, "Faro Nell," may best be described as "a museum piece, early Stair & Havlin." A burlesque on the wild and woolly melodramas of the gay nineties, it offered Miss Fulton a matchless opportunity for a humorous interpretation of the western heroine of that day. Supporting her were Waldemar Young, Roy Stewart, Lee Shumway and Leo White, Sheriff, hero, villain and Mexican friend, respectively.

"Mr. Sampson" amusingly narrated the plight of two maiden sisters who were both beloved by an old bachelor—and who left it to themselves which of the two he would marry. Martha Mattox and Edith Yorke played the sisters and Lionel Belmore took the part of Mr. Sampson, their tenant next door.

In "The Bracelet," which starts as serious drama, ends in comedy. Claude King and Evelyn Hall have the large parts in this, with Grace Gordon, Charles Miller, Florence Wix, Harold Howard and Gerald Mitchell in support.

MUZIO APPEARS AS SONG INTERPRETER

Admirers Crowd Philharmonic to Hear Lovely Voice of Opera Favorite

BY ISABEL MORSE JONES

Muzio, like the fascinating heroine of "Romance," captivated the Philharmonic Auditorium filled with enraptured admirers last Saturday night. Los Angeles has been at her feet since her memorable appearances here in opera and many were present at her first song recital in this city, to do her homage. There was an atmosphere of awe and a breathless delight floating over the audience as this proud queen of the music-stage came forward to sing the opening number, "O Mio Babino Caro" from Gianni Schicchi.

As might have been anticipated Mme. Muzio looked the part, and her bearing in an impressive gown of white lace emblazoned with many jewels was that of a gracious sovereign.

Her program was composed of many favorites and she added to these by singing numerous encores. A group of old Italian classics sung con amore followed the first aria and was in turn superseded by a French series. The French was given the same chaste simplicity of treatment accorded the old Italian. The manner did not suit this group so well.

"Vissi d'Arte" from "Tosca" separated the French from the English offerings, which closed the recital. Puccini's dramatic aria brought back vivid memories of Muzio in her great part and emphasized a strongly tragic note in the Muzio impression.

Her voice, in the shorter opportunity of recital is of a lovely quality. She sings, for the most part, without effort. It is the only way for her to sing, for when she sings forte the exertion is too apparent and the result startling in its contrast with the beauty of her natural voice.

There is a richness, a luxuriance about her singing, however, that speaks of the warmth of Italy and she is dextrous in the handling of her powers.

A strange lack of rhythm and feeling for the natural pulse of a song is apparent in her. It is a grievous fault and one accentuated by the complete self-effacement and unusual cleverness of her accompanist, Charles Lurvey.

Benefit at Mayan Stirs Night Owls

A cornucopia of most of the available stage talent in Los Angeles Saturday night was generously poured forth onto the stage of the Mayan Theater, where the Treasurers' Club engineered its first annual benefit for needy members. And at 3 o'clock in the morning a crowded house went wild with enthusiasm over a company which will be, in all probability, one of the major sensations of the season here. It is headed by a man whose name is Borrah Minevetch and is made up of a dozen youngsters who play harmonicas.

The bare description is ordinary enough; but there is much, much more. Minevetch and his boys were in the New York company of "Sunny" with Marilynn Miller. This is their first trip to the Coast, to which they come by an arrangement with Sid Grauman. They are to appear in his prologue to "The Gaucho" when that Fairbanks film opens Friday at the Chinese Theater; and, assuredly, they will make that prologue memorable.

Joe E. Brown and Charles Murray introduced the many stars of the evening, who numbered something like thirty. Among these, to name but a few, were Sophie Tucker, Adele Rowland, George Sidney, Bill Tilden, Nancy Welford, Jack Haley and Flo McFadden, Sammy Cohen, William Demarest, Marietta, Clyde Cook, Hugh Herbert, Neil Kelly and a little 4-year-old colored girl dancer who kept her place with the best of them.

It was a great night for the audience and—it is to be hoped—the Treasurers.

RAYMOND GRIFFITH STARS AT PALACE

If the film could be credited any success at all, it would be for the comedy ability of Griffith, and the blond pulchritude of Vera Voronina, his leading lady.

The plot dealt with a young French nobleman who was decidedly "in love with love," and who finally met his ideal through a leap from a bridge and a marked slap-stick landing in the fair lady's gondola which happened to be passing 'neath the arch.

It developed, however, that she was engaged to Raymond's best friend. The remainder of the picture was made up of a series of silly situations in which Raymond played "goat" for the benefit of his friend, who was, incidentally, a very, very villainous villain.

When the end came, the hero and heroine crashed through the roof of a house, the termination of a long fall in a balloon basket, and a minister was waiting to marry them—so that was that. William Powell and Josef Swickard were the other featured cast members.

Surpassing the feature, in story at least, was a comedy, "No Publicity," in which Edward Everett Horton was starred. Perhaps it was a bit overdrawn but it took on quite a plausible note after seeing the other. At any rate Horton was as enjoyable as ever as a young news reporter who played a sort of "Charley's Aunt" in order to fill an assignment.

Nora Bayes to Be Here Soon

The stage star recently landed in New York from a triumphal European tour and right now is making preparations for her trip westward. Her Pacific Coast tour of West Coast Theaters will commence at Loew's State.

On December 16 that noted pair of comedians, Kolb and Dill, will make their debut on the circuit at Loew's State.

A gala Halloween show will be staged tonight at 10:30 p.m. Fanchon and Marco have assembled an army of talent from all parts of the West Coast Circuit, they say; and with Jack Haley officiating, the affair promises to have considerable entertainment value.

Money for You

HERE'S AN AMAZING OPPORTUNITY

Here is the Key to a Good Position. An Extra Pay Check Every Week. Whether Employed or Unemployed. Read Carefully and Investigate. You Can't Afford to Pass Up the Greatest Opportunity in Los Angeles Today. So make up your Mind to Answer This Ad.

This Opportunity Will Not Last Long.

$75 WEEKLY

Don't "grope in the dark," dreaming of extra money. You don't have to "pound the pavements" or go off on a "wild goose chase." Every ambitious person in the city of Los Angeles would be amazed and glad to avail himself of this opportunity if he only knew the facts.

YOU DON'T NEED EXPERIENCE AND YOU WON'T BE ASKED TO SELL ANYTHING. Briefly, an entirely new department has created an opportunity unparalleled for people desiring EXTRA WEEKLY INCOME. Work WILL NOT CONFLICT WITH PRESENT EMPLOYMENT. NO SELLING. No schooling. No Red Tape.

These positions can be filled during the spare hours (during day or evening) of mechanics, tradesmen, clerks, professional men and business men. Full-time positions can be arranged for those desiring permanent work.

ABSOLUTELY NO EXPERIENCE REQUIRED. CO-OPERATION GIVEN from the start. You should earn NOT LESS than $75 PER WEEK from the day your name is placed upon the company's pay rolls. Of the workers recently employed very few earn less than $100 per week and are working but one hour per day. Positions (part time or permanent) are EXTREMELY SIMPLE, in pleasant surroundings and most congenial atmosphere.

YOU WILL NOT BE ASKED TO SELL ANYTHING AND YOU CAN EARN FROM THE DAY YOU START.

Here is an opportunity to earn a REAL BANK ACCOUNT during your spare time. The work is extremely simple and can be done by anyone of ordinary intelligence, and we will make you understand and know you can do the work before we ask you to start.

You must understand this is an unusual opportunity. Come and get the facts, and be your own judge. We require white applicants over 25 years of age. MEN AND WOMEN will be given utmost consideration.

This ad will appear but once and none will be considered after Monday evening. Make up your mind NOW to answer on time. NO APPLICANTS RECEIVED AT ANY OTHER HOUR.

LAST CALL

APPLY MONDAY EVENING OCTOBER 31, 7:30 O'CLOCK, at DE LUXE THEATER, 656 SO. ALVARADO ST., OPPOSITE WESTLAKE PARK

NOTICE! Remember, this is an entirely new departure and here is your opportunity to get a position in it. (Scores of new applicants have been given employment during the evenings or after business hours. Many employees who are employed otherwise during the daytime have bought new cars and have opened new bank accounts as a result of this wonderful extra income opportunity. You can answer other ads every day of the week, but—remember—you can only answer this ad Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

You simply can't afford to miss it. Knowing how and why means EXTRA MONEY. Now, if you really desire to open a REAL BANK ACCOUNT, DON'T MISS THIS. Do not answer this ad unless you are really sincere and anxious to earn an extra income. We will receive no applicants after Monday evening, so make up your mind to answer on time. REGARDLESS OF PRESENT EMPLOYMENT, EVERYONE WILL BE GIVEN FULLEST CONSIDERATION AT ABOVE TIME and REMEMBER THE PLACE. Husbands bring their wives, and wives bring their husbands.

HOPE SEEN FOR BETRAYER IN WORLDS BEYOND SKIES

Dr. H. C. Culbertson in Sermon Over KHJ Cites Belief in Judas Obtaining Pardon

Voicing the hope and belief that the betrayer of Jesus has been pardoned and that "in some distant sphere the transfigured Judas may today be carrying out a Christ-like task," Dr. H. C. Culbertson, in a sermon from The Times broadcasting station yesterday appealed to lovers of the Master to cultivate the spirit of forgiveness. Preaching on "Comrades of the Cross," Dr. Culbertson said in part:

Interesting it is to study the twelve men who were most intimate with Jesus, the ones to whom He committed His great theme which they so little understood. His setting of love versus hate and greed, forgiveness versus sin, spirit versus brute force, to establish a kingdom of kindness, a kingdom of God. Why did He choose these particular men out of obscurity to be living stones in His new temple with living walls?

"There is Peter, the fisherman, whom Jesus picked for leadership, and who became a world figure. Turbulent and weak, Jesus made him strong, calling him 'Rock,' and holding up to him the vision of being in character like a mountain peak.

"SON OF THUNDER" QUIETED

"James, son of Zebedee, who, with his brother John, was nicknamed 'Son of Thunder,' was made so gentle by contact with the Master that we know little of his modest career. Yet he was so powerful a character that, first of all the apostles, he was slain as a martyr. John also was a thunder man, with soul of a poet, perhaps the one who came nearest to understanding Jesus.

"When we turn to Andrew we find no thunder song of eloquence, but the quiet sympathy which led this apostle to seek first his own brother, and then a multitude of his brother-men, and bring them to Jesus. Philip always will be remembered for the question he asked at the Last Supper, 'Lord, show us the Father, and it sufficeth us.' Bartholomew probably is the same as Nathanael, the mystic who sought God in selfish, prideful unanswered prayer beneath the fig tree, disdaining the idea of any good could come out of Nazareth. When he came to Jesus, however, he caught a new vision. Matthew, tax-collector for the Romans, regarded by the Jews as a rich traitor, suddenly found that however men despised him, his life was precious to God.

THOMAS, THE DOUBTER

"We used to condemn Thomas, the doubter. Today we are more likely to consider him a hero. When others feared to go to Judea with Jesus, Thomas said, 'Let us go and die with Him.' James, son of Alphaeus, is almost forgotten, but he was dear to Jesus, and his modest service will rank higher in heaven's eyes than the fame of many a murderous king. Thaddeus is also called Lebbaeus, and 'Judas, not Iscariot.' Little is known of him. Simon, the Zealot, belonged to the revolutionary party, but Jesus turned his war song into the accents of peace and good-will.

"Most misunderstood of all is Judas. Angry and disappointed over Jesus's refusal to set up an earthly kingdom, Judas betrayed his Master. Then he repented and sought to undo the wrong. He faced the priests hurled the silver back at them and ended his life in remorse. Although suicide is sin, yet I believe that the motive behind it in this case was repentance, and that the boundlessly forgiving Christ has given him a new chance in worlds beyond the skies."

PREACHER DECLARES PROHIBITION SUCCESS

Rev. J. Whitcomb Brougher, Jr., pastor of the First Baptist Church at Glendale, preached yesterday on "Prohibition." He said in part:

"Those who say prohibition is a failure say so because all drinking has not been stopped. In that case, all law is a failure for there still are murders, robberies and speeding. If a law is worthless because all do not obey it, then our whole legal system is a failure. If our Constitution is a failure when people do not live up to it, then our whole government is a failure. Drinking is not as prevalent today as before prohibition. Among workers in industrial centers conditions have greatly improved. Homes once in poverty now enjoy the radio, phonograph and the automobile as well as having ample food and housing and it has all come from money saved that used to be spent for liquor."

PROBLEM OF JEWISH YOUTH SERMON TOPIC

Dr. R. I. David Essrig, rabbi of Congregational Beth Israel, discussed the problems of Jewish youth in his Sabbath address. He said in part:

"We are confronted with the fact that the Jewish youth of today, whether through some lack in themselves or in their elders, are drifting away beyond anything known in the Jewish communities of their elders. There are an appalling number of cases of crime charged against the whole generation of ultramodern youth, and in proportion as this is true of the whole generation it also is unfortunately, true to some degree of the Jewish youth as well. The only remedy for the condition is to create educational and social centers in which our young will be molded according to Jewish ethics. The unusual dangers to the rising generation, which are noted everywhere by educators and religious teachers, should be met by unceasing and devoted effort on the part of the leaders and elders to supply attractive and adequate schools of religion in which the young may receive that character-building which they lack. The fact is that most of the moral perception and restraint that is effective during one's life, is due to the intensive, special religious instruction received in youth, and as it is not within the scope of our public schools, excellent though they be in secular instruction, to supply such religious instruction, the responsibility comes back to the parent."

RABBI I. DAVID ESSRIG

SWAMI PREACHES ON PLATO'S DIALOGUES

"Plato's Dialogues" was the subject of a sermon preached yesterday by Swami Dhirananda at the Mt. Washington Educational Center. The speaker said in part:

"The point of contact between the East and the West on the spiritual plane is Jesus, and that on the intellectual plane is Plato. Jesus embodies the deeply religious, gentle and renunciatory spirit of the East and the proselytising spirit of a resistless reformer of the West. He was impatient to see truth insulted. He would not brook bargaining in the yard of the synagogue. Plato combines the philosophical temperament of an oriental philosopher with the common sense of a man of the West with two feet on the ground. His dialogues with their lofty moral tone show truth and virtue are not only to be followed, but can and should be argued about."

OPEN BIBLE CALLED GREATEST CIVIIZER

"Martin's Luther's Work" was the subject of a sermon preached yesterday by Dr. C. W. Maggart at St. Mark's Lutheran Church. Dr. Maggart said in part:

"One of the most far-reaching developments of the Protestant Reformation was the placing of the word of God in the hands of the common people. It was Luther who translated the Scriptures into the tongue of the masses, and urged priests and pastors to see that every parishioner read and understood the Bible. It was Luther who conceived the marvelous inventions in printing to be gifts of God to spread His word among His people. Luther is rightly given credit for placing the open Bible in the hands of the people. The Lutheran church, which agrees with its illustrious founder in all matters of major importance, also believes that every man, woman and child should not only be given the privilege of using the Bible as a source of inspiration, instruction and comfort, but should consider it his or her duty so to do."

PROPER USE OF SIGNALS URGED

Safety Speaker Tells Way to Cut Down Traffic Casualty List

Proper signals on the part of drivers, once they are developed as a habit, will do a great deal to cut down the traffic death and injury list, Sergt. W. L. Johnson of the police bureau of public safety told a radio audience over KHJ yesterday.

"Place your left hand and arm at full length outside of your car when giving signals," he urged, "and give them in plenty of time. Never change your mind after giving a signal and getting into position to execute the movement called for by the signal. Also, never rely on what the motorist ahead of you might do and never make a turn on the spur of the moment."

GRIP OF IGNORANCE HELD WORST BONDAGE

Dr. Bruce Brown of the South Park Christian Church preached yesterday on "The Truth That Makes Free." He spoke in part as follows:

"Men always will manage to find a way out of slavery when their minds are free. There is little advantage in taking the manacles from the hands or the ball and chain from the feet if the soul is in bondage to ignorance and superstition. The world's wisest and greatest teacher laid the foundation for all of our modern civilization when He said, 'Ye shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free.' Let the words of the Teacher, who said: 'If the Son shall make you free, you shall be indeed free, be taught to the children of men and as certainly as day follows the rising of the sun a free church and then free schools and then a free nation will appear."

GOD DECLARED READY TO HEAL ALL DISEASE

Genevieve Behrend spoke at the Hollywood Playhouse yesterday on "Healing." She said in part:

"An infinite universe implies an infinite thinker. Man, the crown of the universe, has come by thought-generation from the Universal Mind with but one motive of the Universal Mind in projecting itself in outward or physcal form. This motive is love. We are here with physical bodies as the instruments through which the same loving intelligence which thought us into existence is expressing itself. It is in this current of ultimately resistless stream of living, loving purpose that our lives are placed, and one of the most powerful healing thoughts is to recognize this fact. It stands ready and willing right now to manifest as perfect health."

FIDELITY SET FORTH AS WAY TO FREEDOM

Rev. Alden L. Hill preached at the Highland Park Christian Church yesterday on "The Value of a Pledge." He said in part:

"In these days of independence and freedom many people hesitate to pledge themselves to Christ because they do not wish to be bound by definite obligations. This attitude leads to carelessness and negligence in the higher duties of life. The Christian Endeavor pledge has proved a splendid discipline for character in the lives of thousands of young people. A pledge sincerely made and loyally adhered to becomes an anchor in the time of storm."
